EARLY MATURITY CATTLE SHEDS

No. 633. Design for outfed cattle.

Racks and Troughs along one side only.

Racks and Troughs along both sides.

Racks and Troughs along both sides.

To make Stock pay they must be economically sheltered and fed. The old time practice of allowing animals to perish in the open fields in winter is very generally condemned. They must be kept in a thriving condition. Our sheds with patent Sliding Racks and Tipping Troughs save flesh, fodder and labour.

The Cattle run loose on litter and do not require to be cleaned out daily, as with stall feds, and make valuable manure. Perfect ventilation is provided in a natural way.

The food is given from the outside of the building saving much labour. By this method a man and a boy can tend 80 head of cattle.

WOMAN AND HER HOME.

GARDEN OF COMPENSATION.

At high tide the sea breaks against the grey stone wall of the "Garden of Compensation," and the salt spray sprinkles the roses and lavender.

At low tide those inveterate gossips of the sea, the gulls, flutter along the beach in search of tit-bits of news, which later they retail to us over a dainty repast of sopped biscuit, and ever and anon little brown bare-legged children essay marvellous feats from the terrace-like walls.

Of the latter came, one day some three years back, the principal workman in this garden—he whose ambition it is to be one day a market-gardener, but at whose first coming we feared for the success of our venture in growing flowers where the sea had designs on the land, by reason of his scorn of book-taught methods.

We appealed, in those days, vainly against his ruthless decisions regarding the protection of delicate plants; we wept almost when he insisted on some shrubs of lavender—baby lavender—being left in a thin little robe of canvas, to the nursing of wintry winds.

"A Garden of Compensation," we groaned; "a Garden of Reproach, this one will surely be."

The gulls and the bare-legged children, comrades of our gardener, shook their heads.

We knew, of course, that the mind of a flower is the friendliest mind imaginable, but we never expected such a paradise of perfume and blossom that was spread out before our eyes when, and as, time passed by.

The weakling lavender, the very next summer, produced the most perfumy sprigs one could think about.

The bonnie "Grand Duchess," blue-robed delphinium, forgot to be too proud of her rich gown, and sent merry glances from her black eyes across, by a vale of tremble grass, to the old rose-bodiced fox-gloves on the hillside.

Frilly prim Mrs. Sinkins chatted of past centuries with a descendant of the "Pink of Courtesy," and the little white rose of Scotland played with the gay coloured tassels of a straggling, rambling Dorothy Perkins, while not far away, more lovely yet, the small dark rose—we named it the Rose of Ireland's Heart—smiled shyly—when no one was looking!

"A garden is a lovesome thing, God wot." A garden by the sea, the most lovesome perhaps of any, since the toil that must go to its making claims its right to the title, "A Garden of Compensation."

So proud is the seashore of our success that the gulls are contemplating the possibility of editing a sea-flower annual during the winter months when gossip runs short, and our gardener is considering the purchase of a market garden—when he is eleven years old.

HOW TO BE HAPPY.

In this paper I am not dealing with griefs, which must have their season, but with human unhappiness in general. It is neither affliction nor hardship that keeps most women unhappy. It is the want of occupation. About being killed by troubles Dr. Johnson, the poet and moralist, once said a queer thing. He heard of Lady Something who was left a widow and died of a broken heart, and he said that if she had been a poor woman with nine children she would have been still alive; the case would have been worse, but the end would have been better. He knew enough of human nature to know that occupation is strength, and that we shall outlive Fortune's worst if we live for others.

But troubles and illness are so heavy, some will say, it is impossible to keep up. Even so; let them lay us down, let them flatten us out like the grass under a garden roller; we can stand up afterwards humbly as the grass does, and if we have some occupation make the world fresher and brighter that we are still alive.

But suppose there is health, no troubles, and still not happiness, what are we to think—dealing as we are, at the time, with the discontent of those who are free from acute discomfort—the form of unhappiness that overclouds the lives of countless women? We are simply to think that they have not learned how to be happy. It does not depend on the wisdom of books: it is a practical matter of which learned women are often profoundly ignorant.

The best directions would be "keep an even mind"; and evenness of mind, to the sensitive, nervous temperament, depends very much upon order. Regular hours of rising and of sleep; a certain broad order of duties in the day to prevent hurry and to give the sense of rest that comes of duty done—not many things undertaken, but few and finished—this is part of the discipline that contentment depends on. Of course you will say that this is the popular recipe for keeping an even mind; but to be happy is something still beyond.

Any observant woman must have noticed, time and again, that the pursuit of one's own pleasures makes one hunger more and more and become less hardy, more dependent on circumstance. Many women, too, must have noticed that in the worst dejection nothing roused soul and body so quickly as to do—not to say, but to do—something for another. Here then is the secret: if we try to satisfy ourselves we shall fail; if we seek our joy in others we shall infallibly succeed. Continually we can find something to do for their welfare or comfort or pleasure or success—not in great things perhaps, but in the details of every day. Herein is the straight road to being happy "under all circumstances"; herein is hinted why Johnson's poor widow would not die.

HOUR-GLASS MODES.

"And by the length of a woman's coat so shall you know the time of day."

Mr. Reville, the dress designer, delivered this message through the models he showed at his autumn fashion parade at Hanover square, London.

A jacket coat, the same length as a man's, marked the correct line for morning wear with a tailored skirt.

The afternoon coats to wear over dainty frocks were cut "seven-eights length," or just three or four inches shorter than the frock.

Evening coats invariably covered the wearer's dress.

FOR THE COOK.

Tomatoes are a very valuable asset to the housewife when she wants to serve something savoury and ornamental. They can be used in very many ways, as the following recipes show:—

TOMATO DUMPLINGS.

Wipe six or eight medium-sized tomatoes and cut a small round out at one end. With a teaspoon carefully scoop out the soft pulp, and place the tomatoes upside down on a dish to drain. Meanwhile make a filling as follows:—Half ounce butter, three tablespoonfuls breadcrumbs, one ounce grated cheese, pepper and salt, and a pinch of mustard. Fill the tomatoes, then place them on rounds of pastry, wet the edges, and draw them together over the top of the tomatoes, exactly as for apple dumplings. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, and serve with brown sauce.

This makes an excellent supper dish, and can be varied in several ways. Sausage stuffing makes a change, or minced meat or fish can be used.

TOMATO CREAM.

Stew enough tomatoes to make a gill of puree when rubbed through a sieve. Put it in a pan with half an ounce of gelatine, and stir until dissolved. Then turn it into a basin to cool. Meanwhile grate two ounces of Parmesan or other well-flavoured cheese, and add to the mixture, together with seasoning and cayenne. Finally add half a gill of thick cream and stir carefully. When nearly set turn into small moulds, which have been rinsed out with cold water. When set turn out on a bed of salad, and garnish with parsley or cress.

TOMATO PUFFS.

For this any pastry trimmings can be used. Roll out the pastry thinly and cut into rounds. On one half of each round place some slices of tomato, sprinkle with finely-minced onion and a little grated cheese, also a tiny dab of butter. Wet the edges of the pastry and fold in half, pressing the edges well together. Fry in hot fat until a golden brown, dust over with cheese and cayenne pepper, and serve very hot.

LAME HORSES.

OWNERS FINED FOR WORKING THEM.

Prosecutions at the instance of the Dublin Branch of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were heard before Mr. Cooper, K.C., in the District Court, Dublin, yesterday.

Denis Gillen, Lower Abbey street, was fined £3 for allowing a lame horse to be worked. The animal, it was stated, was drawing a lorry laden with 30 cwt. of slates. The driver of the lorry was fined 2s. 6d.

Patrick Hayden, Upper Dorset street, was fined £3 for working a horse while it was lame, and William Richardson, Tara street, for a similar offence was also fined £3. The driver of the lorry told the Society Inspector that the horse had a short leg from birth.

William Bowers, victualler, Harold's Cross Bridge, was fined £2 for allowing a cow to be walked while it was lame.

Peter Early, Swords, for working a lame mare at North King street was fined 10s.

Inspectors McKeon, McNab, and Burke gave evidence on behalf of the Society.

PUBLIC-HOUSE HOURS.

GROCER AND THE NEW ACT.

An interesting point was raised in the Dublin District Court yesterday regarding the concessions to spirit grocers under the new Licensing Act.

The defendant in a case, Denis P. Mordant, spirit grocer, St. Alban's road, who was summoned for keeping his premises open at a time outside the hours specified by the Act of Parliament, argued that he had not his premises open for the sale of intoxicating liquor. The shop was open for the sale of provisions, and he submitted that there was nothing in the Act to prevent him from doing so.

Sergeant Fenlon deposed that the defendant told him that the shop was open for the sale of groceries and not for drink. The police had previously notified the defendant that he could not open his premises before 9 a.m., and that he must close them at 9.30 p.m.

Mr. Mordant repeated that there was nothing in the Act to prevent him from opening for the sale of groceries. The police, he said, could not give him any information on the matter.

A fine of £1 was imposed, and Mr. Mordant said that he would appeal.

WATER IN MILK.

PROSECUTION WITHDRAWN.

In the Dublin District Court yesterday, before Mr. Collins, Michael Lawler, Fernsdale, Bohernabreena, Co. Dublin, was summoned for selling milk adulterated by the addition of 15.3 per cent. of added water. He was further summoned for selling milk adulterated by the addition of 9.4 per cent. of added water.

Mr. Burke, who prosecuted, said that the case against Lawler had been adjourned for the appearance of a man named Mulvaney, who had, as Lawler alleged, sold the milk to him. Since then Mulvaney had been prosecuted by the County Council at a District Court and had been fined £5, and the percentage was almost the same as in the present case.

Mr. Collins—I suppose you will now withdraw this case?

Mr. Burke—Yes. We think we have got the real offender, and we will withdraw the case against Lawler.

Mr. Collins—Very well. No rule.

LICENSING BUSINESS AT DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT.

Applicants who had preivously served their notices either at the District Court or at Green street need not serve any further notices.

A thought of Autumn

Someone has said that the best Season of the year is the Season which is with us, be it Winter, Spring, Summer or Autumn.

In the same way, every day has its joy: there is beauty in leaves scurrying across the wind-swept common; in rain splashing in the gutters; in the field-mists which rise at night . . . . It is all a matter of observation—correct appreciation—and Health.

Health is the natural expression of physical well-being. To the healthy there's joy and beauty in the worst day of the year.

A POSITIVE REMEDY FOR GASTRIC CATARRH

Gastric catarrh results from severe irritation to the mucous lining of the stomach, and can accomplish infinite harm to the general health if allowed to develop unchecked. Instant relief follows the use of Bisurated Magnesia, a pure, harmless compound which doctors themselves take and prescribe. A one-time sufferer writes: "Nine months ago I had to give up my employment through stomach trouble . . . Gastric Catarrh, Wind and Flatulence of a severe nature. I could not touch food, or look at it, and the very little I did take made me vomit, and awful pains used to follow. Consequently my health suffered greatly: sometimes I used to be almost doubled up with pains in the stomach. A friend who had been in similar trouble recommended me to take Bisurated Magnesia after meals or whenever I had an attack of pain. I got a bottle at once and commenced taking it after each meal. I soon lost the feeling of not wanting my food, the wind and flatulence and the depressing feeling gradually lessened, my general health improved, and I was once more able to enjoy my food without pain or inconvenience. To-day, after suffering as I have done, Bisurated Magnesia has been the means of effecting a cure, and I recommend it to all suffering with indigestion, wind, flatulence or stomach trouble of any kind." The above letter is but one of thousands on file at the makers' laboratories, all testifying to the indisputable fact that Bisurated Magnesia is the finest, safest, least expensive remedy in the world for disorders of the stomach.

BIG AUSTRALIAN HARVEST.

SYDNEY, Wednesday.

Still further general rains have fallen in New South Wales. The Sydney Evening News, in a special article on the harvest prospects, says that the mother State of Australia is facing the greatest season in history. The wheat yield is estimated at fifty million bushels, but with the least of luck it should be a great deal more.—(Reuter.)

IRISH LANGUAGE MOVEMENT.

PURPOSE OF THE GAELIC LEAGUE.

DUBLIN INSTITUTIONS CRITICISED.

The necessity for nurturing the Irish tongue and furthering the aim of the Gaelic language movement in Ireland was urged by speakers at the inaugural meeting of the Ard Chraobh of the Gaelic League, which was held at 30 Rutland square, Dublin, last night.

Mr. de Valera, President of the Ard Chraobh, occupied the chair, and, in a brief statement in Irish, said that he came there that night not to make a speech, but to show that his heart was now, as always, in the work of the Gaelic League—namely, the revival of the national language. (Applause.) His interest in the language was as great as ever, although he had not been able for some years past to attend the branch meetings and take the part that he would wish in that work.

THE WORK OF THE LEAGUE.

Mr. P. J. McGinlay, President of the Gaelic League, remarked that some people said that the work of the Gaelic League had already been accomplished, and that it had no useful purpose to serve by continuing its propaganda; but it had yet a great work to accomplish, and it was necessary that the Gaelic League, or some similar organisation, should exist and keep going until they had achieved the purpose for which they had set out—to Gaelicise this country from one corner to the other. (Applause.) They were far from that stage yet. The Gaedhealtacht was perishing, owing to the economic conditions of the people. They had a great deal to do to get Irish into the public life of the country, and in other directions there was room for improvement.

Irish had not yet made any headway in the churches in Ireland; they were not much better in regard to speaking or using Irish in them than they were twenty years ago. The law courts were as bad: notwithstanding the recent reorganisation they were still as bad as ever, from the Gaelic point of view, and they would have to be reorganised again until the Irish language got its proper standing in the courts and in the law. Then there were certain institutions among them in Dublin, some established for the express purpose of destroying Irish nationality, and others with the pretence of neutrality, and notwithstanding recent changes these institutions continued to do the work of Anglicising just as much as ever they did. He referred particularly to Trinity College, which was established for the purpose of destroying the national outlook of the Irish people, and was doing it still. That institution, let them remember, was built from Irish funds, from the endowment of Irish lands by Irish money, and they were entitled to ask, if Trinity College was supported by Irish funds, that it should do the work of Ireland and not the work of Ireland's enemies. (Applause.)

OTHER INSTITUTIONS.

Then there was the Royal Irish Academy, started, he thought, for much the same purpose, and still carrying it out. Its bias was shown the other day by the appointment of a curator, whose duty it would be to preserve, understand, and explain the antiquities of Ireland. They had the audacity in appointing this curator to go to Cambridge University and appoint an Englishman to come over and do the work of an Irishman. In other respects the Academy had failed to do the Irish work that they got the money long ago for—the publication of Irish books, and especially the publication of an Irish dictionary. Now, they were entitled to demand from any Government exercising its functions in this country that that thing should cease, and that these institutions, supported by Irish funds, should do real Irish work.

He came to another institution, which he spoke of with some diffidence—the National University, and he said that, from his point of view, that institution was not what it should be, and that it required a good shaking up, and reorganisation from top to bottom, so as to give the Irish language and Irish culture its proper place in it. (Applause.) The National University did not come up to the ideal, or near to the ideal that Mr. John MacNeill expressed in the pamphlet issued by the Gaelic League in 1909. The National University was not only helpless with regard to the Irish language, but it took no trouble to carry out its work in Irish, and it, as well as other institutions, needed looking to. He mentioned this to show the necessity for an independent Gaelic institution in the country, and he thought that it was the duty of all Gaels to support the Gaelic League financially and otherwise. At present the League was very weak financially, but they had got promises from the two political organisations in the country to assist them in making a successful collection on its behalf. (Applause.)

SECRET AGENCIES.

Mr. Patrick Donnellan, editor, Fainne an Lae, said that it was inspiring to see people amongst them who, though they differed politically, were united in regard to the restoration and upliftin of the Irish language. That fact should give encouragement to the rest of the country. It was very necessary, he said, that Gaels should bestir themselves. He had it on good authority that there were agencies at work south of the Boyne to defeat their efforts to lift up the language. It behoved the Gaelic League to battle for their rights, and to prove to all and sundry that no party would be allowed to trample on any of the essentials that go to keep up Irish nationality. The Gaedhealtacht, he said, was a matter that should be seen to at once.

Mr. Cormac Walsh, National Teacher, said that no taint could be cast at the national teachers as to the Irish language revival. Before Irish became necessary in the schools the Irish national teachers were learning Irish, and when the Irish colleges started the pupils were mostly national teachers. That could not be said of other branches of the community.

Other speakers followed.

The Chairman, at the conclusion of the meeting, said that there was need, and always would be need, no matter what Government they had in Ireland, for an organisation like the Gaelic League until they had got the language back again. The best of people had to be reminded of their duty at times, and in reminding them of their duty towards the Irish language, there was no better way than by having a strong body of opinion, such as that of the Gaelic League behind them. The Gaelic League, he believed, was the people's university. Regarding the teaching of the language in their educational establishments, he said that it was for the parents to put on pressure. If they did that, they would get what they wanted.

THE STUDY OF IRISH.

FEWER YOUNG PEOPLE IN THE CLASSES.

The best way to propagate the Irish language through the schools is to first give the children a sufficient grinding in the language, so as to enable the ordinary school subjects to be taught them in Irish. This was the view expressed last night by Professor Bergin, who presided at the inaugural sessional meeting of the Dublin College of Modern Irish, at the Abbey Theatre building. In an address in Irish Professor Bergin spoke of the value of the educational methods adopted in the school.

The school courses are based on the recommendation of the Dail Commission on Secondary Education, which aimed at a scheme of studies that would enable non-Irish speaking students to read and write Irish like native speakers.

The Rev. R. Fleming, C.C., Westland row, said that the student of Irish was doing a patriotic thing in learning his own tongue. He observed that there were not as many young people in the classes this year as there were three years ago, and said that there was no reason why that should be so. The language movement was progressing, and the time would come when teachers, for example, would find it to be of great practical necessity.

A number of speakers addressed the meeting in Irish, and subsequently the dates of the classes were announced.

WOMAN KILLED BY UNLIGHTED CAR.

CORONER DENOUNCES DRIVER'S CONDUCT.

The adjourned inquest on the remains of Mrs. Elizabeth Harte (68), widow, of 17 Mark street, Dublin, was resumed by Dr. Louis A. Byrne, City Coroner, at Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital yesterday.

The woman was killed in Pearse street on Sunday night, by being knocked down by a Ford car, which continued its journey, after striking her, without stopping.

Dr. O. G. Wilde, house surgeon, Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital, stated that the base of the skull and eleven ribs were fractured. The left thigh was broken, and there were other minor injuries. Death was due to shock and hæmorrhage.

Ellen Doyle, 3 Mark's Court, Pearse street, deposed that she was standing at St. Mark's Church, about 9.15, when she saw a motor car, without lights, going in the direction of Tara street, at a very fast rate. It struck the deceased woman, who was crossing the road, and knocked her down. The witness shouted to the driver to stop, but he only looked around and drove away.

James Callaghan, 11 Mark's Court, said that he was standing at the corner of Mark street when he saw a black Ford motor, without lights, travelling quickly along Pearse street. The deceased woman, who was crossing the road, was struck by the front axle of the car, which proceeded without stopping.

Francis Doolin, in the course of his evidence, said that he heard somebody shout out that the number of the car was 6,616. He did not know the index letters.

The Coroner said that it was a dreadful state of affairs when the driver of a motor car which had knocked down a woman did not stop and render the injured person some aid. It was most callous and brutal on the part of the driver to proceed without stopping after having knocked the woman down.

The jury brought in a verdict in accordance with the medical evidence, and condemned in the strongest manner the conduct of the occupants of the car. They considered that the driver of the car acted in a callous manner in going on and not stopping. They tendered their sympathy to the relatives of the deceased.

BOGUS CLERGYMAN.

PUDSEY "CURATE" BOUND OVER.

William Alfred Barber, the alleged bogus curate, was charged before the Pudsey, Yorkshire, magistrates yesterday with obtaining nine guineas by false pretences from Pudsey Parish Church Curacy Fund. Prosecuting for the Vicar of Pudsey counsel said that Barber replied to an advertisement, and was appointed to officiate at Pudsey. He represented that he was in Holy Orders. He officiated for five Sundays, and was paid nine guineas. He received hospitality at the Vicarage, assisted in the administration of Holy Communion and other Sacraments of the church, and preached and performed the duties of a priest of the Church of England. "It is only fair to say," said counsel, "that he performed these duties in such a reverent and satisfactory manner that the Vicar offered him permanent employment as curate."

The defendant's statement that he had been ordained by the Bishop of Worcester proved to be untrue. While at Pudsey the accused man narrated wonderful stories to the Vicar of three years' missionary work in the Belgian Congo. Among other things, he told how one of his teeth had been knocked out by a cannibal chief. He wore the clothing of a priest—"in fact," said counsel, "his whole make-up may be fairly described as a tissue of lies."

The object of the proceedings was to prevent a recurrence of the offence.

The magistrates bound the accused man over, saying that although he had been very foolish, they thought that he had really no bad intention. Applause greeted the decision.

A heavy iron safe, containing £205 and securities, was stolen from a house in Loughborough road, Brixton, London.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

ANCESTRY IN ART.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In your very interesting article on the recent discovery of ancient architecture in Egypt you say: "It now appears that the Doric column was no such brilliant innovation as our historians supposed." I should like to emphasise the attention which your comment draws to the common error of assuming that the ancient races attained great skill and high imagination by some gift of spontaneous inspiration, rather than as the result of the experiment and the accumulative experience of preceding generations. In his recently published book, "The Art Treasures of Edinburgh," Mr. W. G. Blaikie-Murdoch speaks of the various suggested origins of Celtic art, and says: "There is small likelihood that the very source of the formula will yet be traced; for has not the oldest thing its ancestry?"

If we reflect a moment it is evident that, whatever the age in which we find traces of skilled craftsmanship or a finely developed art, centuries of endeavour have preceded it. Mankind has never, in any age or place, achieved fine artistry without long apprenticeship. Generations of craftsmen, producing illuminated manuscripts of increasing merit, must have preceded the wonderful excellence of the Book of Kells. Centuries of building endeavour must have led, along a definite line of development, to the architectural splendour of Greece. The masterpiece invariably harks back to primitive origin through a long line of ancestors.

It is good to know that we have made an important step in tracing the ancestry of the Parthenon—and, incidentally, of our Dublin Pro-Cathedral. Can our Irish antiquaries give us no clue to the remote forbears of the Book of Kells?—Yours, etc.,

HOUSING IN DUBLIN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In reference to the advertised meeting for Monday next in the Mansion House in connection with Dublin housing, I venture to request the attendance and support of the general public. I have taken large risks in building sixty-six houses under the Housing (Building Facilities) Act, 1924, and present conditions of unemployment are urgent for a big effort to be made by all the citizens; capital to be supplied by those able to invest, and a big contribution by organised labour as well.

During the ten years 1914-1923 the marriages registered in Dublin numbered 25,764, and in that period about 2,000 houses have been built; so that 20,000 families are to be added to the 21,000 families estimated in 1914 to be living in one room. Imagination fails to grasp the significance of what 40,000 families living in one room in Dublin must mean in blighted lives and social misery. The Christian feeling and splendid charity of Dubliners should lead everyone to help the meeting in working for a solution of this housing problem.—Yours, etc.,

D. H. HALL.

BOMBS FROM THE AIR.

MODEL CITY AS TARGET.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

DAYTON, OHIO, Wednesday.

The destruction of a model city patterned on the lines of New York, with buildings rising over 100 feet in the air, and covering an area of several thousand feet, as targets for aerial bombs, is the chief spectacular event planned for the international air races which are to be held at the Wilbur Wright fields here on October 2, 3 and 4. Over 150 civilian and military pilots have entered for the various events, and more than a quarter of a million people are expected to attend.

There will be twelve racing and exhibition flying events on the three days' programme, for which £10,000 in cash prizes and an additional £6,000 in trophies, plaques and medals will be distributed among the winning pilots.

Chief interest in these events centres in the high-speed trophy race, in which it is predicted that a new American speed record exceeding by a good margin the present record of 243.68 miles an hour will be set.

As soon after the reassembly of Parliament as possible the Prime Minister will formally accept on behalf of the public Prince's Golf Club, Mitcham, Surrey, the gift of Sir H. M. Mallaby-Deeley.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT BILL.

OPINION OF COUNTY COUNCILS.

THE ABOLITION OF LOCAL BODIES.

An adjourned special meeting of the County Councils' General Council in Dublin yesterday discussed the Local Government Bill, 1924, and unanimously expressed the opinion that the district councils, which in the past had served a useful purpose, should not now be abolished.

Senator T. W. Kenny (Waterford) presided over a small attendance of delegates from Galway, Kildare, Dublin, Waterford, Clare, Limerick, Co. Tipperary, Kilkenny, Limerick Borough, Meath, Louth and Westmeath.

The Chairman said that a meeting had been called in June to consider the Local Government Bill, 1924, but the bill had been held up at the time. The meeting was now called specially to further consider the bill. He thought that the best thing to do was to take the measure clause by clause and discuss the various amendments as sent in by county councils.

THE DISTRICT COUNCILS.

Mr. James Walsh, T.C. (Kilkenny), moved that the section dealing with the abolition of district councils be deleted from the bill altogether, or to substitute therefor a sub-section in the following terms:—

On the same date as the triennial election of the county councils there shall be elected in each rural district an advisory committee, to make recommendations to the county council about the maintenance of county roads, and to scrutinise and make recommendations to the county board of health about the granting of home help and local water supplies, and any other local matters which either of the foregoing bodies may delegate to it.

Mr. Walsh also moved to add a further new sub-section as follows:—

That such advisory committee shall annually elect from amongst its members one delegate to the county board of health, one to the mental hospital committee, and one to the county council; but if the committee consider it necessary the same member may be appointed to any two or all three of these bodies.

Mr. Walsh said that the great argument in favour of abolishing district councils was that they were jobbing and passing resolutions. He did not agree with the statement that jobbery had gone on, but, perhaps, they had been guilty of passing resolutions. It should be remembered, however, that the present district councils were elected in abnormal times and, perhaps, for an abnormal purpose. The great object of the elections was to make English rule impossible in Ireland, and he should say that the district councils and other public bodies did make English rule in Ireland impossible. When the public bodies were primarily elected for that purpose, it was very unfair that they should be dissolved now when they had achieved their purpose. It was very unfair to hold members of public bodies guilty of sins that were connived at in the past.

THE DAIL'S SINS.

He was of opinion that those who were without sin should be the people to cast the first stone, and he added that the Dail was not immaculate. Had its members not been guilty of abnormal sins? None of them was immaculate, and it was now very unfair that stones should be cast at the district councils. He then proceeded to declare that there were certain gentlemen in the Government casting stones at the district councils, but he asked why these people did not allow a new election to proceed. Time after time the local elections had been adjourned on account of the action of the Government. He believed that if there was a new election the ratepayers would elect a good type of person, not the class of persons that would be elected by silly, giggling girls of 21 years of age and of boys of the same age. The argument that the new members of district councils would be wild and extravagant men was without any foundation, as the ratepayers would see that none but responsible people were returned. If they allowed the district councils to be abolished, then it would follow that the county councils would also be abolished, and paid Commissioners put in their places.

Mr. P. O'Flynn (Limerick) agreed that locally elected bodies should not be abolished. Local people knew the local needs, and locally elected bodies did an enormous amount of good work.

Mr. T. Burgess (Carlow), while expressing agreement with the motion, said that the Local Government Bill had not been introduced by the Government with any vindictive motives. He seconded the view that locally elected bodies had done good work.

IRISH PUBLIC BOARDS.

Mrs. Sheehy-Skeffington said that the suggestion to abolish locally elected bodies was but the predecessor of the abolition, wherever possible of elected bodies throughout the country. She was of opinion that the bureaucracy in charge of affairs at the present was showing to the world that Ireland was unfitted for self-government. She added that she had some experience of work on public boards, and she was of opinion that a great deal of clap-trap was being talked about the manner in which business was transacted. She would say that the public boards of Ireland were as well able to do their business as the boards in any other country, and, therefore, there was no necessity why they should be scrapped. The Dublin City Council, of which she was a member, had been scrapped, and paid Commissioners put in; but what had the Commissioners done? They were to do a great many things, but all that they got was a number of strikes. They had not been able to regulate the affairs of the city, and the only one concrete act they did was that when there was a strike they were able once again to turn the city sewage into the Liffey. (Laughter.)

Mr. Boggan (Meath) supported the motion.

The Chairman said that no one could deny that there was a pronounced and emphatic opinion that such public bodies as district councils should not be abolished.

The motion that the section in the bill dealing with the abolition of district councils be deleted was passed unanimously, and the new sub-section that "each district council shall annually elect from amongst its members one delegate, etc.," was adopted.

The other suggested amendment was adopted.

RURAL COUNCILS' POWERS.

On the motion of Mr. Walsh (Kilkenny), seconded by Mr. O'Byrne, T.C. (Wexford), Section 19 (a) and (b) transferring the powers of the Rural District Councils with respect to the construction and maintenance of all roads to the County Councils was approved.

On the motion of Mr. O'Flynn (Limerick), it was agreed that Section 23, dealing with the power to dig for road materials and make drains, should be made applicable to County Borough Councils.

Mr. O'Flynn also moved, and it was agreed, that Section 36, relating to power to pension employés, should be extended to all local authorities, and that all pensions schemes established under the bill should be made contributory by the employés, who would benefit thereby.

Mr. O'Flynn (Limerick) drew attention to the fact that although the Borough of Limerick was the second largest contributor to the Glin Industrial School they had no representative on the governing body of that institution.

Alderman Walsh agreed, and it was decided, that the Limerick delegates forward, in writing, to the Secretary (Mr. A. Keogh Nolan), their recommendations, to be put before the Minister in charge of the bill.

Several other amendments having been adopted,

The Chairman, closing the proceedings, said that all the amendments put forward would be dealt with and discussed when the bill was again before the Oireachtas.

The attendance was:—Limerick Borough—Alderman P. Walsh and Councillors P. O'Flynn and James Hennessey. Dublin Borough—Mrs. H. Sheehy-Skeffington. Wexford—Mr. Sean O'Byrne, T.C. Waterford—Senator T. W. Kenny. Meath—Mr. James Boggan. Kilkenny—Mr. James Walsh. Kildare—Mr. James Bergin. Carlow—Mr. Thomas Bolger. Clare—Mr. P. M. Kelly.

The National Federation of Building Trades' Operatives, at their conference at Blackpool yesterday, decided by a large majority that each society affiliated to the National Wages and Conditions Council be recommended to terminate the present agreement.

GOLF.

WEST OF ENGLAND CHAMPIONSHIP.

In recent years the three Whitcombe brothers have more or less dominated golf in the West country, and yesterday at Burnham, Somerset, despite the challenge of several prominent London professionals, they added to their honours by taking the title. C. A. Whitcombe, winner of the Daily Mail tournament in the spring, is the new champion, and his two brothers, E. R. and R. A., tied for fourth place only three strokes behind.

The leading returns were:—C. A. Whitcombe (Lansdown, Bath), 73, 73, 146; C. H. Corlett (Dorset), 75, 72, 147; H. Roberts (Stoke Poges), 71, 77, 148; E. R. Whitcombe (Came Down), 72, 77, 149; R. A. Whitcombe (Came Down), 76, 73, 149; A. G. Havers (Coombe Hill), 78, 72, 150.

WELSH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP.

The first half of the Welsh Open Championship, which is decided by stroke play over 72 holes, took place at Llandudno (Maesdu) yesterday. At the end of the day's play the position was an interesting one, for B. S. Weastell (Colwyn Bay), the holder, led by 5 strokes, while some of the most prominent of the Welsh professionals were among his closest competitors. James Horn (Holyhead) and Robert Walker (Cardiff) were equal second with 151, and Gus Faulkner (Pennard) and W. Ivory (West Monmouth) were third, another stroke behind.

WELSH OPEN AMATEUR CHAMPIONSHIP.

Play in the first round of the Open Amateur Championship of Wales, which was decided at Porthcawl yesterday in inclement weather, was not productive of any considerable surprises. Probably the best golf was played by D. E. B. Soulby (Portmarnock), who beat the Leeds player, H. S. Duncan, by the big margin of 8 and 6. R. H. Howell, the native champion, beat G. D. Hannay, the French ex-champion, 3 and 2, and Carl Bretherton had an easy task against W. L. T. Jenkins. Notable eliminations were those of A. D. D. Mathieson, the boy champion of last year, by E. Blackburn, and R. Segar Pugh by A. J. Evans.

MEDAL DAY AT ST. ANDREWS.

Medal day at St. Andrews, most important and interesting of all club competitions and rich in golfing traditions, kept the old course busy all yesterday, from the time when the new captain, Mr. James Younger, drove off from the tee during the time-honoured ceremony of playing himself into office, aspirants for the trophies of the day played into dusk. The winner of the Royal Medal was H. E. Taylor, who returned a score of 76, and this score, coupled with an 81 at the Spring meeting, enabled him to win the George Glennie aggregate medal with 157. Douglas Currie, J. Gordon Simpson and Major Guy Mellor returned scores of 77 each, and tied for the gold medal, and replay today. R. H. Wethered looked like taking premier honours after going out in a magnificent 36, but he took 6's at the 13th and 14th and lost his final chance by driving out of bounds at the 17th.

Neuritis Nerve Pains

If you tone up your nervous system with Cassell's Tablets you will soon be rid of the torture of neuritis, neuralgia, and all pains and aches arising from disordered or ill-nourished nerves.

Letter from Mrs. C. Owens.

Writing from 157, Borough Road, Birkenhead, Mrs. C. Owens says: "Three years ago I contracted neuritis in my shoulder, and the trouble became worse instead of better. Indeed it began to spread all over my body, and at last I was unable to move without pain. How long this state of affairs would have continued I do not know, but one day a friend visited me who had suffered in a similar way, and had been cured by Cassell's Tablets. She advised me to try them, and I did so, with the result that I am now quite free from pain and can take long walks. It is now twelve months since I had the trouble, and I am quite well, but I always keep a box of Cassell's Tablets in the house in case I may need them."

TAKE TWO AT BED-TIME and note how well you sleep, and how refreshed and fit you feel in the morning.

NEW D.M.P. BARRACK AT KILL-O'-GRANGE.

This photograph shows the new D.M.P. Barrack, which has been rebuilt on the old site at Kill-o'-Grange.

It consists of a main building and outoffices, with ball-alley at rere, and is constructed in masonry and brick, the internal walls being grey-coated and external walls pebble-dashed in cement.

The building was designed by Mr. W. H. Howard Cooke, M.R.I.A.I., for the Board of Works, and the entire work, consisting of building, plumbing and drainage work, was carried out by A. Panton Watkinson, 121 St. Stephen's Green.

Steel sashes, supplied by Messrs. Williams and Williams, Ltd., 5th Frederick street, have been used throughout, and the drainage remodelled and brought up-to-date.

REBUILDING DELAYS DISCUSSED.

CONFERENCE AT GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.

Last week a lengthy conference between representatives of the Institute of Architects of Ireland, the Master Builders, and Mr. E. P. McCarron, representing the Minister for Local Government, was held at the Government Buildings, for the purpose of considering the present deadlock in connection with the rebuilding of Upper Sackville street. Mr. Seamus O'Murchada, Commissioner of the Borough of Dublin, with representatives of the City Architect's Department, were present. The deputation consisted of Messrs. G. P. Sheridan, president; J. J. Robinson, R. M. Butler and George Beckett, hon. secretary, representing the architects; and Messrs. Crampton, White and Clifton, with the hon. secretary, representing the builders.

Mr. McCarron explained the object of the conference, which was to, if possible, assist the Minister and the Commissioner in ascertaining the real causes of the apparent reluctance of the owners to rebuild. It had been suggested that the cause of the delay was the demand of the city architect for cut stone frontages instead of brick and stone.

The deputation stated that this was not so. A representative of the building trade stated that the difference in cost between a plain cut stone front with stone cornice, etc., and one of brick with cut stone dressings, would be negligible. He put the difference at £200 for a 200-foot frontage, which would work out to £10 per foot lineal of frontage.

Mr. McCarron said that this disposed of this alleged cause of delay.

One of the deputation suggested that one reason for delay was the want of confidence on the part of the building owners that the compensation money would be forthcoming.

Mr. McCarron stated that the money was available at any moment.

Another member stated that one cause was the difference between the amount of the awards and the actual cost of building, and suggested that the grants should be increased.

Mr. McCarron said that this would be impossible.

One of the architects pointed out that there were many other causes besides cost operating to delay progress, such as questions of light and air, party walls, internal light areas, irregular frontages, and over-lapping holdings, etc.

It was also elicited that the majority of the present owners were not desirous of rebuilding, and many were trying to sell their interests, but had failed to do so. So far, only one proposal to rebuild has been submitted to the City Architect.

In the course of further discussion one member of the deputation suggested that if cut stone was considered expensive, and something cheap was necessary, then why not build in brown stock bricks with stone dressings—which, from an artistic and traditional standpoint, would be excellent? Another said if cheapness were desired, why not do the whole thing in stucco, an excellent material for city streets? It was agreed by the conference that, in treatment and design, general principles of co-ordination should be adhered to by the architects and owners.

Mr. McCarron stated that the question of the acquisition of the area had been carefully considered and rejected, that there was no power to appoint a commission, but that it was a question for the Borough Commissioners to decide whether an Advisory Committee to act in consultation with the City Architect should not be appointed.

Mr. McCarron, speaking on behalf of the Ministry of Local Government, made it clear that any compensation to be awarded to the owners of destroyed premises was purely of an ex gratia nature, and indicated the possibility of the Ministry of Finance entirely withholding the grants if the owners failed to make satisfactory progress within the period to be determined by the Ministry of Local Government in consultation with the City Commissioners. A period of six months was suggested.

Mr. Commissioner O'Murchada agreed to consider the advisibility of inviting the Institute of Architects to nominate a small committee of its members to assist the City Architect in an advisory capacity in dealing with questions which may arise concerning design, treatment, etc., with a view to facilitate building owners in every possible way.

NO FUNDS; TENDERS UNOPENED.

At a meeting of Offaly Co. Board of Health tenders were received for repairs to dispensary residences at Edenderry and Kinnitty.

Commissioner—There is no use in taking tenders when you have no money.

Mr. Bruntz (Engineer)—Any chance of looking for money—a loan?

Commissioner—You won't get the money. Where is the money to be got?

Mr. Bruntz—It is better to stop any work?

Commissioner—Yes.

Clerk—The only fund to meet repairs is that in which we accepted Messrs. Keating's (Dublin) tender for repairs to the institution; £2,200 is Keating's tender.

Commissioner—There is money for that.

Messrs. Keating wrote with reference to the abolition of the Co. Council, and asking if their tender held good, and the Commissioner said it did.

Commissioner—What kind is the work proposed?

Mr. Bruntz—It involves an expenditure of £2,200. It includes putting a new window in the general hospital and fever hospital and centre block, and the work won't affect any future work there may be. There is to be painting inside and outside, and new gates, etc.

Commissioner—That is all included in the £2,200?

Mr. Bruntz—Yes.

Commissioner—That contract holds. It is an existing contract. I cannot take tenders into consideration, as there are no funds available. Let the tenders we have received be kept closed.

ELECTRICITY BUSINESS BOOMING.

CHEAPENING THE SUPPLY.

A substantial improvement in the general output and financial position of electricity concerns is recorded in the fourth annual report of the British Electricity Commissioners, covering the period from April, 1923, to last March.

The report states that the general reduction in the cost of generation and in the charges for electricity, which was a marked feature of the preceding year, was followed by further similar reductions in many parts of the country, with results beneficial all round. It is mentioned that while the progress made in cheapening the supply of electricity in many parts of Great Britain had been substantially aided by reductions in the cost of coal, plant, and other materials, it must not be overlooked that much also had been due to the efforts of those directly engaged in the technical and commereial development of the industry. The number of local authorities, companies, and persons in Great Britain holding statutory powers on March 31st, 1924, relating to the supply of electricity was 560.

The figures show a net addition, compared with those for the previous year, of sixteen to the number of authorised undertakers in the country. During the year ended March, 1924, the grand total of units of electricity generated by 541 stations in Great Britain was 6,681,524,272. General supplies are available, or in process of establishment in areas in England and Wales, having a population of 28,000,000, or about 74 per cent. of the total population of the country.

Representations were made to the Commissioners by the Incorporated Association of Electric Power Companies, drawing attention to the increasing number of wireless aerials that were being erected in connection with broadcasting, and suggesting that the users of such aerials should be placed under obligation to erect them at a sufficient distance from the overhead lines of supply authorities to prevent the possibility of accidents due to contact between falling aerials and supply lines. The Postmaster-General has notified the Commissioners that he has decided to insert in all future wireless licences a condition to the effect that an aerial which crosses above, or is liable to fall upon, or to be blown on any overhead power wire—including electric lighting and tramway wires—must be guarded to the reasonable satisfaction of the owner of the power wire concerned.

CHANGES IN CEMENT CONTROL.

The general reorganisation of the directorate of the Associated Portland Cement Company is now an accomplished fact.

Brigadier-General the Hon. F. C. Stanley, who was until recently chairman, Mr. Anthony White, Mr. Walter F. Roch, Mr. Alfred Brooks, and Mr. Henry Holt have all resigned, and the following have been elected directors:—

Lord Meston, formerly Finance Member of the Governor-General's Council in India, and now a director of several electrical companies.

Sir James Allan Horne, a former president of the Bank of Bengal.

Mr. W. J. Firth, joint managing director of the Gravesend Steel and Tinplate Company.

Mr. P. J. Pybus, managing director of the English Electric Company.

Mr. P. M. Stewart is confirmed in the chairmanship of the company.

These changes are a result of the acquisition by the Associated Anglo-Atlantic Corporation of a substantial share interest in the cement company.

Brigadier-General A. C. Critchley, who, with Sir Philip Nash, joined the board as a nominee of the Associated Anglo-Atlantic earlier this year, has been confirmed in an administrative position in the company to continue the work of reorganisation. The whole of the selling side of the undertaking is being overhauled.

These directorial and other changes affect also the British Portland Cement Manufacturers, the allied concern.

GROWTH OF BUILDING SOCIETIES.

The report of the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies for 1922 states that "although complete figures for 1923 are not yet available, preliminary totals indicate a remarkable expansion of business, advances being in the region of £30,000,000 as compared with £19,673,408 in 1921 and £9,131,017 in 1913. The total assets of building societies in 1922 amounted to over £100,000,000, and the preliminary figures for 1923 suggest that the amount will be £120,000,000 in that year. The membership in 1922 was 826,032, an increase of nearly 40,000, and it is anticipated that the membership for 1923 will be 880,000."

More than a quarter of a million persons are now purchasing properties through building societies, and their average indebtedness to the societies, for principal only, is £320.

BUILDING METHODS AND MATERIALS.

COMMITTEE OF INQUIRY.

Before Parliament adjourned the Government accepted a motion in the House of Lords for an inquiry into the various alternative methods of house-building, and the Minister of Health has accordingly set up a Committee with the following terms of reference:—

To inquire and report as to new materials, or methods of construction, which are, or may be, available for the building of houses for the working classes, and to make recommendations as to the organisation required for securing the adoption and use of approved new materials or methods by local authorities and other bodies or persons providing such houses.

The Committee will be constituted as follows:—

Sir Ernest W. Moir, Bart., M.Inst.C.E. (Chairman) (a partner with Lord Cowdray in the firm of S. Pearson and Son, contractors).
Sir Frank Baines, C.B.E., M.V.O. (Director of Works, H.M. Office of Works).
Sir Charles T. Ruthen, O.B.E., F.R.I.B.A., (Director-General of Housing, Ministry of Health).
Major Harry Barnes, F.R.I.B.A., F.S.I. (formerly M.P. for Newcastle East).
Mr. John A. Brodie, M.Inst.C.E. (City Engineer of Liverpool).
Mr. R. Coppock (General Secretary of the Federation of Building Trade Operatives).
Mr. E. R. Forber, C.B., C.B.E.
Mr. G. Hicks (President of the Federation of Building Trade Operatives).
Mr. H. J. Johnston.
Lieutenant-Colonel Cecil B. Levita, C.B.E., M.V.O., (member of the London County Council).
Mr. W. H. Nichols.
Mr. A. G. White.
Mr. C. E. Whyte.
Mr. J. Wilson, F.R.I.B.A.

The Secretary of the Committee will be Mr. T. H. Sheepshanks, of the Ministry of Health, Whitehall, London, S.W. 1, to whom all communications should be addressed.

PROPOSAL TO FIX PRICES.

BRICK MANUFACTURERS' DECISIONS.

Mr. Wheatley, British Minister of Health, in a speech at Glasgow, reviewed the housing situation, and referred to the proposal to regulate the prices of building materials. He said that one of the earliest parts of the business of the autumn session of Parliament would be to deal with another bill relating to housing, which he had already introduced. This was a bill to control the prices of building material. Building materials were under the control to a large extent of very powerful organisations, and there was a fear, when the building started in a busy way, that these people might take advantage of it. It was practically a monopoly to put up prices. And so he had introduced and obtained the first reading of a bill which enabled the Minister of Health, when he thought that prices had been unduly raised, to order an investigation, and, having made an investigation and been satisfied that too high prices were being charged, he might then, under this Act, fix what the price of the materials for the future was to be, and if the manufacturers or the combine turned round and said to the Minister of Health that they were not to produce the materials at these fixed prices, then the bill authorised the Minister of Health to enter into possession of the workshops without paying compensation, and manage these workshops till the owners had been brought to heel. It was only fair to state that the brick manufacturers had agreed to accept as the basis of future prices the price prevailing on January 1 this year, which was also the price prevailing from June, 1923, and if the other manufacturers of building material proved equally reasonable and wise, then the powers he was seeking in the new bill—which he hoped Parliament would give him—would be necessary only for dealing with exploiters who wanted to take advantage of the country's necessities in order to improve the ample profits which he had no doubt they were making to-day out of their industry. He noticed that some newspapers had been taking cognisance of the fact that the new house-building Act had been on the Statute Book for nearly five weeks, and that still the houses had not been built. He could only say that if the local authorities and the builders and the operatives and the manufacturers, and, above all, the general public, would respond to the appeal he made to them to create for the erection of houses the enthusiasm that was due to the object that, working on the foundation he had laid in the Act of 1924, they would, within a very few years from now, remove what one of his leading opponents in the House of Commons had described as "one of the greatest blots on modern civilisation."

DEARER BRICKS AND LEAD.

The last Inter-Departmental Committee on Prices of Building Materials contains a survey for the months of July and August. Referring to a schedule showing prices in London and the most important provincial centres, the Chairman of the Committee (Sir Halford Mackinder) states that in eight districts there has been an advance of 2s. 6d. to 5s. per 1,000 in the price of common bricks, and that the price of lead has risen by £1 to £2 per ton. Otherwise there has been no general change in prices to which attention need be drawn.

HEAT WITHOUT SMOKE.

The Executive of the Smoke Abatement Exhibition, which is to be held in Manchester between November 4 and November 15, has received many promises of support.

The British Commercial Gas Association is organising a co-operative exhibit for undertakings and manufacturers, and thus, instead of a multiplicity of privately-owned stalls, the gas exhibit will be co-ordinated as at Wembley. The Manchester Corporation Gas Department are taking a large part in the arrangement of the display of gas uses and appliances.

The electrical exhibit has been arranged by the British Development Association, and will also be more or less on the Wembley plan. The Manchester department's officials are to provide an electricity house, with a wash house, bath, bed, sitting, and diningrooms, and lounge, and in addition three supplementary displays will show the machinery of industrial power, domestic cooking and heating, and industrial cooking and heating. These are two of the main exhibits, but beside them there are to be illustrations of all the appliances which heat without smoke.

The industrial section alone provides ample scope for the illustration of various types of smokeless furnaces and the methods by which firing can be done comparatively without smoke, and domestic heating is to be treated in a similar way.

INVENTION FOR PLASTERING.

London plasterers, dissatisfied with the settlement of the recent dispute, are demanding an increase in wages of 4d. per hour, and threatening a further sectional strike.

Housing Betterment, the journal of the American National Housing Association, records that an American architect has invented a machine with which one plasterer and six labourers can do the work of eight plasterers. It is stated that in a test a wall 222 feet long by 9 feet high, with frequent gables, was plastered with a coat three-eighths of an inch thick by one man in two and a half hours, and that the machine has been taken up by the Japanese Government for use in rebuilding operations. "The invention comes following the exorbitant demands of the plasterers, who are now earning twenty-five dollars a day and upwards, with all kinds of bonuses."

MACHINE TOOL TRADE HIT BY GERMANY.

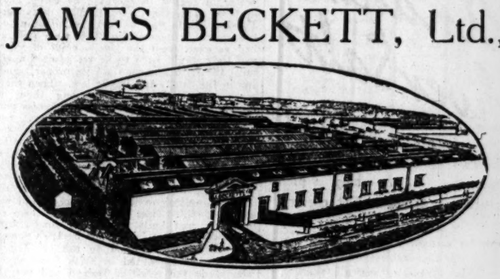

Exhibitors at the Machine-Tool and Engineering Exhibition at Olympia, West Kensington, expressed alarm at the growing German competition in the industry. Manufacturers are faced by the fact that, in the first six months of 1924, the import of German machine tools into Great Britain has increased compared with the first six months last year, while there has been a steady decrease of the exports of British machine tools in the last three years.

NOVELTY IN RECONSTRUCTION.

This photograph illustrates a novelty in reconstruction works in Dublin.

At Fairview, where the roadway is in process of widening to 100ft., it has been found necessary to remove the tramway shelter.

This has been done by removing the timber and tile body of the building from the walls on which it stood and placing it on tram rails, where it now rests in the position where it will be re-erected for the accommodation of tramway passengers when the wide new reinforced concrete road is completed.

RISING COSTS OF HOUSE BUILDING

LEADS TO A CRISIS.

Mr. W. E. Whyte, Clerk to the Middle Ward of Lanarkshire District Committee, has prepared the following memorandum on the position in regard to costs of house-building, in connection with which the local authorities have recently had a conference with the Scottish Board of Health:—

It is not overstating the situation to say that a crisis has arisen in the building of houses for the working classes in Scotland.

Recent tenders for the construction of houses of two and three apartments have disclosed prices so high that the Board of Health have refused to sanction their acceptance. The Board have issued a circular letter to local authorities, dated 29th August, stating that they "have had building costs under review, and feel that concerted action should be taken to combat the rise in costs which, in their view, is not justified. In the spring of this year the Board were approving tenders for flats of three apartments costing slightly over £300 for each flat, even in country districts. For the same type in recent months the cost would appear in some cases to have increased by over 45 per cent."

The prices recently quoted for houses of two apartments are in the range of £380-£400, and for three apartments in the range of £430-£450. Adding the cost of public services, roads and fencing, the inclusive prices may be stated at £430 and £500, respectively.

How would such prices work out under the new subsidy and rent provisions of the Housing Act, 1924?

An economic rent on a £430 house would amount to £34 10s.; on a £500 house, £40. Deducting the State subsidy of £9, and the local authority subsidy of £4 10s. would leave a balance of £21 and £26 10s. respectively. With wages ranging from £2 to £3 per week in the industrial districts, it is obvious that such rentals, plus taxes, cannot be paid by the working classes. The action of the Board of Health, therefore, in refusing to sanction building at such prices is justifiable. But what is to be done? The matter cannot be left there. Houses are clamantly needed, and a positive rather than a negative policy must be pursued.

A number of suggestions occur in such circumstances, among these being the following:

1. Alternative cheaper methods of house-building must be explored to the full.

2. The most drastic steps possible must be taken to deal with any profiteering that is bringing about the present high prices. In this connection the sooner the Minister of Health's Bill to control excessive prices is passed, the better it will be for the country.

3. A modification of our present methods of building. This would include modification of design and a standardisation of the houses to be built. Standardisation means economy; mass production will inevitably result in a cheapening of the houses, and the cheapening can be further added to by a modification of our present technical methods and practices. Why, for example, cannot the slump sum house be introduced to a much larger extent than has hitherto obtained? It is understood that the Board of Health are busily engaged on standard types of plans, and this step will be warmly welcomed by the local authorities of Scotland. The delay and costliness which ensue where each local authority undertakes the planning of its own houses will be avoided under such a system. . . . There is a further consideration. The delay which the old system entailed in requiring a close survey of expenditure has, it is believed, affected contractors' prices, as obviously, if contractors are to be kept out of their moneys for a long period, they must reimburse themselves through the prices they quote for the erection of the houses.

STYLE OF THE STEEL HOUSE.

The steel house which Lord Weir proposes to produce by mass production and a specimen of which has been erected in Glasgow, is a bungalow with a living-room, two bedrooms, a scullery and bathroom. The area is about 750 feet. The outer walls are made of steel plates, the roof of asbestos tiles, and the inner walls of sheets of asbestos, pannelled with steel.

The cost of each house, according to Lord Weir, on mass production is £300. But this figure does not include the cost of land, roads, footpaths, or fencing. The estimate to cover these incidentals is £86 a house. Accordingly the total cost per house all in is £446, provided there is mass production of 500.

The Committe of Inquiry into New Methods, of which Sir Ernest Moir is chairman, is to take the earliest opportunity of inquiring into the merits and demerits of the steel house.

It is estimated that even with the subsidy of £13 10s. a year under the Wheatley Act, a rent of at least 10s. a week, exclusive of rates, will have to be charged, and this may be exceeded if the costs of maintenance, repairing, and painting prove to be high.

BRIDGE FOUNDATION DIFFICULTIES.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced in connection with the foundations of the new ferro-concrete bridge over the River Dee at Kirkcudbright, the demolition of the old bridge having been proceeding for some time. At a meeting of the Southern District Committee of the Stewartry Council, a letter was submitted from Messrs. Blyth and Blyth, C.E., Edinburgh, the engineers for the new bridge, regarding prices for the altered work for the foundations. The letter stated that it was a very difficult problem, and one that required great consideration. Instead of carrying the piers directly on piles, they proposed putting a raft foundation, set on piles, distributing the load over a large area. In the case of the abutments, where the load is less than on the piers, they were relying partly on the piles for support.

Mr. Blyth, who was present at the meeting, said that at the time of the original design there was no indication that the piles would not hold, and it was a great surprise. The piles were 52 feet down, and at that depth were going down as easily as when they started on the surface.

The amended proposals were approved of.

COMPETITION FOR ARCHITECTS.

The conditions of the competition for architectural designs for the new art gallery and museum of art to be built on the Piccadilly site have now been issued by the Manchester Corporation. The building is not to cost more than £300,000 and is to be of Portland stone. It must be approached by a flight of steps and must include a Hall of Memory to commemorate Manchester men of all ranks and services who fell in the war. The jury of assessors consists of Mr. Paul Waterhouse, Professor C. H. Reilly, of Liverpool, and Mr. P. S. Worthington, who will award four prizes, the first of £500, the second of £300, the third of £200, and the fourth of £100. The building is to occupy an area not exceeding 5,500 square yards, and the total floor area required for the central sculptural hall is 6,000 square feet.

The Sheffield building firm of Henry Boot and Sons have secured from Leicester Corporation the largest building contract ever given to a single firm by the Corporation. Half of the houses are to be of the non-parlour type at £465 each, and the other 750 will be parlour houses at £515 each. The estimated cost of the roads and sewerage part of the work is about £100,000. The firm have also in hand the erection of 700 concrete houses for the city of Bradford, and 1,000 for Birmingham, where 14 houses are being constructed per week.

WOMEN ENGINEERS.

Twenty women scientists are engaged in research work at the National Physical Laboratory at Teddington, Middlesex. Metallurgy is the most popular field of activity for women, but even engineering and the problems of ship construction are receiving their attention.

It was during the war that scientific women first invaded the laboratory, but many of them have left, and their places have been filled by men.

Many applications for staff vacancies still come from women, but appointments are made strictly on merits, regardless of sex.

Women who published, or helped to publish, scientific papers during the past year are: Miss Alice Everett (photographic lenses), Miss Bertha Naylor (radium), Miss Phyllis K. Bowles (induction coils), Miss Kathleen Bingham (alloys), Miss Grace W. Ford (impurities in copper), and Miss Marie L. V. Gayler (alloys).

CONCRETE ROAD FOUNDATIONS.

FORTY YEARS' HEAVY WEAR.

Queen Victoria street, London, has been in the road repairer's hands for some weeks. The pneumatic chisel is being used to break up the concrete foundations which have lasted for something like forty years without much attention. Queen Victoria street is not one of the old city highways, but was opened in sections between 1869 and 1871, and in about 1886 the present concrete foundations were put in.

When the road was relaid some 20 years ago the old concrete was not entirely broken up, but a top crust of fresh concrete was laid on the sound portions of the old road. Much of this has been left untouched by this repair, but as the wood blocks have been taken up the condition of the foundation has been tested. The pneumatic chisels are breaking up the defective stretches and driving through about 6in. of more or less disintegrated concrete to the solid earth. In all these places new concrete to a depth of 9in. will be laid, and this should not require touching for a good many years. Modern road practice requires 12in. of concrete in the foundation of a main thoroughfare, but much depends on the traffic the road is carrying.

The worst patches of concrete so far seen to have been near the St. Paul's Station end, but it must be remembered that the concrete in many parts of the roadway must have been disturbed through the opening up of the road from time to time by public companies. These trenches tend to unsettle a road, and concrete is often put in to a much greater thickness than the original layer, in order to make up for any weakening caused by disturbing the earth underneath.

HIGHLAND ROAD SCHEME TO COST £43,500.

The proposed reconstruction of the old Highland road from Upper Dee and Don to Spey from Cock Bridge over the mountainous district of the Lecht is having the consideration at present of Aberdeenshire, Banffshire, and other county Authorities interested, but the scheme has for the moment received a decided check by a decision arrived at recently by the Upper Banffshire District Committee, in whose area the worst part of the road lies, including two portions which are spoken of as impassable in present conditions. The decision of the Committee, reached by a majority, was against defraying any part of the cost of a scheme of reconstruction from road funds raised by local assessment.

The Road Board of Banffshire met at Banff to consider a suggestion from the Aberdeenshire County Council that a conference of representatives of the Authorities interested be held at Aberdeen to consider action on the proposed scheme. Alternative proposals were put forward, estimates of the cost of which had been prepared by Mr. Curtis Gray, of the Road Department, Ministry of Transport, Edinburgh, after examination of the area and consultation with district road surveyors, one for the reconstruction of the existing road from Cock Bridge as far as the Bridge of Brown, on the road between Tomintoul and Grantown-on-Spey, at a cost of £17,000, the other for taking the road by a new route, following approximately the line of the Allt-Tuileach, by Inchmore to Inchrory and the eastern margin of the River Aven by Torbain and Birchfield to Tomintoul, as suggested by the Rural Transport (Scotland) Committee in 1919, the cost of this scheme being estimated at £43,500.

By a majority it was decided not to pay any proportion of the proposed scheme, but that the Ministry be asked to pay it all. This decision, reported to Saturday's meeting of the county Road Authority, practically nullified its purpose, and it was decided, in view of the attitude taken up by the district body, to take no part in the suggested conference.

The road has been frequently described as having been made by General Wade, but it was not so. That pioneer of the road system in the Highlands died in 1748, and at the Well of the Lecht there is a tablet bearing the inscription, "A.D. 1754. Five companies of the 33rd Regiment, Right Hon. Lord Charles Hay, Colonel, made the road from here to the Spey."

STEEL FRAME AND CONCRETE CONSTRUCTION.

Architects concerned with steel-frame and reinforced concrete construction will be interested to learn of the visit to the United States of Mr. Topham Forrest, Superintending Architect of the London County Council, to report to the London Building Acts Committee on modern methods of construction as practised in America. It has long been felt that the London Building Act and the L.C.C. Regulations for reinforced concrete construction are unduly irksome in regard to these methods of construction. The Committee, which for some two years has been considering these regulations, has now completed its work, and recommended considerable revisions to be made in order to bring the regulations into line with up-to-date constructional methods.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—The main depression off the Shetlands is moving north-east and filling up, and a secondary off South-West Ireland is moving between east and south-east. In the South-Western and Southern districts of the British Isles some rain is likely at first, with backing winds, followed by an improvement. In other parts there will be considerable fair periods, but local showers. Temperature generally will be rather low.

N.W. and N.E. Ireland. — Wind northerly or north-westerly, moderate to fresh; strong locally; fair periods, local showers; visibility good; rather cold; local ground frost early.

S.E. and S.W. Ireland. — Wind northerly to north-westerly, strong at times; variable sky; some showers; visibility moderate to good; rather cold.

S.W. Seaboard, Mouth of Channel to South-West Ireland. — Wind easterly, backing north or north-west, strong or high at times; variable cloud; some showers; visibility good; sea rather rough.

Irish Sea and St. George's Channel.—Light or moderate, variable to northerly winds; variable cloud; local showers; visibility good; sea moderate.

N.W. Seaboard, Northern Ireland to Hebrides. — Fresh to strong northerly winds; fair, apart from local showers; visibility good; sea rather rough.

Dublin Stock Market was quiet and featureless. Home Rails were easier.—(Page 11.)

North and South.

We cannot think that, if Mr. W. P. Crawford Green, the Conservative member for Worcester, had lived in Ireland during the last three years, he would have allowed himself to speak as he spoke on Tuesday at Enniskillen. Addressing the Unionist meeting there, he stated his conviction that agreement between the two Irish Governments "was now a vain hope." He advised the people of Northern Ireland to keep within the law, but, if force were used against them—"which God forbid, but miracles occurred—he said to them the one word 'Strike,'" with the added counsel that "he who hit first hit last." He then proceeded to compare the fighting powers of the Northern volunteers and of the Free State Army, and to predict how Englishmen would use their "arms and bodies" in the circumstances which he appeared to contemplate. Mr. Green is not ignorant of the horrors of war; for he has served in France and Mesopotamia. To Englishmen, however, the thought of civil war at home has become almost inconceivable. Freedom has broadened slowly down from precedent to precedent, and the latest scars of domestic strife are nearly three hundred years old. Like Shropshire, whose valleys are "the quietest under the sun," Worcestershire is a haunt of ancient peace. We are sure that Mr. Green could not bear to think about civil war in Worcestershire. Why then does he present it to an Irish audience as an honourable possibility in this country? There are two rational explanations. Either Mr. Green is one of those orators who are swept off their feet by the torrent of their own eloquence and very often stand aghast when they read their words in print, or he believes the prospect of civil war in Ireland to be so remote that, though really a peace-loving man, he permits himself to play with it for the sake of rhetorical effect. If we are to accept the latter explanation, and if the mass of Mr. Green's fellow-countrymen shares his views, England is living in a fool's paradise. The situation in Ireland to-day is desperately serious. The fiercest passions have been roused by the boundary dispute, and the Boundary Commission will settle nothing. There are extremists in both camps who would welcome civil war, and in the near future, when Mr. Justice Feetham and his colleagues have finished their futile task, the smallest spark may start a conflagration that would devastate the whole country. The responsible leaders in North and South are fully aware of the increasing peril, and their language has been sober and restrained. The words of Mr. J. M. Andrews, the Northern Minister of Labour, at Enniskillen, were firm, but entirely unprovocative. We deplore Mr. Green's speech as a goad to passion; yet we feel that its effect may not be altogether unfortunate. This speech may force Northern and Southern Irishmen to face, while there is yet time for escape, the terrible possibilities which may be probabilities in another fortnight and certainties in another month. It is, indeed, a grim fact that our two Governments are drifting rapidly towards the arbitrament of civil strife, with all its accompaniments of bloodshed and economic ruin. Surely the fact imposes upon them the duty of a final effort of good-will—a sacrifice of every instinct of pride and prejudice to the paramount necessity of peace.

Germany and the League.

According to the latest reports from Berlin, the German Government has decided at last to apply for membership of the League of Nations. The matter has been under consideration for several months, and strong opposition has been experienced by Dr. Marx and Herr Stresemann, who recognise that the time has come when Germany must choose between membership of the League and isolation. The Nationalists insisted that before there could be any question of Germany's acceptance of the Covenant the question of responsibility for the war must be settled definitely; in other words, Germany must be absolved from the sole guilt. Furthermore, they declared that Germany must be allotted in advance a permanent seat on the League's Council—that, in short, she must be placed on an identical footing with Britain and France. Lord d'Abernon, the British Ambassador in Berlin, however, has been very active during recent weeks, and now, apparently, he has been able to persuade the Germans to apply for membership first and to begin to argue about conditions afterwards. The other members of the League are quite willing now to receive Germany into their number, although France is very dubious in regard to the wisdom of granting her a permanent seat on the Council. If this privilege—which is enjoyed at present only by Britain, France, Italy and Japan—is extended to Germany, assert the French, it must be extended also to the Poles; and as none of the other Powers is anxious to give Poland additional authority in Europe, the question of a permanent seat on the Council is likely to cause some difficulty. The objections of France to Germany's membership, however, hardly will prove to be very serious. M. Herriot, like most other sensible Europeans, realises that the League of Nations never can become a real force in world affairs until it includes all the chief Powers in Christendom, and that without Germany it cannot hope to persuade the United States to enter its councils.

From every point of view Germany's entry into the League is desirable. She has just undertaken to fulfil the terms of the Dawes Report, which lays a really heavy burden upon her resources. As a virtual outlaw, she would be in a position to break her engagements almost with impunity, whereas, in her capacity as a member of the League of Nations, she will have a very strong incentive to do her best. Responsibility is good for a nation as well as for an individual, and, once the moral ban has been taken off Germany—once she has been accepted as an equal among equals at Geneva—there is little doubt that her sense of national dignity will stimulate her to honour her bond to the uttermost letter. If she fails to keep her word, she will be disgraced; and the very fact that her statesmen are applying for membership indicates that she is determined to rehabilitate herself in the eyes of mankind. Europe gradually is returning to normal conditions. Slowly, but surely, the passions of the war years are fading into oblivion; and after a period of almost unparalleled suffering men and women are beginning to lift their heads once more towards the dawning of peace. History will appraise the part that has been played by the British Government in the consummation of this great change. Ever since the Armistice its influence has been used on the side of conciliation, and no one man has done more to bring about a better spirit in Europe than Mr. Ramsay Macdonald. He has devoted all his powers to the achievement of international good-feeling; and at last his reward seems to be almost in sight. Of course, everything depends now on Germany's sincerity. If she really sets to work to pull her weight in the boat, and to co-operate honestly with her fellow-members of the League, she will justify the confidence which is being placed in her. If, on the other hand, she should try to take advantage of her position on the League to make mischief in Europe, all Mr. Macdonald's work would have been in vain.

The Swiss Army.

Not all the little nations share Denmark's comfortable assurance of security. While the Danes talk of disarmament, the Swiss are reorganising and strengthening their army. A correspondent of The Times, writing from Geneva, tells us that the annual Swiss manœuvres, which are now being held, are larger and more elaborate than at any time since the war. Special attention is being paid to infantry movements under aerial observation and to the use of motor transport. Technical units have been formed and a larger equipment of heavy cannon and machine-guns has been added to the armaments of the 300,000 men whom Switzerland, out of its population of less than four millions, can put into the field. After the desolating religious wars of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries the Swiss cantons declared their perpetual neutrality. The Congress of Vienna and, later, the League of Nations undertook that Swiss neutrality should be an international obligation. Switzerland pledged herself to resist invasion by any foreign force, and the Powers bound themselves to come to her assistance if her independence should be threatened by any enemy. During the Great War Swiss neutrality was respected by all the belligerents, and the little Republic, round which the monstrous conflict raged, came scathless through the storm. Not merely did Switzerland escape embroilment, but she remained, as it were, a bridge between the warring groups. Under the Red Cross broken men, released prisoners, passed through Switzerland from the lands of their captivity to their homes; and thus, in the heart of Europe, there was still a link between what remained of humane elements in the angered nations. Europe thinks of Switzerland as the homeland of peace, and has established there the headquarters of that League of Nations which is the ark of its hopes. With misgiving, therefore, men will read that Switzerland herself—alarmed, it seems, by the League's present impotence, as demonstrated by the Corfu incident, to protect little countries—lacks confidence in the continuance of present peace and arms herself anew against some peril undefined.

Four Years of "Broadcasting."

The "wireless" exhibition, which will be opened at South Kensington on Saturday, reminds us that "broadcasting" as a popular entertainment, is now four years of age. This invention—in its more utilitarian aspect—has been of incalculable service to the human race, breaking down the distances which have stood between scattered friends and bringing the recesses of the wilderness into continual contact with the centres of civilisation. Settlers on the shores of Hudson Bay, in places reached by the mails only once, perhaps, in six months, have installed receiving sets, and are now as closely in touch with the world's news as if they lived in a city. The advances of modern invention are not all of equally indisputable benefit to mankind. Many, indeed, of the contrivances which would be so amazing to an older generation are less to be regarded as conveniences than as necessities. Our grandfathers could not travel ten miles in a horseless car between their homes and their places of business; but they had no occasion to live so far afield. Congestion has compelled speed, and what we have gained in time we have lost in space. The cinematograph, for all its educational possibilities, has tended to injure the nobler art of the drama. Inventions which increase the quantity of such a commodity as art tend to debase the quality. "Broadcasting" has become all but a necessity of modern life as well as an amusement; yet, after four years of growth, in which "radio" stations have been set up on the Chinese Wall and "listeners-in" have been amused and instructed in the uttermost wilds of frozen Labrador, there is no "broadcasting" station in the Irish Free State.

LONDON THEATRES.

"CHARLOT'S REVUE" AT THE PRINCE OF WALES'S.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Wednesday.

Philip Braham, Cyril Scott, Noel Coward, Reginald Arkell, Jack Strachey, Douglas Furber, Dorota Flatau, Morris Harvey, Harold Simpson, and Arnold Palmer, are only a few of the clever people who have written the lyrics, music, and sketches, that make "Charlot's Revue" at the Prince of Wales's Theatre so extraordinarily attractive. There is scarcely a dull number, and the difficulty will be to decide which item is the least entertaining, as the revue will certainly have to be cut—it lasted for over three hours at the first performance.

The opening number, "Fool's Paradise," is original, and manages to introduce all the principals in the cast in a novel manner. Miss Phyllis Monkman, of Co-Optimists fame, proved that she is not only a dancer but a character actress of distinct ability, and her study of the wretched girl in the sketch "Me Pink 'At" was very well done. I also liked her imitation of Laddie Cliff dancing, but I do wish she would not sing.

Miss Maisie Gay easily carried off the honours. Her burlesque of Nora Bayes, the American singer, who is now in London, was perfect. As the mother in a sketch of Ronald Jean's, entitled "Yesterday, To-day, and To-morrow," she caricatured some parents of the present day with merciless and diabolical insight. In fact she was a pure joy in everything she did. "Karma," a ballet written and composed by Cyril Scott, is a fantastic episode in five pictures, founded on the philosophy of re-incarnation. It is charmingly arranged and executed, and struck an unusual note which appeared to be greatly appreciated. Clever and distinctive work was done by Morris Harvey, Henry Kendall, Peter Haddon, and Queenie Thomas.

The revue was remarkably well produced, the colour schemes and the dresses of the chorus blending most artistically.

POLITICAL NOTES.

MR. GREENE'S SPEECH: THE DAIL AND THE BOUNDARY.

FROM OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

"If they use force to you, I say 'strike,' and I will add to that by saying that 'he who hits first hits last.'" This was the advice tendered by Mr. Crawford Greene, a British Conservative M.P., to Northern Ireland, at a meeting of loyalists at Enniskillen last Tuesday.

Mr. Greene's speech was yesterday the subject of much comment in Free State political circles, and it is not improbable, I understand, that a remonstrance will be addressed by Mr. Cosgrave's administration to the British Premier or the Speaker of the House of Commons.

The rumour has been current within the last few days that the Dail may be summoned to re-assemble before the 21st October. There is no question, however, of a departure from the original arrangement, I was definitely informed yesterday. If the Boundary Bill, which comes before the Imperial Parliament at the end of this month, is passed without alteration, there will be no necessity for the Dail to assemble earlier than the 21st prox. The bill is not likely to encounter much opposiiton in the Free State Chamber.

It is probable that the only critics of the measure will be the members of the Labour Party, but the opposition from that side of the House will not be calculated to delay the passage of the bill. The Government expects that the bill will pass through all its stages within a couple of days.

LISTENING-IN TO CHURCH.

EXCUSE FOR STAYING AT HOME.

The Glasgow Presbytery of the Church of Scotland is exercised over the broadcasting of complete Church Services, and the whole question is to be carefully considered. In the course of a discussion at a meeting yesterday, a motion was put forward that the Presbytery, while being desirous of maintaining the religious features of broadcast programmes, considered that to broadcast a full religious Service during ordinary Church hours of worship on Sunday was detrimental to corporate worship. The motion also urged the Presbytery to instruct its ministers to refuse facilities for such. The proposer of the motion declared that the Scottish Sabbath was in great danger, and broadcasting was just another temptation for those who were regularly at Church Services to find a fresh excuse for absenting themselves. He spoke from personal experience; for when the first Church Service was broadcast from Glasgow there were quite a number of families belonging to his own church absent, and he afterwards found out that they had been listening-in.

U.S. OIL SCANDAL WITNESS SUED.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
WASHINGTON, Wednesday.

The United States Government has filed a lien against Mr. Gaston Means, former Agent of the United States Department of Justice, who attained much notoriety by his testimony in the recent American oil scandals, for 207,000 dollars for alleged unpaid income tax and penalties.

LONDON LETTER.

THE TREATY AMENDING BILL.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

Mr. Baldwin is expected to have a meeting to-morrow at the headquarters of the National Unionist Association with Mr. Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead, Sir William Joynson-Hicks and other leading members of the Conservative Party with regard to the policy to be pursued in Parliament during the passage of the Irish Boundary Amending Bill. There is still considerable doubt whether the Bill can be amended in the Commons, and at present the Conservatives take the view that the Bill has been so drafted that amendment is almost impossible. Some members of the party think that an amendment limiting the powers of the Commissioners to minor rectifications alone would be possible, and it is said that the Ulster Unionist members incline to this opinion. If such an amendment cannot be moved in the Commons, it will almost certainly be added to the Bill in the House of Lords, though it is regarded as most improbable that it will be allowed to remain.

Lord Long.

Somewhat serious reports were received in London to-day concerning the health of Lord Long, who is at his country house, Rood Ashton, Wiltshire. He was taken ill on Friday last, and yesterday pneumonia developed, with the result that his condition to-day was considered to be one of grave anxiety.

The Labour Conference.

The Socialist extremists intend to bring pressure to bear upon the Government at the forthcoming Labour conference, to be held here at the Queen's Hall on October 7th and the three following days. The Executive Committee thinks that the conference should urge the Government to bring before Parliament a complete measure for the nationalisation of the mining, coke and by-products industry, including the production of bulk electric power, with adequate minimum wages for all employed. Another resolution will ask the conference to insist upon the Government's taking an early opportunity to pass a Bill containing a national electric power scheme based on public ownership, while yet another will draw the attention of Ministers to the grave problem of unemployment.

The German Loan.

That portion of the proposed German loan to be floated in this country, it is expected, will amount to fifteen million pounds, and the issue will be made about the middle of next month. The arrangement at present is that it shall be made by the Bank of England with the aid of the Government brokers. The issue will be about 95, and the rate of interest probably will be eight per cent. It is expected that the United States will take up about twenty million pounds sterling of the loan, and the remaining five million will be taken up outside this country.

The Wembley Exhibition.

It has been almost decided that the Empire Exhibition shall close for this year, and it may be for good, on November 1st; and, since this date is not remote, arrangements are already being made by the managements of the different pavilions to remove their exhibits, at least those of a perishable nature. In the Canadian Pavilion the wonderful model in butter of the Prince of Wales is to be made up into one pound pats and sold, while the huge stacks of apples will be given to the Salvation Army. Generally, there will be no difficulty in disposing of the exhibits; for everything is the best of its kind, and there is always a keen demand in the market for such things.

Milk Prices.

The decision of the Dairymen's Association to fix sevenpence halfpenny per quart as a winter price for milk has been so ill received that the Association finds it necessary to decide again. Another meeting will be held to-morrow, when it is hoped that the question of a uniform price may be settled finally. It is unlikely, however, that the consumer will benefit; for the idea is that milk shall be sold at sevenpence per quart for three months, and at eightpence for three months, thus making an average of sevenpence halfpenny for the six winter months. If this scheme is adopted, it is safe to say that the demand will fall off very considerably during the eightpenny quarter; for most people think that fourpence a pint for milk is too much to pay.

Cork Barley.

The Star says to-day that a good deal of Cork-grown barley is likely to find its way to this country this season, and it is anticipated that heavy consignments of the cereal will be shipped during the ensuing three months from Cork Harbour. Correspondence has been taking place between a number of British barley-buyers and a farmers' association in a great barley-growing district in County Cork. The question of having purchasing agents for the barley sent over from England by the corn-buying firms has been considered, and the scheme is in a fair way towards being adopted before the barley-buying season opens.

A New Film.

Mr. Douglas Fairbanks's new film, "The Thief of Bagdad," produced at Drury Lane Theatre this evening, almost marks a new departure in cinematography; for little regard has been paid to historical accuracy, while everything has been done to provide a real artistic setting. The plot is the joint work of Mr. Fairbanks and Mr. Knoblock, and resolves itself into a wonderful Arabian Nights episode with magical effects. There is a flying carpet, which appears really to transport people to distant places; a winged flying horse, a spider much bigger than a man, and many picturesque scenes laid in strange places such as the Crystal Realm, the Valley of Monsters and the Sea of Midnight. The picture took seven months to make, but the result is so successful that it justifies all the labour expended upon it. It should draw crowds for months to come.

The Motor Show.

The Motor Show at Olympia is to be opened to the public on Friday, October 17th, nearly a month earlier than is usual; for it was generally concluded that it would be an advantage to arrange an earlier date to afford the many overseas and foreign visitors an opportunity of seeing what this country can do in the motor world. The latest United States licensing returns show that 7.2 of the population own a car—a record beaten, however, by California, where every third person is an owner. Great Britain has a long way to go before these figures are approached, but the gap certainly will be lessened with time.

Women's Wear.

It seems that the predominant colours for women's wear during the autumn will be brown for the day and cyclamen pink for the evening. Down the side of one important West End street every shop shows gowns in these colourings, and in endless variety of styles. Cimmamon brown will be very popular, because it is becoming and is said to suit young people, while in many cases darker shades of brown are relieved with the cyclamen pink. Hats, too, are to be of brown shades.

MORE MONEY FOR HOUSES.

PROMISE BY THE PRESIDENT.

AID FOR MUNICIPAL SCHEMES.

ANOTHER BILL.

FUTURE OF GREATER DUBLIN.

It is understood that President Cosgrave, when he was interviewed by a deputation from the Association of Municipal Authorities last evening, promised that the Government would finance municipal housing schemes in the Free State to a greater extent than hitherto. It is stated that more money and wider powers will be given to local authorities.

Earlier in the day, at the conference in Dublin, the President (Mr. Haddon, of Wexford) had advocated the introduction of a new Housing Bill into the Dail, and had stated that the deputation intended to discuss this question with the Government.

During the conference Mr. E. A. Aston dealt with the future of the local government of Dublin and the urgent need for effective co-ordination of the work of the various authorities.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT IN DUBLIN.

PURCHASE SCHEME FOR TENANTS.

Returning thanks for his election as President of the Association of Municipal Authorities of Ireland, at the resumed Conference at the Council Chamber of the City Hall, Dublin, yesterday, Alderman Hadden, of Wexford, said that he believed that that Association was one which was calculated to do a great deal of good. Nowadays they found people of the same profession, calling and tastes, all drawn together, because they found that unity was strength, and that by an interchange of views they were able to further the interests that they all had in common.

He thought that they were able to do a great deal in stimulating one another in the improvement of their towns; and the interests which they represented there that day were, after all, the most vital interests of the urban community. He was afraid that in some of their towns they had not visualised the idea of trying to make these towns places of beauty, and he put in a plea for the planting of trees in ugly corners and in more or less vacant places, not at great expense, but at trifling cost, so that they might be able to say that they were citizens of no mean city.

The Association had tried to deal with the housing question since its inception, and he hoped that something would be done that day to enable them to get a programme of building for the coming year which would be in some way commensurate to the needs of the country.

They had a bill introduced that year to encourage private enterprise, but he thought that it was not a bill which was suitable for municipal authorities. He hoped that they would arrange for a deputation to draw the attention of the President of the Free State Government and the Minister for Local Government to the urgency of this question. He hoped that a bill would be introduced at once which would cause houses, that were so badly needed, to spring up in their various towns.

DUBLIN'S LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

Mr. E. A. Aston, Secretary of the Greater Dublin Movement, read a paper on "Local Government in the City and County of Dublin."

From the foundation of the system of local government, which prevailed in Dublin until the seventeenth century, he led to the formation of the Dublin Corporation, and the measures from which emerged municipal government as they knew it to-day.

He said that so rapid had been the growth of the "paternal" aspect of municipal government that it now almost monopolised the attention of local bodies and absorbed by far the greater portion of their expenditure. This was especially true in Dublin, which, owing to exceptional local and national causes, probably contained a larger proportion of the physically and mentally unfit than any other city in Great Britain or Ireland.

The wisdom of those who created such an independent authority for the control of the port as the "Ballast Board," which ultimately became the Port and Docks Board, had been more than justified in the record of its achievements; yet both municipal and harbour progress had suffered because of lack of effective co-ordination between the municipal and port authorities.

This lack of co-ordination was, however, even more difficult to justify, and more wasteful in its results, when they asked themselves why ten or twelve separate local authorities were to-day responsible for the administration of the municipal affairs of Greater Dublin. He suggested that the explanation was to be found mainly in the one word—transport.

The development of railways and tramways during the last 70 or 80 years caused the exodus of large residential population to the southern suburbs. From these emigrations new urban communities developed and received administrative functions, and had equipped themselves with costly and complex machinery for the independent administration of their own affairs. The multiplication of committees had produced a clotted mass of inefficiency, confusion and waste.

TOWN PLANNING.

Turning to the "town planning" movement, Mr. Aston said that to-day there was hardly a city of any importance on either side of the Atlantic which was not inspired with the idea of town planning, and equipped with the necessary machinery to transform the idea into action. He suggested that there was no community where the inspiration of town planning ideas and the necessity for their scientific application had been greater than in Dublin. The recent appointment of a Greater Dublin Commission of Inquiry, and its comprehensive terms of reference, was a welcome evidence that the nation intended to take the future of its capital city in hands and put an end to the discreditable method of mere tinkering with the details of its administrative machinery.

He ventured, therefore, to ask their acceptance of the following broad propositions:—

1—That one body should be created to exercise co-ordinating authority in the local affairs of the City and County of Dublin. For convenience let them call this body "The Greater Dublin Authority";

2—That means should be found whereby local sentiment and local knowledge might find adequate expression through the agency of a number of local popularly-elected bodies within the area of the city and county;

3—That Port affairs should continue to be conducted by a specially elected body, subject to the final control of the Greater Dublin Authority;

4—That the Greater Dublin Authority should exercise a large measure of direct control over such common services as "Public Assistance," road improvements, housing, main drainage, and the distribution of water, lighting and power supplies;

5—That expedients should be evolved whereby the operations of such statutory public utility undertakings as railway, tramway, and omnibus services should be harmonised with the policy of the Greater Dublin Authority; and

6—That the National Government should be represented directly upon the Greater Dublin Authority.

He added that, as to the source from which the new co-ordinating body might legitimately derive its authority, the first possibility was that the State might create an ad hoc municipal authority and define its powers. Such a State Commission might be reinforced by representatives of various local authorities, or, alternately, local co-operation might be secured by means of consultation with local bodies. He would favour such an experiment only upon certain clear conditions—first that the Commission should be temporary; secondly, that it should only be in-

CUSTOMS ENTRY DUTY TAX.

AN INTERFERENCE WITH TRADE.

PROTEST BY CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE.

At a special meeting of the Executive Council of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of the Irish Free State in Dublin yesterday.

Mr. J. C. Foley, Vice-President, on behalf of the Cork Chamber, introduced the subject of the statistical tax, and the members present were unanimous in protesting against the tax, agreeing that it entailed much additional expense and inconvenience, was an interference with the ordinary channels of trade, and should be modified, if not withdrawn, at the earliest moment.

After a full discussion, it was decided to approve of a statement which had been issued by the Dublin Chamber, which had appeared in the Press on Tuesday, 23rd inst., and to recommend to the local chambers that interest be maintained in the matter with a view to having the tax reviewed before the termination of the present financial year.

CROSS-CHANNEL FREIGHTS.

A resolution from the Drogheda Chamber of Commerce, protesting against the recent increases in cross-Channel freights was considered, and it was decided to arrange a conference with the carrying companies concerned, when the reasons for the increases would be fully discussed.

The following were present:—Mr. J. C. Foley, F.A.A. (Vice-President), Cork, in the chair; Messrs. P. Crowley and D. P. Buckley (Cork); Messrs. James Shanks, J.P.; W. Lombard Murphy, M.D.; William Crowe, J. C. M. Eason, B.A., P.C. (Dublin); Mr. M. D. Shaw (Limerick); Mr. E. McArdle, and Mr. R. Webster (Drogheda).

On the invitation of the Council, Mr. J. J. McKeever and Mr. J. J. Hoey (representing the Drogheda cattle trade) were present. Mr. W. M. Calwell, F.C.I.S., Secretary, was in attendance.

LORD LONG ILL.

"CRITICAL CONDITION."

Lord Long, who is at his country seat at Trowbridge, Wilts., was taken ill last Friday. Pneumonia developed on Tuesday, and yesterday afternoon it was reported that his condition was extremely grave.

On inquiry at Rood Ashton, Trowbridge, late last night, it was learned that the condition of Lord Long was still critical. His Lordship was still conscious, and was stated to be holding his own. Sir H. E. Bruce Porter, the eminent physician, was in attendance during the day.

EXPERIMENTAL KITE-FLYING.

TULLAMORE AND CABINET RUMOURS.

The Tullamore branch of the Cumann na nGaedheal discussed the Free State Cabinet crisis and passed the following resolution:—

"That we welcome the statement made by Mr. Dolan, Whip of the Cumann na nGaedheal Party, at Clones, that there is no intention of making any alteration in the personnel of the present Cabinet. A strong united front is more than ever necessary, at present, in view of the situation created by the discussion on the setting up of the Boundary Commission, the settlement of which, in accordance with Article 12 of the Treaty, is a natural claim that cannot be trifled with.

"We deprecate the present statements appearing in the Press, and the experimental kite-flying, which is calculated to cause political unrest in the Cumann na nGaedheal Party which is loyally at the back of the present Government.

"The suggestion made to reward with Cabinet rank members who were elected on the Cumann na nGaedheal ticket, with the assistance of its organisation and funds, and who withdrew their support from the Party at a critical time, is not one that commends itself to the rank and file of the members of the national organisation."

DUBLIN'S FISH SUPPLY.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO PREVENT SALES.

As happened on Tuesday, a number of carters yesterday declined to remove fish consignments from the railway stations to the Dublin Fish Market. Only a very limited supply got through. When the sales began some of the men who were on strike entered the market, and attempted unsuccessfully to prevent purchases. Arguments arose between the strikers and women dealers, but the police were not called upon to intervene.

It was stated that members of the Irish Workers' Union, who are on picket duty at the North Wall, have been endeavouring to prevent the importation of fish from England and Scotland. The attempt has failed. It appears that 60 per cent. of the dockers in the employment of the London, Midland, and Scottish Railway Company are members of the Transport Workers' Union, and that all of the Company's carters are attached to the National Union of Railwaymen, and are bound under the terms of their contract with the Company to handle all goods tendered to them.

THE PRINCE IN WINNIPEG.

WARM PUBLIC GREETING.

WINNIPEG, Wednesday.

The Prince of Wales was met at the station by the Mayor, Mr. Farmer, who expressed the pleasure and gratification of the citizens at the visit of the Prince. His Royal Highness replied that he was always pleased to visit Western Canada, and was looking forward to rest and recreation on his ranch. The Prince then walked between the solid lines of spectators gathered at the station, and entered his motor car, while the crowd cheered lustily. He went directly to the Squash Racquets Club, where he played a game with Colonel Arthur Sullivan, of Winnipeg. The journey was resumed at one o'clock.

When the Prince stopped for a few minutes last night at the Sioux look-out, in East Winnipeg, he was presented with the hindquarters of a moose by a party of American hunters, and was given a cordial invitation to stop on his return journey to shoot moose. The Prince said that he would be glad to do so if his engagements permitted, which was doubtful.—(Reuter.)

FOUND DEAD ON THE RAILWAY.

UNKNOWN MAN'S FATE.

The dead body of a man, aged about forty years, with his skull badly fractured, was found last night on the Dublin and South Eastern Railway line, near the Nine Arches, not far from Milltown station.

The driver of the Bray train, when passing the point on his way to Dublin, noticed the body lying between the up and down lines, and reported the matter at Harcourt street station. The Rathmines Fire Brigade had the body removed to the Meath Hospital, where an inquest will be held to-day.

The man's identity has not been established, but on the flyleaf of a prayer book, which was found in one of his pockets, was written the name "Christopher Roche, Milltown Park."

ARCHBISHOP OF DUBLIN IN LISBON.

LISBON, Wednesday.

SHAW PLAY NOT TO BE BANNED.

BERLIN THEATRE IGNORES BULGARIAN PROTEST.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

The Bulgarian Minister here has asked the manager of the Kurfürstendamm Theatre not to stage, as is projected, Mr. Shaw's "Arms and the Man," one of the characters in which is the "Chocolate Soldier."

The ground of the objection is that the play is offensive to Bulgarian national sentiment.

The manager has replied that Mr. Shaw is a "universal scoffer," who constantly gibes, for instance, at the cherished traditions of the British public.

Bulgarian students here threaten to create a disturbance if the play is staged.

NATIONAL ARMY.

SHAM FIGHT IN THE PARK.

With the rain pouring in torrents, troops of the National Army staged a realistic spectacle in the Fifteen Acres, Phœnix Park, yesterday afternoon.

This was the big item in an interesting Military Tournament, held in connection with the All-Ireland Championships.

The tournament opened with a programme of music by the No. 1 Army Band, conducted by Colonel Fritz Brase. Then came a series of competitions of horsemanship between squads of the Artillery Corps and of the Remount Service. The wrestling on horseback amused the spectators and apparently it interested the men of the two corps. Major P. Mulcahy was Officer in Charge of the event. A varied display on parallel bars and somersault horse was contributed by a company from the Curragh School of Gymnastics, under Instructor-Sergeant-Major Doogan.

The Air Corps then gave a display of aerial drill and formation flying, carried out in three of the graceful Martinsyde Scouts, piloted by Commandant T. J. Maloney, O.C., Baldonnell Aerodrome; Captain F. S. Crossley and Lieutenant O. A. Heron. This was followed by a series of "stunts," loops, rolls, spins and other things, with which the airman loves to thrill the onlookers. One of the pilots gave a magnificent exhibition of vertical spinning, and another looped and rolled not very far above the heads of the crowd.

THE FIGHT.

The sham fight, which came next, was planned to give the spectators a demonstration of a frontal attack on a fortified position, carried out by a composite force of infantry, artillery, cavalry and aeroplanes. The point of attack was the Hibernian Military School, defended by a White post, well supplied with machine guns. The post was to be captured by a Green force, starting from the Chief Secretary's Lodge.

The battle opened with the reconnoitring of the White position by a Bristol Fighter aeroplane. The Green cavalry patrol next went out and rode up to the enemy trenches before fire was opened, and the patrol leader fell. A White cavalry patrol followed the Green horsemen and the rattle of rifle fire from both sides became general. The Green infantry left the cover of the trees and deployed in a line, which extended about a mile. After them came their supports, the total number of rifles in the attack being about 2,000. The rapid rifle fire of the attackers made a terrible din, while the ear-cracking reply from the Lewis guns of the White trenches was continuous. This fire became so intense that the attackers could advance only in sections.

Ultimately the advance by sections was stopped, and only individuals and small parties could make headway. Supports came up from the Green lines, and after a rifle duel the defence of the White machine gunners became weaker. Then the charge was blown, and the Green troops, with fixed bayonets, rushed into the trenches. The White defenders were overcome, and the retreat of the remnant was cut off by a squadron of cavalry.

An interesting part of the operation was the work of the Army Medical Service. Its members went out under fire and removed the wounded to shelter. The "casualties" lay out in the rain until the horse ambulances came up and carried them to the field hospital in the rear.

The whole operation was planned by Colonel P. O'Connor, G.H.Q.

The concluding item on the programme was a musical recital by the massed Army bands, including the pipers, conducted by Colonel Brasé. It was applauded warmly.

The tournament was attended by a number of the officers of the higher command of the National Army, including General Eoin O'Duffy, General Officer Commanding the Forces; the Adjutant-General, the Quartermaster-General, Major-General McKeon, Major-General Sweeney, and Major-General Hogan.

DYNAMITE ON RAILWAY LINE.

ATTEMPT TO STOP A TRAIN.

EVANSTON, WYOMING, Wednesday.

An East-bound Union Pacific passenger train pulled up late last night near Wahsatch, Utah, upon the driver seeing a blazing fire on the track, and the train crew discovered alongside two boxes of dynamite and a can of petrol. Attached to one of the boxes was a note demanding that all the valuable mail should be thrown out and that when two signal shots were heard the train should proceed.

The train crew, who reported that they heard the two shots, cleared up the track, and the train then proceeded unmolested. The train was not carrying mail, but the mail train following was warned, and armed guards were placed on it.

COVENT GARDEN STRIKE ENDED.

MEN ADVISED TO RESUME WORK.

The Covent Garden Market strike, which had entered upon its sixth week, was officially terminated last night by the Executive of the Transport Workers' Union, after a sitting extending over three days.

At the conclusion of his Executive's deliberations, Mr. Ernest Bevin stated that, after long and careful consideration of all the facts and circumstances and of the reports, the Executive had decided not to extend the strike, and to advise the men to resume work at once.

The decision applies to all men affected by the stoppage.

HINDU-MOSLEM RIOT.

SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED.

ALLAHABAD, Wednesday.

A Hindu-Moslem riot broke out in Shahjahanpur, in the United Provinces, during the Chehlum Festival on Sunday night. A small disturbance occurred recently at Jalalabad, a village in the Shahjahanpur district, as a result of a communal dispute, and a Moslem was killed. Further trouble had been expected since then. Chehlum is usually celebrated on a grand scale by the Moslems of Shahjahanpur, and while a procession of 700 of them was moving towards Kerbel, the Shiah Holy City, a Moslem was found badly beaten a mile away. It is alleged that the other Moslems wrapped the man in a white cloth and carried him in the procession shouting that the Hindus had killed him. This led to an attack on the Hindus in that quarter of the city where the man was found.

The police promptly dispersed the mob, but sporadic assaults on isolated persons have continued since. Four persons have been killed and forty injured. The situation is under control, and public confidence is being restored.—(Times telegram).

TREATY RIGHTS.

SPEECHES BY BRITISH EX-MINISTERS.

NEED FOR MUTUAL TOLERANCE.

PLEDGES TO THE NORTH AND THE FREE STATE.

Two British ex-Ministers made speeches on the boundary problem yesterday.

A plea for reconciliation in Ireland was made yesterday by Sir John Simon, who was Attorney-General with a seat in the Liberal Cabinet from 1913-15, and subsequently Home Secretary. He said that one day the boundary would be no longer needed, and neither side should press technical arguments too far. After dealing with the meaning of Article 12 and its relation to the 1920 Act, he said that it was the fixed intention of the British people to see that the question was settled with strict impartiality, but they would prefer that Irishmen should settle it in a spirit of accommodation between themselves.

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, who was Postmaster-General from 1922-3, and afterwards Minister of Health in the British Cabinet, said that, although he could not say what would be the action of the Unionist Party, they would not see Ulster wronged. The pledges to Southern Ireland would be completely fulfilled.

MEANING OF ARTICLE 12.

FORMER ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S VIEW.

"Boundaries are not made for Governments, but for peoples," declared Sir John Simon in an address to his constituents at Cleckheaton (Yorks) last night.

"The ultimate hope for Ireland, however, should be that, by mutual tolerance on both sides of the border, the boundary would one day be no longer needed. This was why neither side should press technical arguments too far, and such a conclusion would be the crowning example of the healing of old wounds and reconciliation and goodwill.

"In the meantime the Imperial Parliament had to see to the fulfilment of the Treaty with the Irish Free State. Treaties could not be interpreted by publishing what A wrote secretly to B, or what C was alleged to have said privately to D. They could only be interpreted by putting the natural meaning upon the words used in them.

"Article 12 was 'exceedingly plain,' and although it was an important fact that Parliament defined Ulster for the purposes of the 1920 Act as consisting of six counties, this was not the whole story. The later Act of 1922 made the Irish Free State co-terminous with the whole of Ireland, and, by Article 12, gave Ulster the option to contract out of the Free State, subject to the proviso that the boundary should be revised.

"The Article went on to say that this revised boundary should thenceforward be the boundary of Ulster for the purposes of the 1920 Act. It was, therefore, wholly fallacious to speak as though Ulster had a Treaty right to the six counties intact.

"Her right to a separate Government arose because she had taken advantage of Article 12, and, if she chose to contract out she refused to take part in appointing the Boundary Commission, it was the plain duty of Parliament to see that the Treaty was duly implemented.

"It was the fixed intention of the British people to see this question settled with complete impartiality and fairness to both sides, though they would greatly prefer that Irishmen should settle it in a spirit of accommodation between themselves."

"WILL NOT SEE ULSTER WRONGED."

MR. NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN ON THE 1920 PLEDGE.

Addressing a meeting of his constituents in the Ladywood Division of Birmingham last night, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, traced the history of the present Irish difficulty. He recalled that when the question of setting up a Boundary Commission was being discussed in Parliament, Ulster men and people familiar with the feeling there expressed concern as to whether under its powers large tracts of territory might be taken from them.

They were assured by those who signed the Treaty that there was no ground for uneasiness; that this was not the intention of the Treaty, and that all was intended was that small pockets on one side or the other might be restored to the territory to which they naturally belonged.

He did not believe that the House of Commons would have accepted the Treaty if any other interpretation had been put upon it. The present Government, who had nothing to do with the Treaty, did not desire, he honestly believed, to take sides. They took the view that they must do what the Southern Irelanders wanted and bring in a bill enabling the British Government to appoint a Commissioner. It was perfectly clear that if a Commission were set up in existing circumstances, and made a report which Ulster could not accept, the Boundary question would not be settled any more than it was to-day.

The Ulster people were a very loyal people, but they were a very determined and tenacious people, and they had made up their minds that they would not allow large tracts of territory to be taken from them.

"What exactly will be the line of action taken by our party I cannot yet tell you," Mr. Chamberlain continued. "It may be that according to the Rules of Order the Government Bill is so drawn that we cannot amend it; but I say that the Unionist Party—and we are still the Unionist Party—will not see Ulster wronged in this matter. We will not take any responsibility for any measure which alters the Act of 1920 in a sense which is favourable to only one side.

"We are anxious that any pledges that have been given to Southern Ireland shall be completely fulfilled, but, at the same time, we cannot forget the pledges that have been given to Ulster, that she shall not be forced to part with territory which has been handed over to her by Act of Parliament."

REPUBLIC WOULD NOT BE TOLERATED.

Addressing a meeting, convened by the Stratford and Upton Conservative and Unionist Association, in Stratford Town Hall, London, last night, Mr. J. D. Cassels, K.C., M.P., made a brief reference to the Irish boundary question, and expressed the hope that it would be amicably settled. In any event, he said, the people of the British Empire would never tolerate a Republic at its very heart.

THE KING OF BULGARIA.

NO TRUTH IN STORY OF ASSASSINATION.

SOFIA, Wednesday.

The reports of the alleged assassination of the King of Bulgaria are without foundation.—(Reuter.)

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

VIENNA, Wednesday.

Despatches received here to-day from your Correspondent at Sofia indicate that King Boris is in good health, and that no attempt against his life has been made. The King is staying at his summer Castle at Varna, on the Black Sea, where he has been for several weeks past.

STATE OF SIEGE PROCLAIMED.

According to news received in Paris, Bulgaria is in a state of ferment, and Turkish newspapers report that a state of siege has been proclaimed throughout the country.

LIFFEY POWER SCHEMES.

INSPECTION OF THE SITES.

SIR JOHN GRIFFITH'S STATEMENT.

Members of the Electricity Supply Association of Ireland, assembled in Dublin for their annual conference, yesterday went by motor cars on a journey which enabled them to obtain, by inspection of the sites of proposed works, an idea of the engineering aspect of the Liffey hydro-electric schemes.

RAINFALL RECORDS.

LARGE AREA TO BE SUBMERGED.

The first stage of the journey was by Blessington to Burgage Bridge, which is below the confluence of the King's River with the Liffey. Here the party saw the clock-recording guage, which has been erected and maintained under the supervision of Professor Purcell, of University College, Dublin. The lesson of the records obtained there in the past few years is that the flood-water of the upper streams is carried away very rapidly. After heavy rainfall the height of the river at Burgage Bridge is increased rapidly by many feet, but within a few hours of cessation of rainfall the river falls again to a normal level. The records, combined with the results of other observations, give proof that the water-power available from the upper reaches is greatly in excess of estimates which were based conservatively on more crudely recorded former observations of rainfall and flood.

In all the Liffey hydro-electric projects there is general agreement as to the area which will be flooded as a consequence of the works devised to dam the stream and form a reservoir in order to conserve and control the power now fitful and wasted. The upper waters of the Liffey and its early tributaries are confined at Poulaphouca to a narrow channel through the gorge. At that gorge is the obvious place for a dam. When the dam is constructed, the upper valleys of the Liffey and the King's River will be flooded, and great lake-reservoirs will be formed, submerging several square miles of country. Sir John Griffith mentioned 5,000 acres as the area to be submerged. Burgage Bridge itself will then be many feet below the surface of the waters.

From Burgage Bridge the party went on to a point from which the extent of country to be submerged by the flooding of the King's River could be viewed. From the slopes of Baltiboy's Hill, on one side, the lake will extend to a level on the other side a little below the village of Ballyknockin, the home of the workers in the celebrated County Wicklow granite quarries. The ground at present visible between these two points is largely bogland. The inhabitants to be dispossessed of their homes would be few, and the area of cultivated ground to be covered by water would be comparatively small.

From Baltiboy's Hill the party cut across country to join the Liffey again at Poulaphouca, below the sites already seen. After the recent rainfall, there was a fine head of water at the famous Poulaphouca waterfall, and, leaving aside engineering questions for the moment, the visitors enjoyed an exceptionally beautiful view of that picturesque spot.

THE LUNCHEON.

At Poulaphouca the party was entertained to luncheon by Senator Sir John Purser Griffith, who, as a member of the Committee on Water-Power Resources, whose report led to practical consideration of Liffey hydro-electric projects, and as a leading promoter of one of the principal schemes now before the public, was afterwards heard with attention when he explained the various proposals. He admitted that, as an engineer, he had been attracted by the idea of a single power-converting station. After study of the commercial considerations, however, he now favours a three-station scheme. This matter was also explained at the various sites by Mr. A. Delap, who is the consulting engineer in connection with Sir John Griffith's scheme, known as the Dublin electricity supply scheme. In their plans provision is made for a first station below the dam at Poulaphouca, a second station below the Golden Falls, near Ballymore-Eustace, and a third station at the Salmon Leap, near Leixlip. One advantage of this plan is that part of the capital expenditure involved in the complete scheme would only be laid out as the demand for electric current increased. Again, at flood seasons only the lowest station need be used, and the higher stations would come into play when the conserved resources were required. On the return journey to Dublin the party came by the sites proposed for the two lower stations, where, of coure, the force of the water-flow could be utilised again in turn after its tapping at the Poulaphouca station.

In the Dublin Corporation plans, worked out by the City Electrical Engineer, Mr. Kettle, after the report of the Swiss engineer who was engaged by the Corporation to report on the Liffey water-power resources, two stations are projected—one at Poulaphouca and the other at the Salmon Leap. The third scheme, which is still alive, embraces the proposal of a pipe-line conveying the water-current across from Poulaphouca to an outfall, where a single station would be erected, below the Golden Falls. The Corporation estimate is for a generation of 19,000 k.w.—12,000 k.w. at Poulaphouca and 7,000 k.w. at Leixlip.

The more important engineering elements in the schemes would be the erection of stations with turbine plant and transmission arrangements, the building of the dam at Poulaphouca, and some consequential works made necessary by the flooding of the upper valleys. Under the latter head an instance visible yesterday was a new route of communication from the Ballyknockin side of the King's River valley, the present direct road being across the area of submersion.

In the morning some heavy showers were encountered. These tended to enhance the visual demonstration of the force of the flow of water in the upper catchment of the Liffey. Otherwise the day was fine, and the party, besides taking interest in the unfolding of the hydro-electric projects on the sites of the proposed works, enjoyed a delightful trip through some of the most beautiful scenery in the neighbourhood of Dublin.

STATEMENT BY SIR JOHN GRIFFITH.

After luncheon at Poulaphouca,

Mr. William Hewat, T.D., as President of the Association, expressed thanks to Sir John P. Griffith for his hospitaly, and requested him to make a statement on the project for utilising the Liffey water-power for electricity supply.

Sir John P. Griffith said that it had been a great pleasure to him to see them coming out to visit the upper catchment area of the River Liffey. They had passed through it in the course of their journey and had had an opportunity of witnessing something of the rainfall on which the scheme would depend in a large measure if the proposed works were made. The rainfall of the Liffey which it was contemplated in various schemes under consideration now to utilise fell in an area represented by the lower catchment, extending down to the Salmon Pool, and the upper catchment, above Poulaphouca, which they had just seen. Practically half the rainfall they would deal with fell on the upper catchment, which was only about a third of the combined area. Not only did they get half the water from the upper catchment, but if his scheme were carried out fully, some 83 per cent. of its power would be dependent on the rainfall within the upper catchment. Having regard to his long experience of work on the Liffey, he personally rejoiced greatly that the Corporation of Dublin had taken such a very active interest in the scheme.

When the Water-Power Resources Sub-Committee for Ireland put their scheme forward in its report, it was examined on behalf of the Corporation by a very distinguished Swiss engineer, whose verdict, perfectly independent of anything previously written or said, was that it was a sound and practical scheme, and one that could be advantageously utilised for the benefit of the community. His (Sir John Griffith's) desire was that, whoever carried it out, it should be carried out in the most efficient and economic manner, and be of the greatest possible

CONGRESSMAN'S CIDER.

PROHIBITION TEST-CASE IN AMERICA.

BALTIMORE, Wednesday.

The Federal grand jury has indicted Mr. John Hill, a member of Congress, who recently dispensed gratis to a thousand of his neighbours cider containing 2.75 per cent. of alcohol.

Mr. Hill is charged with manufacturing and dispensing liquor illegally and with maintaining a nuisance. Another indictment against him is of manufacturing a quantity of wine several months ago.

Mr. Hill maintains that beverages containing only 2.75 of alcohol are not alcoholic under the meaning of the law.

It is presumed that the present action will develop into a test case.—(Reuter.)

UNPAID RATES IN DONEGAL.

£270,000 OUTSTANDING.

At the meeting of the Donegal County Council it was reported that the total amount of rates outstanding was £270,910 4s. 10d.

The special Standing Committee recommended the payment of superannuation allowance of £180 to Michael O'Callaghan, Letterkenny, and £146 13s. 4d. to Edward O'Callaghan, Buncrana, former Assistant Surveyors.

A suggestion by Mr. M'Goldric that the matter be referred back to the committee for reconsideration in regard to the question of bonuses was adopted.

The Standing Committee also recommended the payment of £54 superannuation to Francis M'Glinchey, Adara, a former rate collector.

Mr. Gallen questioned whether a rate collector was entitled to a pension.

It was decided to adopt the recommendation, subject to the sanction of the Local Government Department.

The Special Committee's report in regard to sheep dipping in the county suggested the formation of a revised scheme.

Mr. M'Glinchey, who spoke for a deputation of sheep owners, said that the present sheep dipping scheme was a direct taxation on sheep owners.

The matter was left to the Special Committee to draw up a new scheme.

Arising out of the application presented by a deputation from Ballyliffin Development Association for help towards improving the road from the village to the shore, it was decided to request the Land Commission to place £200 at the disposal of the association for the purpose.

SHOPLIFTING IN PARIS.

WHOLE FAMILY IN COURT.

PARIS, Wednesday.

This afternoon a man named Joseph Henry, described as chief warder of the Mauritius Prisons, his wife, and his four boys, aged from nine to fourteen years, appeared in the Paris Court, charged with being caught in the act of shop-lifting in the great Paris stores.

Mrs. Henry, who was arrested with the children on August 12th, stated that she had come to France to make a quantity of purchases. She and the children were searched in a shop, and were found to be in possession of a quantity of missing objects, including handbags, neckties, and children's toys. The husband was arrested later. All six appeared in court.

Henry and his wife were sentenced to three months' imprisonment each. The children, who were found guilty of theft while acting under the influence of their parents, will be privately cared for until the parents are released.—(Reuter.)

£62,000 FOR SEAMEN.

MUNIFICENT GIFT TO KING GEORGE'S FUND.

The Duke of Connaught, as Chairman of King George's Fund for Sailors, has received the sum of £60,000 under a deed of trust, and £2,000 as a special gift to the fund. This munificent sum has been transferred to the fund by Mrs. M. M. C. Wills, Mr. W. St. J. F. Miles, and the Public Trustee, who are the trustees of the estate of the late Mr. Henry Herbert Wills, and forms a proportion of the ten shares of his estate which Mr. Wills bequeathed for the benefit of seamen of the Mercantile Marine.

The capital sum of £60,000 will be transferred to the Official Trustees of Charitable Funds, the trustees of King George's Fund for Sailors, as a special trust to be called the "Henry Herbert Wills Trust," and the income will be distributed by the General Council of the Fund in collaboration with Mrs. Wills, amongst marine charities working on behalf of seamen of the merchant service.

The remaining £2,000 is an absolute gift to the fund without any conditions, save that it be employed for the purposes of the mercantile marine only as the Council shall think fit. The income will be divided by the Fund amongst mercantile marine institutions and funds, not amongst individuals, and it will necessarily be some months before there is any accumulation of interest on the capital and before any distribution can take place.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

PUNISHING AN AGGRESSOR STATE.

GENEVA, Wednesday.

The First and Third Committees of the League occupied the whole of this afternoon in discussions on the Articles of the Disarmament Protocol. The Third Committee spent the entire sitting discussing the wording of Article 12 of the draft protocol dealing with aggression. Two amendments, which were proposed by the Danish and Belgian delegates, respectively, were combated by Mr. Henderson in a vigorous speech, which was much applauded. Mr. Henderson declared—"We British have joined hands with the French to punish the aggressor, and have thus assumed great responsibility in regard to sanctions, which must be effective in putting down the aggressor." He said that the protocol was so important that any change in the present text should be referred to the Drafting Committee.

Finally, the Committee agreed to a new text proposed by Mr. Henderson, and the first part now reads as follows:—"As soon as the Council has called upon the contracting parties to apply sanctions against an aggressor, the obligations of the contracting Powers in regard to sanctions of all kinds mentioned in Article 16 of the Covenant immediately becomes operative." This replaces the original draft, which ran as follows:—"As soon as a declaration of aggression has been made, and the outlawry of the aggressor been effected by this declaration, the obligations of the contracting Powers," etc., as above.

Sir James Allen, New Zealand, moved that the obligations should be moral, not legal, otherwise there would be difficulty in obtaining the approval of the New Zealand Parliament.

M. de Jouvenel, France, made a strong point by affirming that the French thesis was admirably well expressed by Mr. Henderson, which remark produced an impression, and gave rise to some laughter.

The discussions will be resumed to-morrow.

OPERATIONS IN MOROCCO.

TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

UNIVERSAL PEACE.

OBSTACLES AT GENEVA.

The Times in a leading article upon the matters which have engaged the attention of this year's Assembly of the League of Nations, now nearing its end, observes:—Of much greater importance than the exact date of the admission of Germany to the League is the plan for universal peace, which has not yet been finally released from the Committees and Sub-Commissions at Geneva. Frankly, we do not quite understand what is going on, and we are reproached for not understanding and for expressing certain apprehensions as to the possible bearings of this scheme. It must be said at once that the anxiety felt in this country is certainly not due to any hostility to the League or to any reluctance to engage in a practical effort to establish peace. It is an axiom that the British Empire, which in itself represents a successful effort to establish peace over a wide area of the world, has no greater desire than to see peace firmly established among all the nations. The chief British interest is peace, and the principal motive of the British peoples in entering the war ten years ago was to make peace secure and to vindicate the authority of international law.

The defect in the League scheme, from the British point of view, is that while it will not necessarily solve that very difficult question of the frontier between France and Germany, it may cause fresh difficulties with the Dominions and provoke unnecessary antagonism in America. Why this roundabout way, so full of perils? Why not face directly the specific and local problem of security in Western Europe? As for the proposed disarmament conference, is it really probable that the United States will take part? President Coolidge himself offered to call such a conference, but are there not serious difficulties in the way of America joining in any such enterprise under the auspices of the League? The League scheme appears to be an attempt to escape from immediate realities—from one very difficult local problem in the heart of Europe. It it were taken too seriously, it would certainly lead to fresh disappointments, to new friction, and would multiply the very dangers it is framed to prevent. Let us rest for a little while on the excellent Dawes scheme. There is still time to consider earnestly and practically the limited and definite problem of security in Western Europe.

IRISH BOUNDARY BILL.

THE FUNCTIONS OF THE COMMISSION.

The Times Parliamentary Correspondent, referring to the Unionist line of action with regard to the Irish Bill, says:—It has not yet been decided whether a reasoned amendment for the rejection of the bill on the second reading shall be submitted, but it is expected that attention will be concentrated in the main on the possibility of defining the functions of the Boundary Commission. It is recognised that the form in which the bill has been drawn up "to confirm a certain agreement supplementing Article 12" of the Treaty makes it a very difficult matter to move any effective amendment in the House of Commons. An amendment varying the agreement by instructing the Commission as to the extent of its functions would probably be ruled out of order, and it is generally anticipated that the bill will pass through the House of Commons without alteration.

In the House of Lords, of course, the position is very different. A number of Unionist Peers are anxious to move such an amendment, and it would be sure of receiving a considerable amount of support. If such an amendment should be carried, it would be necessary to widen the title of the bill. The power of the House of Lords to carry an amendment which involves altering the title of a bill was confirmed during the passing of the Corn Production Act of 1921.

Though the rumour that Sir James Craig is likely to be invited to meet the Prime Minister is still persistent, Sir James has received no invitation. Neither has any invitation been received from the Irish Free State for him to meet Mr. Cosgrave in direct conference. Sir James Craig, however, is remaining in England until next week, and will meet the Ulster Unionist members of the Imperial Parliament before the House reassembles. The position is complicated by the fact that neither of the Ministers responsible for dealing with Irish questions in Parliament—Mr. Thomas, the Colonial Secretary, and Mr. Henderson, the Home Secretary—is yet back in England.

INDIAN COTTON EXCISE.

ASSEMBLY'S RESOLUTION.

The Times Correspondent at Simla states, in a message yesterday:—The Assembly passed, without a division, to-day a motion for the abolition of the Cotton Excise Duty at the earliest possible moment. The Assembly was afterwards prorogued.

Sir Charles Innes made a powerful speech on behalf of the Government. He assured the House that there was not a British subject in India who did not regret the existence of a duty which, while doing little harm to India's cotton industry, had undoubtedly done political harm to the Government.

THE WAR IN CHINA.

REPORTED SOVIET AGREEMENT.

Chang Tso-lin, the Mukden "War Lord," is stated to have reached an agreement with the Soviet in regard to the Chinese Eastern Railway, and this may enable him to prosecute with more confidence his campaign against Wu Pei-fu, the Chih-li leader, states The Times.

No change has occurred on the Shanghai front. There are rumours of negotiations between the rival generals, but the concentration of forces against Chekiang renders hopeless the position of that province.

DEATH OF SIR A. R. ANDERSON.

INDIAN RAILWAY EXPERT.

The Times says that Sir Arthur Robert Anderson, C.I.E., C.B.E., late President of the Indian Railway Board, whose death took place on Tuesday at the age of 64, was one of the outstanding figures in Indian railway management in our day, and did invaluable service in the Great War. A son of Mr. James Anderson, of Auchendarroch, Argyllshire, he was educated at Glasgow Academy, and University for Engineering.

THE UNIONIST CONFERENCE.

The Daily Telegraph, in a leader on the forthcoming annual conference of the National Unionist Association, says:—As to the new Constitution which is to be submitted to the conference, as prepared by the new Chief Agent, Mr. H. E. Blain, the nature of it is already known. It meets fully, in our judgment, that need of more democratic methods in the activities of the Unionist Party, which was the subject of a resolution passed by the Central Council in February last, and the need of establishing closer touch between Unionists in the constituencies and the National Directorate of the Party, both of which reforms have been too often advocated in our columns, to call for any further discussion at this moment. It is at the next general election, whenever that may come, that the battle will be fought between the Socialism of the Labour Party, not that of its obedient chief, and all those who see in it the certainty of national ruin, and to that inevitable, and, perhaps, imminent conflict, all thoughts must be directed at next week's conference.

BELGIAN ROYALTY IN LONDON.

The Daily Express says:—The King and Queen of the Belgians flew over from Brussels yesterday, and put up at a London hotel incognito. In the afternoon they took a stroll in Bond street, and, unrecognised by the general public, boarded a motor 'bus, climbed the stairs and took seats aloft. The conductor collected their pennies with the rest, little knowing it was a Royal hand that passed him the coins. Later Their Royal Highnesses entered a tea shop, and subsequently sauntered to their hotel.

THE BOUNDARY PROBLEM.

ANOTHER PROTEST MEETING.

CRITICISM OF THE NEW BILL.

VISCOUNT CURZON'S ADVICE.

Thirty thousand loyalists of the County Tyrone attended a mass meeting at Omagh yesterday afternoon to protest against interference with the North-Eastern boundary.

Supporting a resolution, which was adopted, declaring that the six county area was irrevocably granted to them by the Act of 1920, Viscount Curzon, M.P., said that the Treaty had been brought about by considerations of expediency, and it was being interpreted by expediency.

The British people meant this to be a boundary, not a territorial, question, and the sooner the Free State realised that the better.

ULSTER'S ATTITUDE.

THE LABOUR GOVERNMENT AND HONOUR.

FROM OUR REPORTER.

OMAGH, Wednesday.

At least ten thousand people from the County Tyrone assembled at a demonstration at Omagh this afternoon to protest against the Boundary Bill. The town was decorated with Union Jacks and other British flags and bunting. There were several bands, and contingents from various districts carried banners and scrolls with inscriptions such as "What we have we hold," "Britons now, Britons ever," and "Not what would graze a goat." In order to reach the outside of the crowd the speakers used a microphone, to which were attached five loud speakers.

The proceedings started with the singing of the hymn: "O God! our help in ages past," followed by prayers offered up by the Dean of Clogher.

In the absence through illness of Senator the Right Hon. H. de F. Montgomery, D.L., the chair was taken by his son, Major-General H. M. de Montgomery, C.B., C.M.G.

The Chairman said that they were not there in any spirit of defiance or unreasonableness, but simply to call for fair play on the part of their neighbours on the other side of the Channel, who had chosen to make a Treaty with the Free State. They, however, were no party to that Treaty. The members of the Judicial Committee had decided that Ulster was not bound to appoint a Commissioner, but now a Boundary Bill was about to be introduced, and they protested against any such unfair proceedings. The policy of England in the past was one of fair play, and they trusted that she was not going to depart from that policy now, but whether she intended to depart from it or not, the size of that meeting would make her understand that Ulster meant what she said, and that she would not part with any portion of the six counties except with her own consent. (Cheers.)

"A COERCION ACT."

Mr. William Coote, M.P., proposed a resolution expressing loyalty to the Crown and Constitution, congratulating the Government of Northern Ireland on the complete restoration of order, expressing their determination to remain part of the British Empire, holding that the six-county area was irrevocably granted to them by the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, and protesting against territory being taken from Northern Ireland against her wishes.

Mr. Coote said that they had met in serious circumstances, and, come what would, God helping them, they would never allow any Republic to be set up in their midst, nor give any portion of their territory to Sinn Fein. (Cheers.) But there was a Coercion Act to be imposed upon them. The Labour Government, and some other politicians, were going to bring in a Coercion Act, whereby they would hold a Boundary Commission in spite of Ulster. They could come to any resolve they liked, but it was a different thing to carry out the resolution. This was one of the cruellest, meanest, and most dishonest tricks ever perpetrated on the Ulster people. They accepted the Act of 1920, and in that Act the six counties were named, and the two cities of Derry and Belfast were also named, and these areas were solemnly given to them by the British Parliament and by the British people, whom they trusted—and they trusted the majority of them still.

After great loss of life and property they had succeeded in restoring law and order, for which they had to thank the Special Constabulary. No sooner had they done this than a firebrand, in Article 12, was thrust upon them. If the British Government wanted to avoid trouble they had better respect the Act of 1920; but, if they were out for trouble, they would get it. They might go on with a long and bloody struggle, but Ulster would not stand alone. The loyal people of the British Dominions would want to know the reason why. They were not afraid; they trusted in God, and would keep their powder dry. (Cheers.) They said that the British Government must respect their own honour. (A Voice: "They have none.") Well, it was a decadent age when the word of an Englishman was not as good as his bond. The people of Great Britain would never allow Ulster to be brought down.

They said that Article 12 should never have been in the Treaty. There was no boundary except the boundary on the map. There should be peace on both sides, and the South should respect the property on this side of the boundary, as they respected the property on the other side. They in Ulster were not consulted about this Treaty, and would have nothing to do with it. He would like to ask the Labour Party and British politicians, had the South of Ireland honoured Clause 5 of the Treaty, or had they contributed anything towards the British war debt? Ulster had contributed five millions, but the Free State had not contributed fivepence. They would never consent to any of their territory being handed over to the Free State, or to the new Republic, which was fast coming in. (Cheers.)

Mr. William F. Muller, M.P., in seconding the resolution, said that his answer to the "Coercion of Ulster Bill" was the Union Jack. They were born under that flag, they were bred under it; they lived under it, and, please God, they would die under it. (Cheers.) There was only one power which could drive them from under it, and that was British bayonets. But let Britain beware! British bayonets bent in 1914, when they tried to drive Ulster out of the United Kingdom.

Freedom's fleet followed the Nelson precedent, when bidden to bombard Belfast.

Viscount Curzon, M.P., who got a hearty reception, said that it gave him great pleasure to be with them in their hour of trial. What they were witnessing now really was that the chickens had come home to roost. They had a Treaty negotiated by a British Prime Minister, whose only cure for every evil or difficulty which confronted him was a short cut. The so-called statesman, Mr. Lloyd George, made this Treaty at two o'clock in the morning, when he saw a way of compromise, and the idea was to get those who represented Southern Ireland to consent to some sort of a document—it did not matter much what it was, because he would probably be out of office when the chickens did come home to roost. This Treaty was brought about by considerations of expediency, and nothing else, and it was now being interpreted in the light of expediency. The only settlement they could hope to get was a settlement between North and South in Ireland, and he believed that if the Commission ever did sit the hope of such a settlement must recede into the background. He could not see how any settlement which the Commission might make would be acceptable to both parties. It would be repudiated by one or other, or by both.

Why was it that Mr. Cosgrave had not so far moved hand or foot to reciprocate the gesture of their leader, Sir James Craig, when he said the other day that he was quite ready to meet Mr. Cosgrave and to arrive at a settlement? He (Viscount Curzon) said that if it so happened that Parliament had to consider this—that Mr. Cosgrave never made a move to consider what was put forward by Sir James Craig—that fact would speak for itself to the minds of the British people. He would go further and say that the eyes of the whole world were upon Ireland in this time of trial, and particularly the eyes of the British Empire.

CONSTITUTIONAL QUESTION.

There was a grave constitutional question involved. There was no use in one party saying that they were going to do this or that and to ride roughshod over people. They could not do it. (Cheers.) It had never been done in the British Empire, and he was sure the British Empire did not mean to do it now. If they could take territory in that way they could take it from any of the Dominions, and before the present minority Government tampered with this Treaty they should remember the Empire, which they sometimes claimed to represent. (Cheers.)

He was perfectly certain that a forced settlement was no good. It was no good trying to take territory from people such as they were.

They were talking about a united Ireland, but they would never get that by coercion; they might have a united Ireland if they tried to win Ulster. Therefore, he said to the South of Ireland: "Try and win Ulster instead of coercing her." (Cheers.)

He would like to utter a word of warning. Let them be on their guard, and not take the law into their own hands. Let them trust their leaders, who would never fail them. "You stood by England in her hour of trial," he concluded. "We have been comrades in arms before; should the necessity ever arise we may be comrades in arms again." (Great cheering.)

A BREACH OF FAITH.

Viscount Castlereagh said that this bill was a deliberate breach of faith with Ulster. It was an unstatesmanlike measure, and a foolish one, because it was a bad policy to stab one's friends in the back to save one's enemies. He could assure them that he would always be with them, and would help them, because he knew he would be helping the cause of honour, and helping the friends he loved so well. (Cheers.)

The Right Hon. Sir R. Dawson Bates, Minister for Home Affairs, Northern Ireland, said that the Boundary Bill was the most iniquitous measure ever proposed to be put on the British Statute Book. The Ulster people had carried out their part of the bargain under the Act of 1920; the South of Ireland refused to accept the Act. The late Mr. Collins said that Mr. Lloyd George told him that the Boundary Commission would enable large portions of the Counties of Tyrone and Fermanagh to be transferred to Sinn Fein. ("Never.") Mr. Lloyd George's excuse for entering into negotiations with Sinn Fein and the rebels was that he wanted to avoid further bloodshed. Yet they had that man endeavouring to embroil Ulster—the one peaceable spot in Ireland.

Had the British Government, since it came into power, ever shown the slightest enthusiasm for preserving the honour of the British Empire? Had it shown the slightest care whether Ireland became a Republic or not? The real meaning of this bill was fear, which first led to the introduction of Home Rule. People talked about unity, but he said that there could be no unity in Ireland until the grand old Union Jack floated over their beloved country. (Cheers.)

The Right Hon. Richard Best, K.C., M.P., Attorney-General for Northern Ireland, asked what inducements there were for them to throw in their lot with that of Southern Ireland. "They looked one way," he said, "we look the other. We honour everything connected with the King and the British Empire, but they look away from these things."

THE FREE STATE'S DEMAND.

The demand of the Free State was that in every county where there was a majority of even one it should go to the Free State. That would probably carry Tyrone and Fermanagh, and possibly Derry City; and in other counties their demand was that they should come in in districts here and there, where they were in the majority. Would they submit to that? ("No. No.") They had no reason to be downhearted. A great deal of water would pass under the bridges before the Act was passed, before the Commission could sit, and before it was able to arrive at any solution. They need not lose any sleep over the matter. His last word was to do nothing provocative. They had now got the sympathy of the best part of the British people; and of the British Press. They had also got the smypathy of the Dominions, and, he was reminded, of the Orangemen of the United States. Let them trust their leaders, and they would bring them safely through to the end. (Cheers.)

Captain the Right Hon. C. C. Craig, D.L., M.P., (who was cordially greeted) said that anyone with even an elementary knowledge of Irish affairs ought to have known that Ulster would not appoint a Commissioner to help in her own dismemberment, no matter how slight the operation might be; and the Privy Council held that without Ulster's representative the Commission could not act. Was it honourable for a Government to come to a solemn agreement with Ulster, by which she was to assume the government of the Six Counties, and, within eighteen months, behind the back of Ulster's representatives, to enter into an arrangement with the Free State, by which the original bargain with Ulster was to be altered to Ulster's disadvantage? (Cries of "no.")

That the Republican Party was gaining ground every day in the Free State, and would, in all probability, win the next election with ease, was one of the facts which the Government liked to pretend was not a reality. They, in Ulster, however, knew it quite well. They also knew that the time was near at hand when a Republic would be proclaimed in the South of Ireland. These facts had, however, been used by the Free State Government as levers to extract the present bill from the Imperial Government. There was no other course open to Ulster but to fight the new Treaty Bill to the bitter end.

Mr. James A. Pringle, K.C., said that he had always believed that if the electors of the Counties of Fermanagh and Tyrone were allowed to express their true wishes upon the Boundary question, free from all political or religious pressure, there would be a very substantial majority in favour of these counties remaining in Northern Ireland. (Cheers.) They would have no quarrel with the Free State, but rather the best of good-will to it, if it would go on its own way and let them go theirs, each Government striving to work out its own salvation politically and economically, and each contributing to the welfare of Ireland as a whole. (Cheers.)

The resolution was supported by Mr. W. T. Crawford Green, M.P.; Colonel Sir William Allen, M.P., and Captain the Right Hon. Herbert Dixon, D.L., M.P.

Colonel Allen declared that Ulster still barred the way to an Irish Republic. The step now proposed was the coercion of Ulster. Let there be no mistake about that. That pathway would again be strewn with dead and mutilated bodies, destruction of property, crime of all kinds in its most hideous form.

He told them solemnly and sincerely that as soon as this Coercion Act passed the British House of Commons the prospect of a united Ireland would be dead for ever.

The resolution was passed with enthusiasm, and greetings were sent to Lord Carson and Sir James Craig.

Fireman Wise, who was working on an escape ladder, the top section of which telescoped, throwing him, died from his injuries at Bexhill.

RAILWAY CLERKS' SALARIES.

DEMAND BY MEN IN DUBLIN AREA.

A large meeting of the Railway Clerks' Association, members of the clerical staff of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company employed in the Dublin area, was held in Barry's Hotel, Dublin, to consider the position arising out of the refusal of that company to bring the salaries of their Irish clerical employés up to the standard obtaining on Irish railways, by the extension to them of the terms of the recent award of Mr. Justice Wylie, which is now in operation on all Irish railways.

Mr. E. O'Carroll (Irish E.C. representative) occupied the chair, and Mr. W. Davin, T.D. (an employé of the London, Midland and Scottish) was also present. Senator J. T. O'Farrell (Irish Secretary, R.C.A.) gave a report of the correspondence which had taken place with the company, and their refusal to accede to the application. He said that it was now a matter for the men concerned to say whether they were prepared to continue indefinitely with lower salaries and a lower standard of life than their colleagues on Irish lines. A great corporation like the London, Midland and Scottish could hardly expect to have its work in Ireland performed cheaper than the Irish railways. Even with the award applying, the salaries of railway clerical employés were still below the average of salaries paid in comparative services.

After some discussion, the following resolution was carried:—

"That this mass meeting of the clerical, administrative and supervisory employés of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway Company, stationed in Dublin and district, expresses its surprise and indignation at the definite refusal of that company to extend to its Irish employés the terms of the recent award of Mr. Justice Wylie, at present in operation on the whole of the Irish railways, and involving in many cases a difference of £40 per annum in favour of the employés of the latter lines, performing equivalent duties and working alongside their colleagues on the London, Midland and Scottish.

"The meeting cannot admit the justice or reasonableness of an English railway company seeking to have its clerical and supervisory work in Ireland performed at much lower rates than those paid by Irish railways, particularly in view of the recognition by the company of the higher cost of living in Ireland by the payment of 5s. per week to the operative grades in excess of the rates paid in Great Britain. The meeting, therefore, calls upon the Executive Committee of the Railway Clerks' Association to request a satisfactory reply within a reasonable time, failing which the employés concerned will be reluctantly compelled to withdraw their labour on a date to be agreed upon by a special conference of Irish employés of British railways, called for the purpose."

NEWS IN BRIEF.

Cheaper Grapes Coming.—Grapes are expected to be cheaper in Great Britain because there will be larger quantities for the British market owing to an American embargo on grapes from Spain, Holland and Belgium.

Hop-Picker's £25 Fur Coat.—A hop-picker complained of losing a £25 fur coat in a fire at the farm of Mr. E. Mannington, of Marden, Kent, which burnt eight newly-built huts.

A Jersey Discovery.—Members of the Société Jersiaise, working on a tumulus at Prince Tower, Jersey, have discovered a remarkable pre-historic burial chamber. It consists of a subterranean tunnel, 70 feet long, with massive uprights and capstones, and leads to a central chamber seven feet high, 30 feet long and 12 feet broad. The work of excavation is still going forward.

A War Memorial Accident.—Mr. Herbert Hales, a stone carver, of London, met with terrible injuries yesterday while at work on the Leicester war memorial arch. He was carving a wreath at the height of 40 feet from the ground, when a stone, weighing a ton, which was being hoisted to the top of the arch, slipped from the tackle, smashed the scaffolding on which he stood, and crushed his leg. Hales fell to the ground, sustaining further injuries.

Robbers' Telephone Ruse.—By means of a bogus telephone message a daring robbery was carried out at the Ilford Hippodrome, London. While the secretary, Miss Vaughan, was in her room at the top of the building, in which the whole of the previous night's takings were kept, she was told that she was wanted on the telephone below. She went to the telephone, and was detained some time, as she could not grasp the purport of the message. When she returned to her room a bag containing nearly £200 had disappeared.

Char-a-Banc Disaster.—The inquiry into the Blockley (Warwick) village char-a-banc disaster in August concluded there yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and exonerated the driver from blame. Seven people were killed on the occasion and eleven injured. Driver Dennis Bertram Sharpe, who had been a month in hospital, stated that when descending a steep hill something snapped underneath, and the brakes failed to act. He stuck to the wheel and tried to negotiate a corner at the bottom, but the vehicle crashed into the wall and overturned.

Yachtsman Buried at Sea.—Love of the sea was responsible for the death of Mr. Charles Marcel Barron, a yachtsman, who had expressed a desire to be buried at sea. Although a man of considerable judgment with a boat, Mr. Barron could not swim. He left Hamble on September 9 to sail to Emsworth, and later the empty boat was discovered in Chichester Harbour, and Mr. Barron's body was washed up at Southsea. He was buried at sea three miles from the Spit Buoy. A motor boat was used, and the only mourners were his father, Mr. Charles Barron, J.P., of Totnes, and his brother. There was no minister, and no service was held when the selected spot was reached.

Returning with a shooting party at Ongar, an Armstrong-Siddeley car burst into flames, and, although the dogs were saved, the "bag" of partridges was cooked and the cartridges exploded for an hour.

Sentence of three years' imprisonment has been pronounced upon the Pastor Needra, who was accused of treason in connection with an attempt to organise a rival Government in Latvia in 1919.

The two girls, Muriel Brown and Phyllis Shaw, who escaped from St. Faith's Rescue Home, Leeds, after, it is alleged, they had gagged the matron and a dog, and cut the telephone wire, were recaptured at Blackpool yesterday morning. They were discovered almost destitute by a police constable at 5.30 a.m., sitting on a box in a backyard.

NO GRAIN FROM RUSSIA.

STOCKS CONSERVED FOR HOME MARKETS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

RIGA, Wednesday.

All exports of Russian grain, both wheat and rye, have been stopped for the next six months, according to Kemeneff, the President of the Council of the People's Commissars, speaking before the Union of Communist Youths at Moscow. In a lengthy speech outlining Russia's foreign policies, Kemeneff, according to the Moscow Pravda, explained that the export of grain had been stopped because the Government must control the bread prices and interior markets in the coming winter, enabling the city population to continue the purchase of black bread, which is their main source of sustenance.

This is the first intimation that the Bolshevists have decided not to fulfil the export programme outlined by Krassin, Commissar of Foreign Trade, who announced that Russia would export more than two million tons of grain to Europe in the coming winter. Last year huge Russian exports had a disastrous effect upon foreign grain prices, the Bolshevists underselling foreign growers at every opportunity. Because the Russian grain supply is now definitely shut off, grain prices are expected to again increase in the world's markets, according to the Soviet economists, who announce that Russia may take advantage of the high prices to unload grain reserves next spring.

In contrast with the report of a month ago, the Soviet Press admits that the bad harvest has played havoc with Russia's grain export plan. Unless the Soviet Government is able to increase its exports and other products it is admitted that the present artificially stabilised currency will be endangered, and may collapse.

MORE MONEY FOR HOUSES.

vested with power to override local bodies with the direct consent of the Government; and, thirdly, that its main energies should be devoted to evolving and preparing the way for a permanent co-ordinating authority.

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE.

One way of eliminating the absurdity of detailed management, which might be worth mentioning, though he could quote no municipal precedent for its adoption, was the application of parliamentary practice to municipal affairs. Under its operation a civic Parliament would be elected for Greater Dublin. The Lord Mayor, acting as Civic Prime Minister, would nominate his departmental deputies, who would become responsible for the administrative work of their various departments. The Lord Mayor, as chairman of an executive consisting of three ministers would then exercise effective co-ordinating control of all departments. There were obvious weaknesses and dangers in such a scheme. He only mentioned it as being worth consideration, and reserved his right to offer opposition to it, if, and when, it might be proposed in authoritative quarters.

In conclusion, Mr. Aston said that method was important, and the machinery was indispensable, but there could be no real progress without hard thinking, hard work, human sympathy, and willingness to make personal sacrifices.

"While we study methods and evolve our machinery," he said, "do not let us for one moment lose sight of the great human element in our problem. While deriving hope and inspiration from our great traditions, let us not forget that Dublin to-day means poverty and suffering and degradation to tens of thousands of her citizens. While having our civic pride stirred by the achievements of our ancestors, and our ambitions quickened by thoughts of nobler buildings and greater thoroughfares, let us keep the awful picture of Dublin's slum tenements and its squalor clearly before our eyes. While we strive to make Dublin as beautiful as its surroundings, let us remember that pure milk, good food—and the means to purchase them—are essential parts of the foundations of the structure at which we aim. National enthusiasm, civic pride, shame, ambition, sympathy for the suffering mass of our citizens, and visions of a better city—these must all play their part if our efforts are to succeed. Without them we shall only, at best, produce a beautiful corpse!" (Applause.)

The chairman congratulated Mr. Aston on his masterly paper.

PURCHASE SCHEME FOR TENANTS.

The Conference later heard a paper by the President (Alderman Hadden) on "Purchase Scheme for Tenants of Existing Houses."

The President stated that the paper was based upon the experience of the Wexford Corporation.

Starting with the assumption that the goal was to induce the tenant to become a tenant purchaser, Alderman Hadden said that it must be remembered that, where houses were provided previous to the great war, they were built at pre-war prices for labour, materials and the cost of money. These houses to-day are worth two or three times the original cost, with the result that the Councils have in them a property of great value, amounting in the aggregate to hundreds of thousands of pounds.

The tenants have for a period of years, long or short as the case may be, enjoyed possession of these houses on very favourable terms, and the rents charged in some cases were so small as actually not to cover the outgoings in the first years after their erection. These tenants, therefore, while they should be treated most generously, should not be allowed to absorb all the benefit secured by the fortunate speculation of the Councils, but should be required to share these benefits with the next batch of tenants, who will have to occupy houses built under modern conditions at greatly increased rents.

TERMS OF PURCHASE.

Explaining the course adopted in Wexford, Alderman Hadden said that the houses were offered to the tenants for the payment of their weekly rents, for the balance of the period for which the original loan had been secured. The rents had been slightly increased on two occasions in order to meet the increase of rates. Provision was made to meet the case of those who wished to pay a larger rent, and thus become the owners of their houses within a shorter period. One tenant who had been 25 years in his house considered that he had paid the cost of the house twice over, but he overlooked the cost of rates and expenses.

To meet this sort of objection, the cost of one batch of houses, built 25 years ago, was carefully gone into. These houses cost £110 0s. 0d. each to build, and the rent, originally fixed at 2s. 6d., had been raised twice by 2d. per week, thus bringing the current rent up to 2s. 10d. It was found that the 10d. goes for rates, collection of rent, insurance and administrative expenses, thus leaving a net revenue to the Corporation of 2s. per week, or £5 4s. 0d. per annum, out of which has to be paid the interest and sinking fund of the original loan.

As regards rates, the proposal was that the current year's level of rates should be taken as a standard, and that the tenants should pay any future increase above this, in the shape of increased rent, and get the advantage of any reduction which may be made from time to time, thus giving the tenant a distinct interest in the economic administration and the keeping down of rates. Some supervision would have to be exercised over the houses to see that they were kept in a proper state of repair, and it would be necessary to have a legal document duly executed in order to convey these houses to the tenant.

It was suggested that a tenant under ten years' standing should be credited only with the number of years for which he has actually paid rent, and that one who had been more than ten years in occupation should be placed on the same terms as the original tenant, and as though he had paid the full number of instalments on foot of the loan.

AN IDEAL SCHEME.

An ideal scheme would also secure an advantage to the prospective tenants of the next batch of houses. This advantage was gained by the fact that in the twenty-five year old houses referred to the actual interest and sinking fund now to be paid only amounts to £3 18s. 6d., while the rent received is £5 4s. per annum, thus showing a present profit of £1 5s., which increases year by year until at the end of the twenty-fourth year it would amount to £3 2s. 7d. The urban authority should be required to keep separate housing accounts, and to use the whole of this profit balance year by year, together with the amount that is available for each under the Clancy Act, for the benefit of future housing schemes.

The President said that the Government wanted very little urging to adopt the principles laid down in that paper, and were practically prepared to sanction them. The deputation which had been appointed to see the President that evening would, he took it, deal chiefly with urging the Government to introduce a new housing bill during this autumn session, and he thought it would be well to discuss this question with them also.

Mr. Forsyth said that they were only on the fringe of the housing question. An immense amount of work still remained to be done, both by the Government and by local councils, and he suggested that the formation of guilds in municipal areas would be worth consideration.

Alderman Kelleher (Cork) advocated Government subsidies to local authorities to meet the national necessity for housing.

Mr. Downing (Queenstown) said that the present method of construction tended to hamper housing schemes.

After some further discussion, the following resolution was passed, on the motion of Mr. McGahan (Dundalk), seconded by Mr. McNamara (Clare):—

"That we approve of the principle of house purchase outlined in Alderman Hadden's paper, and we commend that principle to the consideration of the Urban Districts of Ireland, details of the scheme being subject to variation to meet local circumstances. Further, that the scheme be submitted to the Local Government Department for approval of the principle contained in it."

A vote of thanks to the President and to the secretaries concluded the proceedings.

INTERVIEW WITH THE PRESIDENT.

In the evening a deputation, headed by the Chairman, Alderman Hadden, interviewed President Cosgrave on the question of housing. It is understood that a satisfactory understanding was arrived at, which will mean more powers, and money will be given for local schemes. The State, it is understood, will be disposed to finance to a greater extent than hitherto, with necessary reservations.

GREAT BRITAIN AND RUSSIA.

DRAFT OF THE PROPOSED TREATY.

CLAIMS RESERVED FOR DISCUSSION.

The text was issued last night of a draft of the proposed general Treaty between Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, as it stood when negotiations were suspended on August 5, 1924.

Among a number of treaties to be recognised by the two parties as having lost their force, the first on the list is that of the Marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh at St. Petersburg on January 22, 1874.

Provisions contained in an annex to Article 5 were for the regulation, as between the contracting parties, of fishery in waters contiguous to the Northern coasts of the territory of the Union.

Article 6 reads—"In pursuance of the declaration annexed to the Trade Agreement of the 16th March, 1921, the Government of the Union declare that, by way of exception to the decree of the 28th January, 1918—concerning the annulment of debts of the former Imperial and Provisional Governments—will satisfy, in the conditions prescribed by the present Treaty, the claims of British holders of loans issued or taken over or guaranteed by the former Imperial Russian Government, or by the municipalities of towns in the territory now included in the Union, payable in foreign currency.

"After negotiations between the parties concerned, the terms on which the claims referred to in the preceding paragraph shall be satisfied will form the subject of an agreement with His Britannic Majesty's Government, which will be included in the Treaty referred to in Article 13, provided that His Britannic Majesty's Government are satisfied that such terms have been accepted by the holders of not less than one-half of the capital values of British holdings in the loans referred to in the Article."

The draft of the proposed General Treaty continues:—

"Article 7.—The Government of His Britannic Majesty recognise that the financial and economic position of the Union renders impracticable the full satisfaction of the claims referred to in Article 6.

"Article 8.—The Government of the Union agree to meet the claims referred to in Article 6, in respect of holdings by British subjects or companies, other than holdings which were acquired by purchase since 16th March, 1921, and were in other than British ownership on that date."

"Article 9.—All questions connected with the claims of the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics against the Government of His Britannic Majesty, or with the claims of the Government of His Britannic Majesty against the Government of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics arising out of events which took place between the 4th August, 1914, and the 1st February, 1924, are reserved for discussion at a later date."

Article 18 reads:—"The contracting parties solemnly affirm their desire and intention to live in peace and amity with each other, scrupulously to respect the undoubted right of a State to order its own life, within its own jurisdiction, in its own way, to refrain and to restrain all persons and organisations under their direct or indirect control, including organisations in receipt of any financial assistance from them, from any act, overt or covert, liable in any way whatsoever to endanger the tranquillity or prosperity of any part of the territory of the British Empire or the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, or intended to embitter the relations of the British Empire or the Union with their neighbours, or any other countries."

TREATIES CONDEMNED.

VIEWS OF LONDON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Russian section of the London Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted a resolution disapproving the Russian Treaties and the guarantee of a loan. The proposed Treaties, it declared, by recognising the Russian State monopoly of import and export trade, deprived British manufacturers and merchants of all possibility of British commercial and industrial relations with Russia. The diplomatic privileges for the Russian Trading Department deprived British traders of legal recourse, in the event of default, and the Treaties established a dangerous precedent by condoning a State's repudiation of foreign debts.

SIR JOHN SIMON'S PROTEST.

Speaking at Cleckheaton last night, Sir John Simon said that the dropping of the recent Communist prosecution called for a full explanation from the Government. If it were true that the prosecution was abandoned through Labour pressure, it would be a shocking example of class favouritism.

Regarding the proposed Russian loan, he asked if it was not probable that Russia would leave the guarantor to pay the interest, and tell us to set it off against their prodigious bill for damage from British intervention. Parliament should not allow calculations of party tactics and embarrassments to lead it to ratify what it did not really approve.

MR. TREVELYAN'S APPROVAL.

Speaking last night at Newcastle-on-Tyne, Mr. Trevelyan, British Minister of Education, said that the Conservatives and Liberials at present apparently intended to reject the Russian Treaty. The most prominent person leading the hustle against it was Mr. Lloyd George, backed by the Federation of British Industries. If the Government were not allowed to make the Treaty there would not be another chance for ten or fifteen years, for Russia would not make one with the Conservatives and Liberials. She would turn to other countries—France, Italy, and Japan—who were ready to step in, in order to get Russian trade.

We wanted, and intended, to be friends with the Russian people.

GEORGIAN REVOLUTION.

STORY OF A PRETENCE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

TREBIZOND, Wednesday.

The extraordinary fact that the Bolshevists themselves started the revolution in Georgia has just been revealed here, according to high official sources. The complete story of this Bolshevist Machiavellism is told in confidential despatches, which the secret revolutionary organisation at Tiflis, managed to smuggle to the Georgian Committee in Turkey, and which Turkish reports corroborate.

The Moscow Government was stricken with fright over the prospect of a widespread revolution in the Caucasus, and decided that it could not afford to wait for the revolution to develop, but that the Che-ka and the Allied intelligence organisation must immediately provoke an abortive revolution in Georgia, particularly because Turkey would not dare to encourage the revolutionists with the Mosul question in a critical stage, and its possible loss to Turkey, threatening trouble among the Kurds.

The Che-ka agents were unable to enter the real revolutionary organisation, which has existed since the Bolshevists crushed Georgia in March, 1921. They, therefore, created their own pretended revolutionary movement. The Red troops crushed the artificial revolution quickly enough, but the real revolutionary organisation saw a long chance of upsetting the Soviet power, and took it.

Even though defeated in the open, the real revolutionists have at last forced the Red staff to strip troops from all fronts and send them to the Caucasus, and have started a guerilla warfare in the mountains of Georgia, which will make enormous difficulties for the Soviet administration.

LIFFEY POWER SCHEMES.

benefit to the greatest number of people in its district.

THE SHANNON SCHEME.

He looked upon the Liffey scheme as the first instalment of hydro-electric enterprise in Ireland on a large scale. He had the greatest possible interest in the Shannon development. The Water Power Committee in their report had clearly enunciated the fact that it was their aim and object to unite in one combined scheme, if possible the whole hydro-electric works in the country, so that they should be able to interlink and help one another in the various needs that might arise. He looked on a linking up of the Shannon, the Erne, the Liffey and the Boyne as one of the most advantageous combinations that could be carried out. He did not regard the Shannon as one of the most pressing needs to be developed, but he thought it should be begun on the lines laid down in the report of the Water Power Resources Committee. Their suggestion was that the lower portion of the Shannon should be treated in steps and in detail—three or four barrages erected across the river, which could be developed gradually as need required, and with their united falls would give a better result than any single falls that could be proposed. He had great hopes that that recommendation would be carried out. He had no idea what the Siemens-Schuckert report proposed, but he hoped that the scheme on the Shannon, which must eventually be required, would be carried out on those lines.

As regards the Erne, which was a most promising river for hydro-electric purposes, it was regrettable that the scheme was brought to an end through the wretched differences between North and South. The rain fell in Ulster; the power stations would be in Southern Ireland; and that might be a cause of continued contention. He hoped, instead of that, that hydro-electric development in Ireland might be a means of uniting them in one great community for utilising all the various powers at their disposal for the good of the country and the wealth of its people. (Applause.)

80,000 FARMERS COMBINE.

MODERN METHODS IN ALSACE-LORRAINE.

By Walter Meakin

(Who has just returned from a tour of Alsace-Lorraine).

The type and methods of the agricultural co-operative societies of Alsace-Lorraine have been determined by the circumstances and needs of the farmers, who are for the most part "petits agriculteurs," corresponding as nearly as may be to the Danish small-holding proprietors. I was told that the proportion of holders with not more than 10 or 15 acres is as high as 75 per cent.

The variety of cultivation may be observed comprehensively in the Alsatian plain—the narrow strip of almost self-contained territory lying between the Vosges mountains and the Rhine. The homesteads are clustered in villages, so that there are few isolated farmhouses. The land, which is rarely fenced, is cultivated in rotation strips.

Vine gardens are numerous, and the general field crops include all cereals, including maize, potatoes, roots for cattle feeding, sugar beet, tobacco, hops and green forage. Tree fruits and strawberries are grown extensively, and vegetables are produced in large quantities. Dairying is, in the main, a secondary activity, and in the breeding of cows a type has been evolved which is equally useful for milking and haulage.

UP-TO-DATE FARMING.

Horse breeding for farm work and military purposes is an important side line. As a result of the educational work of the co-operative societies the results of scientific research are applied in practical work by these peasant farmers to a remarkable extent, and the purchase and distribution of fertilisers constitutes an important part of the business of the marketing societies.

From this brief description it will be readily understood that credit is a vital factor, as the smallholder's capital is limited. It was natural that when these men decided to co-operate their minds should turn to a credit organisation as a means of freeing themselves from the incubus of the usurers.

Year by year the need for funds to tide them over the period between the purchase of seeds and fertilisers and the sale of the crops is experienced, and the need becomes still more urgent when an effort is made to improve yield and quality by purchasing the best strains of seed or plants, by using larger quantities of fertilisers, and by obtaining the best implements.

EASY LOANS.

Being in the sphere of German influence, also, it was natural that the Raiffeisen type of loan and savings credit society should be chosen. It is a type specially suited to the needs of small men with no surplus capital to invest. The societies must be small and open only to members within a limited area. The loans are not large, but they are often granted with little other security than the good name of the lender.

All the members pledge themselves on the principle of unlimited liability, to make good the obligations of the society. This gives confidence to the depositors, whose savings provide most of the funds for lending, and it induces caution in the allocation of the loans. It also enables a society to carry on with very little share capital.

Under the conditions in Alsace-Lorraine this system has been entirely successful. Under British conditions a different type of credit organisation is clearly needed, just as in Denmark the credit co-operatives work on other lines.

FROM SMALL BEGINNINGS.

The fifteen societies formed in 1882 had increased to 219 in 1892, to 415 in 1902, to 658 with 69,000 members in 1912, and to 712 with 76,000 members in 1922.

This indicates the revolutionary character of the movement, and the hold it has now gained may be realised from the fact that over a wide area four-fifths of the villages possess a co-operative credit society.

The whole co-operative structure has been erected on this foundation. The first step was taken when the societies, deeming it necessary to establish their financial security by promoting in every possible way the prosperity of their members, set about the task of organising collective sales and purchases by establishing complementary societies for this purpose.

The problem that had to be solved was how to dispose of the miscellaneous products mentioned above. There was no question of bulk manufacture, as in Denmark. Grading, and marketing without the intervention of superfluous intermediaries, constituted the business of the new societies.

Great opposition from the vested interests had to be overcome in the early stages. Mistakes were made in the formation and administration of some of the societies—a salutary experience which some of the pioneers in this country have had recently. These temporary set-backs really had the effect of strengthening the movement. The causes of the failures were discovered, so that they could be avoided, and the result has been seen in continued progress during the five difficult years since the end of the war.

GERMAN MILITARY DOCUMENTS.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

By Article 178 of the Treaty of Versailles, the Inter-Allied Military Mission demanded the destruction of all existing documents, lists, muster rolls, etc., in the possession of the civil authorities which might possibly facilitate recruiting or any mobilisation measures. The Prussian Minister of the Interior has issued the required instructions to the officials of the departments concerned for the compliance with this order as speedily as possible, and commands that reports on the subject shall be sent to him by the middle of next month. The documents that are to be destroyed comprise such as relate to the recruiting and mobilisation of civilians drawn up before or during the war, and also the muster rolls of the Landwehr and Landstrum categories.—(Reuter.)

SHANGHAI, Wednesday.

The prediction that the Che-kiangese, in getting rid of Lu Yung-hsiang as Military Governor, will find themselves out of the frying pan into the fire is justified. General Pan Kuo-kang, commander of the native Che-kiangese divisions, whose revolt caused Lu's retirement, declares that he will never accept Sun Chuan-fang, who is Pekin's nominee for the Tuchunship. There are also two Kiang-su claimants. The political destinies of the province are in a state of the utmost confusion, but with troops of the provinces of Honan, Shantung, and Wei Fukien and Hupeh, besides the Che-kiangese soldiers actually in, or menacing, the province, Che-kiang's condition promises to rival that of Kwangtung, where Sun Yat-sen is dependent on the support of outside forces, mainly Yunnanese, and his authority is disputed by rivals. Already Huchow has been looted, and bandits, as usual, are reported to be rising in the rear of the troops. So far as can be gathered, the foreign communities are safe, but news is uncertain owing to the slowness of communications, and their position cannot be viewed without anxiety.—(The Times Correspondent.)

SUN YAT-SEN'S PARTY.

ATTITUDE TOWARDS FOREIGN POPULATION.

SHANGHAI (By Mail).

The Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang (Republican Party of which Dr. Sun Yat-Sen is President) has issued an order to its members in Shanghai referring to a "letter dated June 20th of the Chairman of the Municipal Council of the International Settlement of Shanghai, in reply to the Senior Consul, indicating an intention on the part of the Council, at the instigation of the illegal Government of Pekin, to take action detrimental to the party."

The letter suggests that the Kuomintang should rescind its standing orders prohibiting anti-foreignism and refrain, as in the days before the Boxer rising, from interfering with the activities of the secret societies, and advocates the encouragement of a general strike in the foreign settlement.

The Kuomintang declines to entertain such proposals and issues an order declaring that, while it is the duty of this party to make China a really independent and sovereign State, it regards all narrow and violent anti-foreign sentiment as harmful to society and the world at large, and detrimental to the complete independence and equality of the Chinese State and race. For this reason the party has always strongly exerted itself in suppressing such tendencies.

The Order remarks that during the last thirteen years the Northern militarists, having usurped the Pekin Government, have not hesitated to work in league with the Imperialistic Powers, and to sell the country in order to further their selfish aims.

The Order denounces the growth of secret societies in the militaristic North, and declares that the Kuomintang's mission is to continue to discountenance all barbarous anti-foreign acts. The Kuomintang will maintain its policy of international friendliness even should misguided foreigners support the Pekin Government, and cannot entertain the proposal to encourage a general strike in the foreign settlement, as it is too drastic. It appeals to the municipal authorities in the international settlement not to side with the Pekin Government and depart from the policy of neutrality, and to members of the party to maintain an attitude of calmness and patience and await further instructions.—(Reuter.)

LOOS MEMORIAL.

UNVEILING CEREMONY.

The monument in memory of the British and French soldiers who fell in the battle, and of the non-combatants killed by the Germans, was unveiled last Sunday at Loos, the scene of so much fighting during the War. The memorial, erected in the Place de la République, consists of a block of stone bearing the names of those who died for their country, surmounted by a bronze sculptured group, consisting of a draped figure, representing Peace leading an innocent child and hiding the horrors of war from its view, the work of the well-known French artist, M. Pourquet. The architectural design of the whole is by M. Feuillard, who is to be congratulated on the result. At the base of the monument is placed a bronze plaque bearing a representation of a pit-head and a Highland soldier, with the words "Remember September, 1915—September, 1924."

After the solemn ceremony of reading the names of the dead, while the village children scattered flowers round the monument, and the playing of the Dead March by the assembled bands of the adjacent villages, speeches were made by M. Landy, the Mayor, and M. Hay, Chairman of the Memorial Committee. The Mayor then called upon Major Binnie, M.C., of the International Graves' Commission, who was in command of the troops which re-captured the town from the Germans, and M. L. A. Legros, representing the Societé des Ingenieurs Civils de France, the British section of which, on the suggestion of the late Mr. Slogg, then Secretary, had adopted the town, to speak. M. Mies, deputé of the Pas-de-Calais, the miners' representative, delivered an eloquent address.

A short religious service was followed by the British National Anthem and the Marseillaise.

HURRICANE IN FRANCE.

RAILWAY ENGINE DISAPPEARS IN TORRENT.

PARIS, Wednesday.

An extremely violent storm burst yesterday evening in the Avignon district, seriously damaging the permanent way of the Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean line, while many telegraph posts were swept away. The railway station at Orange was flooded to a depth of two feet, and two subsidences occurred seven miles further down the line. All trains from Paris to Marseilles were run via Carpentras. The traffic was stopped after midnight near Lardoise on the Lyons-Nimes line, owing to slight subsidences. No casualities among passengers in the trains are reported, but one of the locomotives disappeared in a torrent, and up to the present there is no news of the personnel. Bad weather still continues, but the company hopes to be able to re-establish the service in twenty-four hours.

Owing to the partial breakdown of telegraphic facilities between Paris, Lyons, and Marseilles, the authorities chartered an aeroplane at 2.10 p.m. to-day with a thousand telegrams from Le Bourget to Marseilles. The machine will land at Lyons, and is expected at Marseilles about seven o'clock.—(Reuter.)

FLOODS IN FINLAND.

HELSINGFORS, Wednesday.

Strong winds, reaching almost a gale in force, have caused the water to rise rapidly in the eastern part of the Gulf of Finland. Reports received here yesterday show that the water level is higher than at any time during the last hundred years, reaching from 140 to 300 centimetres. Floods have occurred in Kotka and Viborg, which caused considerable damage.—(Reuter.)

NIPPON YUSEN KAISHA LINE STAFF TROUBLE.

The directors' meeting of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Shipping Line, which was to have taken place to-day, has been postponed till next Friday. In the meantime, prominent shareholders are attempting mediation with the dissatisfied faction who, though they have tendered their resignations, are attending to their duties as usual.—(Reuter.)

WHEAT opened irregular, ⅛c. up to ⅛c. down. Values declined owing to larger country offerings, increased North-West receipts and commission house selling, but rallied later on rumours of export business, strength of outside markets and buying by cash houses. GERMANY'S TEN POINTS.

WHEN SHE WILL JOIN THE LEAGUE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BERLIN, Wednesday.

The German Government is despatching a memorandum to the ten nations represented on the Council of the League of Nations, giving ten points that Germany wants cleared up before joining the League.

The first three points are the absolute conditions to which Germany demands a favourable reply; otherwise she will not join the League. The other seven points are Germany's wishes and hopes.

The following are the three so-called conditions sine qua non in the ten-point memorandum sent to the various Governments:—

(1) Germany will never again admit its sole responsibility for starting the war.

(2) Germany demands a seat on the League Council as well as the Secretariat.

(3) Germany will not be a member of the Executive Council.

In other words Germany claims neutrality similar to Switzerland in the future, so that if the League uses its armies to conquer a war-provoking nation Germany will not send its quota of troops, nor will it give the League Army any right to cross Germany territory.

Among the seven remaining points which classified as "wishes" as distinguished from "demands" the following are the three most important:—

Wish 1—Earlier evacuation of the Ruhr than is provided in the London Pact, which is one year.

Wish 2—Germany desires to regain her Colonial interests, therefore hopes the League will give her mandates over her former colonies.

Wish 3—Germany wishes other nations to get a favourable hearing regarding joining the League of Nations—this is taken to indicate Russia, not America.

Of the absolute conditions for joining the League Germany again proposes self-whitewash on the war guilt question, which is against the expressed official desire of Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, as well as others who want to see Germany join. This condition is so worded, moreover, that it really includes a request that the Versailles Treaty as well as the League Statutes should be re-written. Such action would actually absolve Germany from the payment of reparations and of carrying out the Dawes plan once the world admitted that Germany was not guilty.

Point 3 is regarded here as the most important. It means that Germany wants all the privileges of the League without rendering the greatest—namely, military aid. Germany wants to remain unbound to future League wars, the same as the United States.

Of the "wishes," it is known that Dr. Nansen has already promised immediate evacuation instead of one year evacuation of the Ruhr should Germany accept the invitation to join the League. But the Colonial rights question may stir up a hornet's nest in England. It is understood that Great Britain is greatly displeased with this question, which was tried out on England in a series of questions previous to yesterday's meeting of the German Cabinet. Lord d'Abernon, the British Ambassador, is believed to have given the coldest reply to the suggestion, expressing regret that Germany saw fit to unearth the colony mandate question. Meanwhile, a new campaign is under way in Germany for the restoration of its Colonies.

The other "wishes" are regarded as unimportant. The German Nationalist Press today is rejoicing that Germany has thrown aside the plan to join the League, whereas the pacifist Press is rejoicing that Germany has decided to join—with reservations.

OTTAWA, Wednesday.

It is announced by the Marine Department that, as a result of negotiations with British ships, a wave length of 450 metres must no longer be used within 250 miles of the coasts of Canada or Newfoundland. Canadian ships must refrain from using the same wave length at the same distance from the coast of the British Isles. Great Britain, the announcement adds, undertakes to persuade Continental countries to take similar action.—(Reuter.)

SHORTHORN DAIRY CATTLE

SHOW AND SALE AT CORK.

FIRST-RATE DISPLAY.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

CORK, Wednesday.

There were a hundred entries for the second annual show and sale of the Cork County Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society to-day, in the Munster Agricultural Society's show grounds, Cork. As there are 90 registered dairy bulls in the county and over 2,500 registered dairy cows, the Society felt that an outlet should be provided for surplus stock through an annual show and sale. Hence the establishment of this fixture, which promises to be an important factor in the development of dairy cattle.

Hand in hand with the increase in dairy cattle societies, the quality of stock in County Cork has made a rapid advance. Naturally enough, breeders are supplying their own requirements first. Thus the number of animals for sale is still comparatively small, but as this sale becomes established supplies will gradually increase. The cattle forward yesterday were highly meritorious. Most of them, however, were retained by their owners, bids not coming up to expectations.

There was a small, but business-like attendance.

The Show Committee comprises officers of the various district branches in County Cork, and is presided over by Captain T. A. Clarke, with Mr. T. O'Sullivan as Chairman; Mr. D. White, Vice-Chairman; Mr. J. Barry, Treasurer, and Mr. J. D. Murphy, Hon. Secretary.

The work of adjudication was entrusted to Messrs. R. Lynch, Department of Agriculture; Nicholas Fitzgerald, Bonmahon, Co. Waterford, and F. N. Greene, Cappamorra, Dundrum, Co. Tipperary.

CUP AND PRIZE WINNERS.

Members of the North Cork Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Association won their own cup for three bulls from any one district in the county. The winning exhibits were Mr. T. Kelleher's Dromore Monarch, Mr. D. O'Connor's Cloughduv Nestor, and Mr. B. Bolster's Royal Archer. North Cork also won the Sutton Cup for three registered dairy cows from any one district in the county. The winners were Mr. W. O'Callaghan's Robo, Mr. D. O'Connor's Holland, and Mr. John Watson's Clarina. Cork District Branch was reserved. The Lucey and O'Connell Cup, for a group of three heifers, was won by the Cork District Branch, North Cork exhibits being reserved; while the Atkins Cup, for bull calves, also went to Cork District. The Examiner Cup, for the best non-pedigree registered cow and two of her female progeny, went to Mr. D. Hutch, for Rathdare Red Wing, Mr. W. O'Callaghan's Cloughduv II. being reserved.

There was a remarkably fine turn-out in the class for pure-bred registered dairy bulls, any ages. Here premier honour went to Mr. Timothy Kelleher's Dromore Monarch, a shapely, dark red two-year-old of great scale, by Clipper Monarch. Mr. D. O'Connor's level, well-balanced roan, Cloughduv Nestor, by Baron Romulus, was second; and Mrs. H. C. Scriven's Melleray Monarch, a good coloured roan, by Scrahan, was third. Fourth prize and the Captain Clarke Cup were won by Mr. John Leahy's Cloughduv Red Baron, by Baron Romulus, while Mr. M. Herlihy's Conqueror's Crown, by Nonpareil, was fifth and Mr. B. Bolster's Royal Archer reserved. The class for non-pedigree registered dairy bulls was cancelled for lack of support.

An exceedingly high level of merit was attained in the class for registered dairy cows, over £50 valuation. Out of the fourteen entries, Mr. T. O'Sullivan's Favourite, a level, deep barrelled red and white, with a milk record of 1,134 gallons for 45 weeks, was first. Mr. W. O'Callaghan was second with Robo, a fine roomy red, with a milk yield of 980lb. in 44 weeks. Mr. D. O'Connor was third with Holland, an 800 gallon roan, that shows great symmetry. Mr. John Watson's Clarina, first at Ballsbridge, was here only fourth. She is a fine cow, and gave 945 lb. of milk in 36 weeks. Mr. E. J. Clarke's thousand gallon red roan, Rita, was fifth, and Mr. W. O'Callaghan's 960-gallon Cloughdrin II. reserve. For registered dairy cows, not exceeding £50 valuation, Mr. Henry Applebe secured first prize, the champion silver medal and the M'Mullan special with Primrose 2nd, a big framed roan of great symmetry, by Kilfrush Prince. Her milk record for last year was 1,100 gallons, and she has a fine udder. Mr. M. Santry was second with Castlefreke Favourite, a red and white three-year-old, with a milk record of 904 gallons. Mr. James Barry's Sycamore, a 1,152 gallon red and white, of nice shapes, was third, and Mr. P. J. Halliden's Colleen Bawn 3rd was fourth.

Eight entries made up the class for two-year-old dairy heifers, and premier honour, as well as reserve for the White, Tomkins and Courage special prize went to Mr. Timothy O'Sullivan a roan Bunny 25th, a red by Baron Romulus. Mr. Daniel Hutch, V.S., was second with the well-bred dark roan Rathclare Treaty, by Ashgrove Ruth's Heir; while Lord Barrymore was third with Fota Wild Delilah, a nice roan by Marlands Duke 3rd. Mr. John Forrest's Hetty, a roan by Loobagh Baron 8th, was fourth, and Mr. John Leahy's White Rose by Bessborough Garsman was reserved.

YEARLING DAIRY HEIFERS.

Great promise was shown by the yearling dairy heifers (over £50 valuation). Here, out of sixteen entries, Lord Barrymore came to victory with the attractive roan Fota Wild Marchioness 3rd. This youngster fills the eye well; she won the White, Tomkins special, besides being reserved for the champion silver medal. Second prize was taken by Mr. T. O'Sullivan's Cloughduv Rowena 4th, a nice compact red by Loobagh Ringer 4th. Third place was filled by Mr. D. Hutch's Rathclare Blue, a shapely roan by Ashgrove Ruth's Heir. Mr. John Leahy's Red Rose, a fine looking red by Cloughduv Red Baron was fourth, and Miss Grace Montgomery's Broomhill Sog Feire reserve. For yearling heifers (not exceeding £50 valuation), Mr. John Santry took the lead with Tulligeasky Laurel, a choice roan by Farran Warden. Mr. Michael Coleman's Dolly Deans by Caragh Lord Deans was second, and Mr. Santry's Tullincasky Duchess third, her herd companion, Frolic, being fourth, and Tullineasky Mermaid reserved.

For heifer calves (over £50 valuation), Lord Barrymore took first prize, the committee's gold medal for the best animal in the yard, and a White, Tomkins and Courage special, with Fota Melody, a red and white of great symmetry and substance, by Marlands Duke, out of Fota Harmony 6th. Mr. T. O'Sullivan's Cloughduv Rowena 5th was second, and his Cloughduv Countess 3rd third. Mr. John Leahy's Red Hall was fourth, and Mrs. Lady Tyner reserved. In the small valuation class for heifer calves, Mr. M. Twomey was first with Princess of Belvelly, Mr. John Santry's Tullineasky Tulip second, Mr. C. Cremin's Darlington's Dairymaid third, and Mr. John Twomey's Blossom fourth.

There were 15 competitors, and the awards were:—First, Michael Verling, Cobh; 2nd, John Barrow, Lombardstown; 3rd and 4th (tied), Denis Philpott, Kanturk, and T. MOUNTBELLEW.

ENCOURAGING ENTRIES.

The Mountbellew Agricultural Show yesterday was favoured with good weather and a large attendance. The entries were numerous, the exhibits numbering upwards of 1,000. The district being largely agricultural, the exhibits in the agricultural and home industries sections were very creditable. Horses, however, were weak alike in number and in quality. The weakness was observable particularly in the classes for agricultural horses registered under the Department's scheme. Only one of the two stallions entered was found eligible.

In the general classes for agricultural horses there was a fairly good exhibit. Mrs. John Kitt, Moylough, got first prizes in the brood mare and yearling classes, the principal other prize winners being Mr. Francis Bellew, Vermount; Mr. Patrick Conniff, Greenville; Mr. Thomas Cheevers, Moylough; Lieutenant-Colonel Grattan Bellew, and Mr. M. Higgins, Springlawn.

In the hunter classes there was very little competition. Lieutenant-Colonel Grattan Bellew won the first prize for hunters over three years old with a very promising four-year-old.

Cattle, while much better than those shown for the past two years, were not a very strong feature, there being notable exceptions, however, in the prize winners, and also in the yearlings and two-year-olds, cross-bred Herefords being particularly good. In this section Mr. John Cunningham, Rushestown, Mountbellew, was awarded four first and two second prizes, Lieutenant-Colonel Grattan Bellew obtained three firsts and three seconds. Other first prize winners in the section were the Agricultural College, Mountbellew; the Rev. Father Ryan, Moylough; Messrs. John Fitzmaurice, Ballygar; Thomas Healy, Loughill; Joseph Higgins, Woodlawn; John Dolan, Tycooley; James Haverty, Springlawn; John Tuneston, Mountbellew; Richard Cotter, Castlehlakeney; T. D. Stephenson, Mountbellew; John Hughes, Caranveg; Mrs. Lohan, Moylough.

SHEEP.

Sheep were a fair class all round, though not to be put on a line with the true Roscommon breed, and in this section the necessity of the efforts being made to produce a breed suitable to lands not fit to support Roscommons, styled Galway sheep, was evident.

In Roscommon ram lambs Mr. John Fitzmaurice, Killaghton, obtained first prize, and he also got first for Roscommon ewe hoggets. Other first prize winners in the ewe hoggets and lambs of this breed were Mr. O'Grady, Cooloo; Mr. Thomas Mannion, Castlehlakeney; Mr. Joseph Higgins, Woodlawn.

In short-woolled sheep, Mr. N. O'C. Comyn obtained first prize for an Oxford Down ram bred by Mr. Kilroy, Oldcastle, and also for a pen of three ewe hoggets bred by Mr. E. Bothwell, Bellinasloe, the other first prize winner being Mr. M. Moran, Mountbellew.

It is in cross-poultry, farm and dairy produce and the handicraft and industrial sections that Mountbellew Show excels. The district is mainly agricultural and industrial. The exhibits sent in were large in numbers and of very good quality.

Poultry was a strong feature, as were potatoes, roots and cereals. The excellence of the exhibits, considering the season, was really creditable. First prize winners in poultry included Mrs. Coyne, Ballinderry; Mrs. Mellow, Gurteen; Mrs. Greany, Colemanstown; Mrs. Dooley, Clonberne Park; and in dairy produce Mrs. Corbett, Newcastle; Mrs. Sullivan, Carrownagapple. In home produce, Mrs. Wall, Mountbellew; Miss Noone, Lakeview; Miss Fahy, Mountbellew; Mrs. M. J. Moran, Miss Keogh, Mrs. Coffey, Miss Burke, Moylough; Mrs. Bannerton, Mountbellew, were first prize winners.

A notable feature of the show was an educational exhibit organised by the Rev. Brother Joseph Daly.

Butter-making was conducted by Miss M. A. Coyne.

There was a good exhibit of farming implements and machinery.

DRIVING AND JUMPING.

The ground for the jumping and driving competitions was in a really swampy condition. In the driving competition for horses and cobs over 14.2, Mrs. J. J. Elder, Kellysgrove, Ballinasloe, obtained first prize with her beautiful hackney mare, the Rev. Dr. Kelly, Elfert, Ballygar, being second, and Mr. Gardiner, Knockbrack, third.

For cobs and ponies not exceeding 14½ hands, the Rev. M. J. O'Reilly came first with a very handsome turn-out, Mr. M. O'Grady, Cooloo, being second.

Under the conditions prevailing, with horses sinking ankle-deep, the jumping competitions were well contested, and there were some very good displays.

Class A—1, Miss A. M. Harvie, Turin Castle, Hollymount; 2, Mr. Gerald Conroy, Ballinasloe; 3, Mrs. Mills McDonnell, Ballygalda.

Class C—1, Miss A. M. Harvie; 2, Mrs. Mills McDonnell; 3, Mr. Gerald Conroy.

Class E—Champion Wall—1, Mr. Gerald Conroy; 2, Miss A. Grattan Bellew; 3, Miss A. M. Harvie.

Class F—1, Miss A. Grattan Bellew; 2, Mr. F. McDonnagh, Moyne Hill, Headford; 3, Mrs. Mills McDonnell.

ROADSIDE ROBBERY.

ARMED AND MASKED MEN.

A young man named Heany, a driver in the employment of Mr. P. Breaden, egg and fowl dealer, Dublin street, Longford, was returning from Ardagh market on Tuesday afternoon when he was stopped by three armed and masked men, about a mile outside the village, and robbed of £4 in silver and £41 in notes. The robbers compelled him to drive slowly until he reached the cross-roads, where they left him. Heany, on arriving at Longford, reported the robbery to the Civic Guards

A DUBLIN UNION REPORT.

CLERK AND RELIEVING OFFICERS.

At the weekly meeting of the Commissioners of Dublin Union yesterday, the Clerk (Mr. Condon) reported that £14,950, balance of second instalment on demand, had been lodged to the credit of the Union by the City Treasurer. The County Council still owes £11,111 15s. The balance on the bank account to the credit of the Union is £7,249 11s. 2d.

The Clerk also reported that an arbitration tribunal on the question of wages of stokers and fitters in the employment of the Commissioners sat on Tuesday. The proceedings, which lasted all day, were adjourned till today. The arbitrators are Messrs. R. N. Tweedy, C.E., A. E. Porte, C.E.; and Mr. J. J. Redmond (representing the employés).

In reference to the report made by the Commissioners, and to a letter published by Mr. Michael Foley, ex-Chairman of the Guardians, the Clerk, at the request of the Commissioners supplied to them a report, of which the following is an extract:—

"As no serious dereliction of duty by the relieving officers referred to in Mr. Foley's letter (Messrs. McGuinness, Byrne, Hoban, and Walker), came under his notice while the Guardians were functioning, and as no supervisors were appointed during that period to investigate the several cases of outdoor relief, he (the Clerk) desired to state that he did not consider it necessary to make any specifically written reports to the Guardians concerning these officers, and he very much regrets that any remarks of his found expression in the memorandum prepared by them on the recent report of the Auditor which appeared in the Press."

The Commissioners made the following note:—"In view of the information now furnished by the Clerk to us, we desire to take this, the earliest opportunity, to withdraw the statement to which our attention has been directed, and we desire that this minute should receive the same prominence in the Press as did our original statement."

LONDON STABBING AFFRAY.

As a sequel to the stabbing affray in a London club last Tuesday morning, Alfred Soloman (31), fruit salesman, was charged at Marylebone Police Court yesterday morning with the wilful murder of "Barney" Blitz, alias "Buck Emden," by stabbing him in the head with a carving knife, and with attempting to murder "Mike" Abelson, doorkeeper of the club, by stabbing him in the side. Detective Steel told of a visit to the club and finding several large smears of blood and broken glass in the card room, and a blood-stained carving knife on the table. Subsequently he saw the prisoner and showed him the knife. Witness said to him: "You were seen to strike Blitz and the doorkeeper, Ableson, with this at the Eden Club." He told him he would be charged with murder and attempted murder. The prisoner replied: "That is what they say. What I have done I have done in self-defence." Later he said: "I will tell you what happened," and he made a statement. When actually charged he said: "I plead not guilty." The prisoner was remanded for eight days.

To-day Messrs. Dockrell, Ltd., will sell at their property salerooms a detached house, 11 Cambridge terrace, Dartmouth square. The Bungalow, an attractively-situated property in Erskine avenue, on the Burnaby Estate, Greystones, will also be sold.

RESTORING SURRENDERED ARMS.

Persons who seek the return of arms surrendered to the British military and police during the period of the Anglo-Irish war should address their applications to the Chief Ordnance Officer, Royal Arsenal, Woolwich, London, S.E. 18. When the arms have been traced notification will be sent from Island Bridge Barracks, Dublin, to all applicants resident in the Free State, who will then be required to furnish a police permit, as well as evidence of ownership. Compliance with these simple conditions will ensure the speedy return of their property in all cases where it is now available.

EMIGRATION IN 1924.

During the first half of the present year there was an outward balance of 29,657 passengers to Canada, 2,343 to Australia and 2,605 to New Zealand; while inward balances are recorded in the case of South Africa, India, United States and the two groups of other parts of the British Empire and other foreign countries. The inward balance of 7,010 for America in the first six months of 1924, compared with an outward balance of 29,370 in the corresponding period of 1923, is accounted for by the completion of the British quota for the fiscal year in the autumn of 1923. The figures given in the Board of Trade Journal are exclusive of passengers who embarked or arrived at ports in the Irish Free State, but it is added that during the first six months of 1923 there were 4,126 outward passengers to, and 1,593 inward passengers from, European countries at Free State ports.

WIRELESS IN BRITAIN.

NEARLY A MILLION LICENCES ISSUED THIS YEAR.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Wednesday.

Up to the end of August the British Post Office had issued 915,000 wireless licences, compared with 180,000 a year ago.

"It is quite likely," said a Post Office official, "that by the end of October we shall have issued a million licences. This will mean at least three or four million broadcatchers, for, of course, any number can broadcatch with one licence."

The All-British Wireless Exhibition, which will open at the Albert Hall next Saturday, will be of special interest to wireless enthusiasts. It will have many features to attract not only the technical expert, but also the amateur. The latest broadcasting devices will be on show, and there will be frequent demonstrations. The 2 L O Military Band will perform.

A new Marconi invention, which illustrates a method of changing over for higher wave lengths, will be in the Exhibition, which will also contain special receiving sets designed for localities where natural causes interfere with the reception of messages.

THE CHURCH OF IRELAND.

The annual report of the Church Missionary Society for the year ended March 31st last states that the total general contribution amounted to £411,104, and the general expenditure to £443,165, including total mission expenditure, £367,779. Medical missions cost £47,591. The number of missionaries on the roll on January 1st was 1,171, made up of—Men 413, wives 311 and women 447.

The hon. secretary of Bere-Regis Parochial Church Council has written to the local Press threatening to close the old parish church of Bere-Regis, Dorset, owing to the inconsiderate conduct of visitors. The church has been made famous by Thomas Hardy's references to it as Kingsbere in "Tess of the D'Urbervilles." It contains some quaint old canopied tombs of the Turberville family, and that family's arms are to be seen on a stained glass window. The letter states that at a recent meeting of the Church Council attention was drawn to the conduct of visitors in the church. It was decided to lock the doors at 5 o'clock on Saturdays for cleaning purposes and, if necessary, the church will be closed permanently except during the hours of Divine Service, unless matters improve.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

INCONCLUSIVE TRIAL.

SAVERNAKE'S CHANCE IN CESAREWITCH.

FALSE ALARM WINS EXCITING FINISH.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.

GATWICK, Wednesday Night.

The sum of our knowledge about the likely winner of the Cesarewitch was not added to this afternoon by the race for the Stayers' Handicap, in which the six-year-old, False Alarm, who has been partially broken down, and has not won, or even been placed, in a race since he beat Charlebelle in the Derby Cup last November twelve months, defeated Savernake by a short head, with Bolet Satan, eight lengths away, third, Ceylonese only sixth, and Miwani eighth. As False Alarm is not engaged in the Cesarewitch we can forget about him, and consider what possibilities there are about those who live to fight on October 15.

Certainly of those who ran to-day Savernake comes out the best. I thought that with stronger handling he might have won, but he is not a boy's horse, and in the Cesarewitch he has only 6st. 11lb. to carry. Still a boy came within an ace of winning on him, so it would be unfair to dismiss him on account of his light weight. Ceylonese looked well here, and was very well backed. He occupied a prominent position coming into the straight, but he could never get on fighting terms with the leaders, and if he cannot do better than this at Newmarket he will not have a ghost of a chance. There are excuses made for the defeat of Miwani. He is said to have been struck into, and he returned with a cut on the hind leg. In his case it would be as well to suspend judgment until we see how serious is the damage he sustained.

BOLET SATAN SQUARELY BEATEN.

Bolet Satan, on the other hand, seemed to have been squarely beaten. He was lying second to Savernake coming into the straight, but when False Alarm and Savernake began to draw away from him at the distance he could not accelerate his pace, and was well beaten off. The extra distance of the Cesarewitch will probably suit him better, but to win that race some pace is essential, for they go a strong gallop all the way. As Scullion seems to be more or less hors de combat, Hogg will have only Bolet Satan and Brisl to rely on in the Newmarket event, but the hopes entertained about the French horse must have been damped by his running this afternoon.

By the way, many people have been asking as to the identity of Mrs. Sayner Rowson, the owner of Bolet Satan, whose colours had not been seen until this horse carried them at Goodwood. She is the wife of Mr. J. E. Rowson, who, with his partner, Mr. Cooper, is a well-known figure on the rails at the principal Irish, as well as the English, meetings.

The finish this afternoon was a most exciting one, for False Alarm and Savernake singled themselves out two furlongs from home, and a ding-dong struggle between the two resulted. If each had been carrying an extra stone, which would have enabled Savernake to have had stronger handling, I have no doubt but that the half-brother to Orby's Pride would have won. It is difficult to say, in view of to-day's race, what will be first favourite when serious betting on the Cesarewitch begins. The Newbury Cup will have some bearing on the market, but at present it looks as if Keror and Rose Prince will be the principal choices.

PERFETTA COLT WINS AT 6 TO 1.

The rest of the racing was quite good as meetings here go. Vainqueur did not run for the Crawter Nursery, which fell to my alternative selection, Mr. Bertie Drage's Perfetta colt, a 6 to 1 chance. Taking the lead at the distance, he drew away to win in a canter by four lengths from Shimmering, with any amount in hand. With Ulva Ferry in the Redhill Handicap, Sir Abe Bailey had no better luck than with Ceylonese. The filly was always in difficulties, and gave a very poor showing as compared with her good struggle in the Town Moor Handicap at Doncaster against Jarvie.

Rockville showed up well at the distance, but she is very ungenerous, and Gay Canopy was the only one to make a race with Argeia. Mrs. Bendir's gelded son of Argos won a race here ... 20 to 1 last year, and then went on to beat Argos Lass at Manchester. Since then he had done nothing, but there was some fancy for his chance to-day, and he won a good race by half a length from Gay Canopy. Long odds were laid on Eaglestone in the last race, which he duly won from Wandering Monk and Stardust.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

To-morrow's programme does not hold out a great deal of interest. The Kempton winner, VICOT, is so leniently handicapped in the County Nursery that he dominates the race, and he should have no difficulty in winning from the moderate lot that will oppose him. I like the chance of GAGOOL in the Montefiore Plate and of HONG KONG in the Charlwood Handicap. TOXAWAY has been sent from Ireland to run for the Musselburgh Selling Plate at Edinburgh, and as the company will be moderate she may have a chance. SWASTIKA should win the Barnbougle Nursery and OAKWOOD the Levenhall Handicap.

LIMERICK JUNCTION.

M. DAWSON TURNS OUT THREE WINNERS.

FAVOURITES FAIL.

A drizzling rain fell nearly all the time that racing was in progress at Limerick Junction yesterday, and it was not surprising, with the unpromising outlook of the morning, that the attendance was on the small side. Naturally, the going was very heavy, and backers had the worst of the deals. The Rathbride Manor trainer, Michael Dawson, had a good day, for he sent out the winners of three races, in Petit Beau, Ennel Beg, and Ganzey.

Of the nine that contested the Sologhead Plate there was most demand for Gold Label, but, while he ran well, he had to be content with second place to Petit Beau, who evidently appreciated the soft conditions afoot, and, making all the running, won in a canter by five lengths, thus doing a well deserved turn to his veteran owner, Captain Maher. There was nothing to choose between Most Noble and Erin's Rose for the Flying Plate, and they wound up joint favourites. The greater part of the running was made by Cremona, who led until nearing the distance, but there he compounded, and Ennel Beg drew to the front. The latter was at once challenged by Most Noble, and the pair fought out an extremely interesting contest, Ennel Beg just holding on long enough to win by a short head.

Charles Allix was in most demand for the Ballykisteen Plate, but he ran moderately, and never looked like scoring, finishing a poor third. Pure Gaiety, who had run well in the Irish Oaks, was another disappointment, and the race fell a ready prey to the rank outsider, Yukon, a son of Marten, from an own sister to Carnegie, who won very easily from Minikin's Pride. Odds were laid on Lisworney for the Directors' Plate, but Lord Kenmare's colt was faced with a very heavy task to carry 9st. 10lb. to victory in deep going. Though beaten, he was far from disgraced, and was in front until the distance. He was then done with, and, while Buntz for a moment or two looked like scoring, Golden Shadow quickly got the better of Mr. Caddell's filly, and won comfortably.

For the second time during the day an odds-on chance failed, when Yours Only met with defeat in the Railway Steeplechase. For this Drifting Prince and Rome fought out a good finish, and the former scored by only half a length. Ganzey easily accounted for his opponents in the Limerick Junction Steeplechase. Details:—

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The second stage of the Gatwick Meeting should provide some good sport, for a capital programme is provided, and, as the going is in excellent order, fair fields should contest most events. Proceedings open, as usual, with a selling event, for which I fancy Siddown. He was very badly away at Lewes and put up a game performance to beat Bridge of Dun. The County Nursery should provide an interesting race, Gone Dry, Prepaid filly, and Vicot being the best of the handicap. The first-named has put up one or two stylish performances, and should account for Prepaid filly. Vicot has, in my opinion, been presented with this race, for he won a good-class event at Kempton. For the Charlwood Handicap I like nothing better than Hong Kong, who, after having had the worst of the start at Warwick, would have won in a few more strides. The Mole Two-Year-Old Selling Plate should be won by Going Gay, who is better class than most of the entrants. The Surrey Plate I leave to Glamour, who runs instead of Compromise.

Selections:—
Bridge Plate—Siddown.
Mole Plate—Going Gay.
County Plate—Vicot.
Surrey Plate—Glamour.
Charlwood Handicap—Hong Kong.
Montefiore Plate—Plumet.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The Edinburgh Gold Cup dominates to-day's card, but, unfortunately, the field may be small. All Green has the class but plenty of weight for a three-year-old, a remark which applies also to Miss Connie, though she will run well. West Countryman may not be sharp enough, but Right Ho is attractive at the weight. Selections:—

Musselburgh Plate—Baby's Bottle.
Carberry Handicap—D'Ye Want.
Gold Cup—Right Ho.
Barnbougle Plate—Swastika.
Levenhall Plate—Saucy Kate.

ASSOCIATION.

SOUTH AFRICANS' FIFTH VICTORY.

IRISH TEAM BEATEN 2-1.

(BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

The South African Association Football team have done remarkably well on this tour so far. Against Brentford they turned out a weak side and paid the penalty in defeat. That, however, has been their solitary reverse. Before those speedy, earnest, but inexperienced "Springboks," Bohemians, Wimbledon, Wykeham, Wanderers, and Chelsea have gone down, and yesterday at Cliftonville, Belfast, a strong Irish League XI. met a like fate. The margin of the Colonials' victory was a bare goal, and it was a victory that was well deserved.

Unaccustomed as they are to playing on heavy, slushy grounds with a heavy, greasy ball, the South Africans did particularly well in this match; but the handicap was neutralised by the marked difference in the physique of the players, the Irish side being man for man much the lighter. Since they played Bohemians the tourists have developed greater speed and better ball control, and it was their extra speed and quickness on the ball that enabled them to achieve this, their fifth success. Not one of the forwards, however, has improved in marksmanship. With a forward or two who could be depended on to turn opportunities for scoring to account the side would be a formidable one for any club team to tackle. Weak finishing and poor shooting by the visitors yesterday were, however, to a great extent counter-balanced by fleetness of foot, quickness on the ball and keenness and dash, that made the match a thoroughly interesting one. But the football was much below the international standard; nor can the prevailing standard of Irish League football be a high one, for, taking the match as a whole the South Africans, except for a good spell in the middle of the first half and a few short periods subsequently, were the superior combination. Individual Irishmen certainly stood out prominently all through; but football is a team game, and what praise is due to Bruce, Anderson, Croft and Wilson for their individual work, is not applicable to the team as a team.

The Colonials immediately applied heavy pressure on the left and Murray forced a corner, and, following clever footwork by Hodgeson, the latter finished with a low shot close in, which Gough cleared. The South Africans kept up the attack, halves and forwards being quick on the ball and working well together; but the onslaught was successfully resisted, and the Irishmen, getting going on the right wing, McKeague twice shot out. The visitors were soon back again and Hodgeson forced another flag kick, but the scene was at once shifted to the tourists' goal, McKeague again skying the ball. Wilson, the Irish left winger, came into the picture by slipping Peary cleverly, but his cross was too much forward. Good play by Croft was finished by a corner, forced by Bruce. The Irishmen were now swinging the ball about and, opening out the game, their forwards were repeatedly beating the opposing halves, who were rather weak in tackling. Riley punched out a high centre from M'Keague, and then brilliant footwork by Croft, who cleverly beat four Colonials near the tourists' goal, went for nothing, the backs getting the better of the struggle somehow.

At the other end, Murray was within a few feet of scoring for the South Africans, and then came the first goal for Ireland. Rushe was going well when he was fouled, and from the free kick the ball was sent out to Wilson, who placed for Rushe to score from close range, the time being 28 minutes. The Colonials had apparently shot their bolt a quarter of an hour previously, and except for an occasional burst were being outplayed. Murray, however, was making good attempts to score for the South Africans, and once Stuart seemed likely to open their account, but—in golfing parlance—he duffed the shot, sticking his toes in the ground. In the last five minutes Jacobi had an open goal, but missed the target, and directly afterwards Green dispossessed Harris, and passing to Murray, the latter went through to equalise with a fine shot. Half-time:—

Ireland ... 1
South Africa ... 1

In the first few minutes after resuming the South African goal had a narrow escape, Rushe failing with the best opening of the match so far, and then Riley cleared from a header by Burns, who later on missed another easy chance of giving Ireland the lead. The play veered round in favour of the tourists, but they were inaccurate in their marksmanship, and failure again attended the efforts of Hodgeson. In the immediately ensuing play the visitors had further chances, but they finished feebly and allowed scoring chances to slip.

From a corner the Irish goal had a series of escapes, and only an excellent piece of goalkeeping by Gough prevented Williams giving his side the lead with a rasping shot, while indecision by Green lost another possible score. The South African half-backs were now playing a stronger game, and the cheering which greeted a daring save by Riley from Wilson had not subsided when the Africans swept down the ground for Green to shoot past the Irish keeper. Thus with fifteen minutes to go Ireland was in arrears. The fine recovery of the visitors' half-backs was the feature of this half.

Riley distinguished himself in the South African goal by a fine full-length save from Lynas, and then ensued a hot melee in the visitors' goal, but Riley emerged from the ruck victorious. This was, so far, the most exciting period of the match. Nearing the end Lynas made a very fine effort to balance the scores, but the South Africans held on to their lead. Result:—

LANSDOWNE F.C.

In view of their opening engagement of the season, which is with Old Wesley, at Donnybrook on Saturday, Lansdowne held a successful trial game at Lansdowne road yesterday. There was a good muster, and two keen "thirties" were played, though the ground was heavy and grassy and a drizzling rain prevailed. The following sides turned out:—A Team—F. J. O'Rorke; S. A. Fox, S. W. K. Crawford, J. Aylward, T. V. Harris; N. V. Delap, J. McWeeney; Rooney, Poulter, P. J. Whitty, Eccles, Digges, T. Travers, F. Thompson, W. Keogh.

B Team.—R. Barrett; G. Whiteside, G. E. Guise-Brown, N. Falkiner, E. R. McCormack; G. E. Dodds, E. Rooney; R. B. Cairnduff, J. G. Robertson, T. Millar, M. Dunne, R. B. Pike, H. V. Sutherland, M. Bell, F. Conroy.

The International back, W. E. Crawford, refereed, and he was looking very fit, thanks to, as is his custom, a month's hard Association with Bohemians. Harris, who wore the Sandhurst jersey, showed fine pace and good tackling powers on the left wing for the "A" Team, as did Aylward at centre. Delap was good at scrum half, but, as he goes to St. John's College, Oxford, soon, his services will not be available for the latter part of the season. Rooney, Whitty, and Keogh were in good form in the forward division, for whom O'Rorke at back got little to do. The "B" Team showed the better form in the loose, and E. Rooney, P. B. Pike, and M. Dunne, the latter a Castleknock boy of promise, though at present crude, were best of the forwards. Conroy also showing initiative. Barrett tackled well at back, and Whiteside was the best of the three-quarters.

Lansdowne will have all last year's forwards except Healy, who has gone to London, but their outwingman, Scales, will be an absentee, and their outhalf, D. Robertson, has not yet recovered from injuries sustained last season, and may not turn out for some time. The team is young, but should do quite well this season.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY F.C.

The annual general meeting was held in the Pavilion, T.C.D., yesterday afternoon. The following officers were elected for the season:—President—Judge Sealy, K.C.; Vice-Presidents—H. Thrift, F.T.C.D.; Bethel Solomons, M.D.; E. J. Watson, M.D.; Rev. R. M. Gwynn, F.T.C.D. Hon. Sec.—T. J. Millin; Senior Hon. Treas.—E. M. Solomons, J.P.; Junior Hon. Treas.—J. H. Wallace. Committee—Messrs. R. Y. Crichton, R. H. Dowse, I. M. Stuart, D. J. Cussen, J. D. Clinch, J. F. Steele, M.B. Representatives to the general meeting of S.B.I.R.F.U.:—Messrs. H. Thrift, F.T.C.D., R. Y. Crichton, T. J. Millin, R. H. Dowse. Representative to the S.B.I.R.F.U.—Mr. H. Thrift, F.T.C.D.

BILLIARDS.

INMAN v. DUNCAN.

Inman, who is conceding Duncan 6,000 in the game of 18,000 up, was in splendid form yesterday, when play was resumed in the Catholic Club. In the afternoon session the Irish professional champion was dead off his game. The balls never ran kindly for him, and he experienced bad luck in many shots. Inman, however, was at the top of his game, and made runs of 230, 349 and 184. In his run of 349 the former English champion gave a delightful display of all-round-the-table billiards, and made many pretty shots.

Resuming at night, Inman continued to be in fine form. After bringing his unfinished break to 155 his next visit to the table realised 313. In this break he brilliantly extricated himself from many difficult positions. Duncan had none the best of luck, and his best runs were 47, 65 and 97 (twice). Closing scores:—

Duncan (receives 6,000) ... 13,742
Inman (in play) ... 13,189

NEWMAN v. SMITH.

At Birmingham yesterday afternoon Smith regained the lead, which he lost for the first time on Saturday, scoring an aggregate of 953, against Newman's 628. Smith's best runs were 417, 346, and 158, unfinished. Newman's best were 95, 320, and 173. Interval scores:—Smith, 11,301; Newman, 10,954.

Smith made his incomplete 158 into 422, when he missed a cushion cannon, and Newman followed with a brilliant 647, during which he caught and passed his opponent. Smith replied with 215, and Newman's only other run of note was 148. Closing scores—Newman, 11,800; Smith (in play), 11,756.

FINE PLAY BY D. YOUNG.

Playing level with Reece in a match of 16,000 up, at Burroughes Hall, London, Davis Young, the Chesterfield professional, who is rapidly forcing his way into the exclusive big circle, has being displaying remarkable form, and yesterday credited himself with a break of 702. On Tuesday night he finished with an incomplete effort of 553, and throughout displayed masterly skill and judgement of pace. He has made many great breaks including 990 last season.

SHORTAGE OF CLERGY IN ENGLAND.

The Bishop of Carlisle, in his presidential address at the Carlisle Diocesan Conference, said that the shortage of clergy was likely to continue for some time. Men who might naturally take Holy Orders feared lest in clerical life they should not find a full-time job. They thought the clergy were no longer in the full stress of national life, but rather in a backwater. He did not agree with this opinion, but there were many facts of modern life which lent to it a certain plausibility. The clerical calling no longer counted for so much in secular affairs, but they need not regret this.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

THE FUNDS SUPPORTED. BANK STOCK DULL, RAILS LOWER, TRAMS HARDER, MEXICAN EAGLES RISING.

Business generally was very limited in volume on 'Change yesterday, and irregular price movements resulted from the day's transactions. Government National Loans show no change, but British Funds showed up prominently with some important gains. Among Banking Securities Bank Stock did not hold the recent advance, but little stock changed hands. Munster and Leinster Shares were again in demand, and higher, and Royals closed steady.

Guinness Ord. Shares were practically unaltered, but Dublin Distillers Ord. were a good deal better, and were bid up to 25s. Home Rails were mostly lower, with limited dealings current. "Cashel" Stocks were weak. Tramways met with attention, Dublin United Ord. rallied a little, and the Pref. were firm. Provincial Ord. advanced, but closed on sale at the improved level.

Dunlop Rubber Ord. were the turn harder. Alliance Gas issues were firmly held. Drapery Shares were quiet, but firm, with Pim Bros. Pref. in request. Textiles varied a few pence. Courtaulds were less firm on profit taking, but Spinners were a firm market. E. and J. Burke issues were wanted. Mexican Eagle Oil rose sharply on reported favourable developments.

Government National Loan repeated 91, and the Compensation Stock 90.

British Funds were mostly strong. War Loan 5 p.c. rose $\frac{1}{16}$ to 102¾. Funding Loan ⅜ to 91⅛, and Conversion 3½ p.c. Loan $\frac{1}{16}$ to 78$\frac{1}{16}$, while India 3½ p.c. repeated 64¾. Dublin Port and Docks 3½ p.c. changed hands at 51½.

In Banks, Munster and Leinsters rose ⅛ to 6⅞, but Bank Stock, for an exceptional lot, fell back 1 to 267, and Royals repeated 14⅜.

Among Breweries and Distilleries, Dublin Distillers Ord. were a feature, and rose 3s. 6d. further to 25s., and the Debs. repeated 60⅞, while Guinness Ord. were unaltered at 46⅞ for cash and 46$\frac{11}{16}$ for account.

LONDON STOCKS FIRM.

THE DEMAND FOR TEA SHARES.

The Stock markets were firm yesterday. Business was not large, and was for the most part confined to semi-speculative issues. A firm tone was maintained in British Funds, while Home Rails also hardened slightly. Tea Shares were again to the fore, and a heavy business was transacted. Quotations were rather erratic, but at the close practically every price change was in favour of holders. The general close was quiet. In Gilt-edged Securities, British Funds were slightly better. Irish Land 2¾ p.c. gained a point to 60. In War Loans, the 3½ p.c. at 96 and the 4½ p.c. at 97½ were both unchanged. The Fives, however, registered a small gain, closing ⅛ better on the day at 102¼. The 3½ p.c. Conversion Loan finished the day at 78, at which they were without alteration. The 4½ p.c., however, dropped back slightly, and at the close were ¼ lower at 98. Indias, with the exception of the 7 p.c., which shed a point to 108, were fairly steady. Local Loans repeated their overnight quotation. In Colonial Government Securities, Australia 5½ p.c. at 102 gained a point, while Canada 4 p.c. (1940-60) at 91 and South Australia 4 p.c. (1940-60) at 87 were also both a point to the good.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES were better. Brazilians 4 p.c. (1889) gained a point to 45, while the Funding Bonds at 81 were a point higher. French Loans were unchanged. German Bonds were neglected and closed without material alteration. Egyptian Unified dropped ½ to 75. Japanese were steady and unchanged. Peruvians were better. The Ord. at 3⅜ showed an improvement of ⅛ on the day, while the Prefs. rose ⅛ to 33$\frac{1}{16}$.

HOME RAILS were generally quiet, but in a couple of instances prices were returned at the close. Midlands gained ½ on the day to 97½. Great Westerns repeated 106, while North-Eastern Pref-Ord. at 79½ were also unchanged. The Def.-Ord., however, improved ¼ at 28½. Southerns were dull, and at the close repeated their overnight quotations. Metropolitans remained steady, the Consolidated at 76½ and Districts at 50½ both being unchanged on the day. Undergrounds maintained previous levels.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILS improved. Mexicans were strong. The Ord. at 6¼ showed an increase of ½ on the day, while the 8 p.c. Pref. gained a point to 23. Antofagasta Ord. closed ½ better at 88, while Central Argentine at 74½ were also ½ higher on the day. "Canpacs" remained at 166. B.A.G.S. at 88½ and the Pacific at 84½ were both ½ up. Grand Trunks were firm, but without change. United Havana gained ½ to 88½.

OIL SHARES IRREGULAR.

MEXICAN EAGLE ACTIVITY.

The outstanding feature of the Oil market yesterday was once more provided by Mexican Eagles, in which interest was kept alive by a variety of rumours. Many thousands of the shares changed hands, there being alternately bidding and offering of large lines, with the result that the price fluctuated rapidly. The rest of the market was overshadowed to a great extent by the activity of Mexican Eagles, and the price movements finally recorded were of an irregular character. In regard to Mexican Eagles, it was reported yesterday that there was no truth in the rumour current on the preceding day that a new field had been discovered, but there was persistent talk of success having been achieved in deep drilling operations in the Southern Light oil field. No official statement has been issued, however, by the London financial agents to the company, but it appears highly desirable that, having regard to the fact that so many vague rumours are in circulation, no time should be lost in informing the shareholders should any favourable development have taken place. Option business again played a considerable part in the day's dealings. Opening at 20s. 9d., the shares gave way on sales by Paris operators to 20s. 3d., but fresh buying brought about a rally to 21s. 3d. Dealings in the "street" were of a less animated character than on the preceding evening, and at the close a small gain was registered at 20s. 9d. The 8 p.c. Part. Pref. left off at 19s. 6d., and a small loss was marked in the 7 p.c. First Prefs. at 15s. 9d. Firmness characterised other leading issues at the commencement of business, but they developed an irregular tendency later in the day. Shells met with a fair amount of attention, but were finally $\frac{1}{16}$ down at 3⅞; the 7 p.c. Prefs. hardened to 24s. 6d. Royal Dutch, after narrow fluctuations, closed unchanged at 28½. Anglo-Persians and Burmahs improved $\frac{1}{16}$ to 2$\frac{11}{16}$ and 4$\frac{13}{16}$ respectively, and Anglo-Americans remained steady at 3$\frac{5}{16}$. Among Rumanians, Phoenix met with good support and were a firm market throughout the day, a gain of 4½d. being finally recorded at 23s. 1½d. Anglo-Ecuadorians were a better market, and after rising to 2½ closed at 2$\frac{13}{32}$, showing a gain of $\frac{1}{16}$, it being reported that the revolutionary disturbances in Ecuador, which were responsible for the recent decline in the shares, have now subsided. Lobitos moved within narrow limits and finished without alteration at 10$\frac{1}{16}$. V.O.C. Holdings closed $\frac{1}{16}$ down at 2$\frac{1}{16}$, the Prefs. losing a like fraction at 2$\frac{1}{16}$. British Controlled issues remained quiet, and, although they had a harder tendency at the start, finished unchanged. Tankers Prefs. suffered from liquidation, and fell at one time to 6s. 6d., while the final price of 7s. still showed a loss of 1s. A steady demand existed for Kern Rivers, which improved 7½d. to 16s., and British Burmahs were supported and rose 9d. to 9s. 3d. The Caltex Oil Co. announces a production for the past month of 1,045 tons, as against 461 tons in July, but despite the improved output the shares weakened 3d. to 3s. Peru Syndicate declined to 1s. OIL OUTPUT.

The Caltex Oil Company advises having received the following cable from Mexico:—"August production, 6,582 barrels, or 1,045 tons."

The Canadian Government has effected a settlement of claims held by the Province of Ontario against the old Canadian Northern Railway. Negotiations for a similar settlement with other provinces having claims are now in progress.

LONDON MINING MARKET CHEERFUL.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES FIRM.

Although there was no pronounced increase in the volume of trading in the Stock Exchange yesterday, the tone all round remained quite cheerful, as may be gathered from the firmness of the gilt-edged and investment securities. The speculative departments were unable to reproduce the fireworks of the preceding day, but there were still some active centres. In the Mining departments, however, these bright spots were far from numerous, but Kaffirs presented a healthy appearance. Many of the leading counters were being inquired for, Central Mining being something of a feature, while the Cape bought Durban Deep and Consolidated Main Reef. Rand Mines, Crown Mines, Robinson Deep "B" and several others were better, and there was some quiet buying of West Springs. Knights fell back the turn on profit-taking, and East Rands were easier, but Coronation rallied. In the Rhodesian department Cam and Motor again attracted a great deal of attention, though movements were not so spectacular as on the preceding day. Rezende receded, and Tanks and Zams continued on the down grade. In the early hours Paris bought De Beers to a certain extent, and this left its mark on quotations. Jagersfontein, however, were easier, the dividend of 2s. 6d. comparing with 3s. at this time last year. West African Diamonds rallied on the cessation of realisations. The price of tin recovered sharply, £5 2s. 6d. to £233 2s. 6d. per ton, and the Share market became more cheerful. Rio Tinto, on Paris advices, rallied sharply. Elsewhere Mexican Corporation and San Francisco responded readily to increased demand, and Burma Corporation were better, but Canadians were irregular. Porcupine Goldfields went ahead, and Bingo were wanted on the latest news from the property. Closing prices:—

INDUSTRIALS IMPROVING.

TEXTILES IN DEMAND.

Trading in the Industrial and Miscellaneous markets yesterday was on a good scale, the most satisfactory feature being an indication of public interest growing, business being well spread over all departments. Advices from trade centres being of a favourable nature stimulated business in the leading Iron and Steel counters, and, although there was no striking improvement, the whole list made a good showing. Lambert Bros. came into particular request and closed a firm market at 49s. 9d. bid, a gain of 9d. on balance. Numerous small gains were recorded, including Bolckow Vaughans at 6s. 3d., although the cloud of recent events still hangs over them. In another direction, Chinese Engineering came on offer and lost $\frac{1}{16}$ to 3$\frac{1}{16}$. Coal stocks hardened under the lead of Wm. Corys, which rose $\frac{1}{16}$ to 2$\frac{1}{16}$, Powell Duffryn moving up 6d. to 32s. 6d., and Gas securities were better in places. The outstanding feature among Motors was the extensive business done in Rovers. Opening firm at 9s. 6d., they quickly crossed the 10s. mark in response to a steady flow of orders, and in the later dealings changed up to 11s., closing rather buyers at that figure, or 1s. 6d. higher on balance. The report due towards the end of next month is expected to make a good showing. Austin Debs. were more subdued, but held steady at 80¼. Traction issues tended upward, Isle of Thanet Trams being prominent again. The Ord. rose to 80s. and the Pref. to 6⅞. Brazilians closed ⅛ to the good at 55⅛.

Considerable activity was seen throughout the day in Textiles, dealers reporting expanding business, particularly in Bradford Dyers and Courtaulds. The former finished 9d. higher at 73s. 9d., after being bid for at 74s., while the popular demand for the leading artificial silk makers was responsible for a rise of a like amount in the latter to 54s. Celanese also continued in favour and spurted sharply to 8s. 7½d., and the Pref. closed 6d. better at 10s. 9d. Exceptionally, Calico Printers lost 3d. to 34s. 3d. A feature among Foodstuffs was an inquiry for Smithfields, which closed a firm market at 14s., the Pref. hardening to 22s. 6d. Bovril Def. and Liptons both gained the turn to 44s. 9d. and 27s. respectively. Brewery Stocks attracted a fair amount of attention. Watney Def. came into renewed demand, closing 2 higher at 251½, changing hands several times around that figure. Hodgsons also continued their upward movement, and put on another ⅛ to 10⅝. The Whiskey section was, perhaps, a little less active, John Walkers fluctuating around 55s. and Buchanan Dewar recording business up to 59s. Schweppes Def. met with further support, and were bought at 25s. 9d. Apart from United, Souths and Cope Bros., the Tobacco group proved uninteresting. Souths and the Def. were both 9d. better at 82s. 3d. and 81s. 9d., while Copes were favoured and rose to 62s. 6d. after being loudly bid for at that price. The Newspaper department was distinctly cheerful. Associated Def. and "Daily Mirrors" moved up to the common level of 5⅛ and "Sunday Pictorials" to 3⅜. "Daily Sketch" Debs. made further headway, touching 4¼ prem., while the Unredeemed Stock of the "Daily Mail" Debs. advanced to 106⅜. Among Miscellaneous counters, Cements closed a shade off at 17s., but Wall Paper Def. were 3d. better at 20s., interest still being centred in the pending report. Banks and Insurances ruled steady, and the brightest spot in the Shipping section was Indo-China Def., which was marked up 1½ to 15 on buying from the East. New issues were very little changed. Dealings commenced in Macdonald and Greenlees Pref. on the basis of 1s. discount.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Dealings have commenced in the issue made on 15th September by the Melbourne and Metropolitan Tramways Board of £700,000 Five per Cent. Stock, 1944, at 98 per cent. The underwriters were left with 85 per cent. of the loan, and the quotation finished at 1 discount.

The Burmah Oil Company has received cable advices from its Rangoon branch that the fire started by lightning on 19th September in one of its crude oil tanks there was confined to its source and has now burned itself out. The damage consists of the loss of the tank and its contents, both of which were covered by insurance.

Messrs. Aldred and Co., Ltd. (Inc. in Canada), London agents for the Shawinigan Water and Power Co., have received cable advice that at a special general meeting of the shareholders, convened and held on the 22nd inst., a resolution increasing the capital to 25,000,000 dollars was duly passed, and the directors subsequently authorised the issue for the purpose of taking care of the company's interests in United Securities, Ltd., and for other purposes of the company, of 2,000,000 dollars stock at par to shareholders of record on October 2, on the basis of one share in ten, payable 50 per cent. on November 1 (on which date at noon the right to subscribe will expire), and the balance of 50 per cent. on or before December 29. Payment is to be made in dollars. No interest on instalments will be allowed, and stock will rank for dividend for the quarter ending March 31, 1925.

We are authorised to announce that Sir Francis Drummond Percy Chaplin, G.B.E., K.C.M.G., M.L.A., of Nordhoek, Cape of Good Hope and Mr. Leonard Line, J.P., of Pietermaritzburg, Natal, have joined the Board of the National Bank of South Africa, Ltd.

One of the outstanding features of the Industrial market has been the meteoric rise of Columbia Graphophone Shares. They are now 34/6 (for 10/- shares), against 25/6 not much more than a month ago. The lowest point this year was 15/7. Despite this advance, the market is strong, and the shares are talked several shillings higher (says Truth). It is known that the company is doing exceptionally well. Demand is said to exceed supply, and a 50 per cent. increase in output is anticipated when the new factories are in full working order. For the past year, ended in March, the company paid 20 per cent. on the Ordinary Shares, but it is understood to have earned enough during the current year to pay 50 per cent., and there are still several months of the period to run. It is expected that the interim dividend will be paid this year in October, instead of November, and that it will be 10 per cent., or double last year's rate. If the company pays 70 per cent. for the final dividend, as is not unlikely, making 40 per cent. for the year, the shares at their present level offer a potential yield of about 11½ per cent.

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANS IN GOOD DEMAND.

EXCHANGES PICKING UP.

A further moderate amount was borrowed from the Bank of England yesterday at 4½ p.c. for a week, and during the earlier hours loans were again in good demand up to 3½ p.c. Later on, however, the position became easier, and borrowers were offered accommodation over the night at 3 p.c. and under. Weekly advances were renewed at 2¾ p.c. Business was quiet in the discount market, there being few bills offering. Fine three months' paper was not better than 2$\frac{15}{16}$ p.c., while second-hand Treasuries were quoted at 3⅜ p.c. The banks were buyers of October bills for delivery to-morrow at 3$\frac{1}{16}$ p.c.

Gold was 2d. per oz. lower at 92s. 7d. Silver declined $\frac{1}{16}$d. per oz. to 35d., both for spot and forward delivery.

Business in the foreign exchange market remained quiet, with movements small, but inter-Allied Currencies picked up in the late dealings. There was still a demand for Danish kroners, which further appreciated to 25.90-25.93. Sterling on New York was stronger at 4.46⅝-4.46⅞ dollars, and French francs recovered to 84.40-84.50, Belgian francs being 92.45-92.55. Italian lire remained around 101.80. Spanish pesetas showed a further improvement at 33.68-33.72. Dutch florins also appreciated to 11.56½-11.57. Lisbon was again firmer at 1⅝ on the steps being taken to revive the escudo. Among South American exchanges, Valparaiso eased to 40.50 pesos, Buenos Ayres to 43⅜-43½, but Rio strengthened to 5$\frac{11}{16}$-5⅞. Rupees, at 1s. 5$\frac{15}{16}$d.-1s. 5$\frac{31}{32}$d., were unaltered, the decision to resume sales of India Council drafts having no effect. Japanese yen were a little firmer at 1s. 9$\frac{15}{16}$d.-1s. 9$\frac{31}{32}$d. China rates were steady. The following are closing quotations:—

COMPANY MEETING.

ALLIANCE GAS.

INCREASED DIVIDEND.

THE RECENT STRIKE.

Mr. Joseph X. Murphy presided at the meeting of the Alliance and Dublin Consumers' Gas Company yesterday, when he made a statement as to the working of the company during the past six months.

The other directors present were—Messrs. A. Bond, W. H. Davies, Rt. Hon. James McMahon, and J. McVeigh.

The Chairman expressed his regret at the absence of Mr. Dickens (the Chairman of the Board), and proceeded to read the statement which was prepared by Mr. Dickens. In this it was stated that it was a matter of great disappointment to the Board that after amicably adjusting all differences that arose with Labour during the difficult and trying times experienced since the outbreak of war, ten years ago, it was found impossible to prevent a general strike of the bulk of the company's employés in May last. The directors greatly regretted the loss and inconvenience sustained by the public generally, and in thanking those numerous consumers who sympathised with the company, or offered them assistance, they desired to assure them that no effort was spared either by the Government or the company to avoid the drastic step that was taken by the men. Referring to the vexed question of double taxation, he said the directors were still bringing all possible pressure to bear on the authorities with a view to having the present system of deducting income tax twice abolished. In addition to getting this question ventilated in the House of Commons, some of the directors had been in personal touch with the Chancellor of the Exchequer and the Chairman of the Irish Revenue Commissioners, and in each case a very sympathetic hearing was accorded. In reviewing the merits it struck the directors very forcibly from a business point of view that the legality of the procedure of deducting 9s. 6d. in the £ in order to recover a maximum of 5s. was open to considerable doubt, but, quite apart from this, the incidence was an unwarrantable imposition, which was causing serious hardship, and even privation, to that most deserving class of the community, the small investor. (Hear, hear.)

EXPANDING BUSINESS.

The Chairman, continuing, said that he was glad to be able to congratulate the shareholders on the steadily maintained and increasing improvement in the affairs of the company. During the half-year under review they had secured 1,873 new consumers, while no less than 764 new services were laid. They had sent out 796 new cooking and 305 further heating stoves.

It was, he said, rather disappointing to find that the cost of their principal commodities, coal and oil, had increased by £8,685, compared with the figure for 1923. Fortunately, the increased expenditure was almost entirely set off by the better prices obtained for coke and breeze, the receipts for which were higher by £8,467. The cost of purification was down by £400, and salaries and wages at the works by £2,000, and there was an extraordinary fall in the cost of repair and maintenance of works.

The total cost of distribution of gas was larger by nearly £4,000, due largely to cost of repairs of mains. Rates and taxes were higher by almost £1,000, and there could be no doubt that this heavy expenditure imposed a very great burden on gas consumers.

The net income from the sales of gas was lower by no less than £45,239. Except for a slight fall in the total quantity of gas sold, this was entirely due to the substantial reduction in the price of gas which came into operation at the beginning of the year. To sum up, expenditure as well as income was down to the extent of £37,000, so that the revenue profit remained at almost identically the same figure on the corresponding occasion, which, in the circumstances, the directors consider not unsatisfactory, and they felt justified in recommending an increase in the dividend to 6¼ per cent., and the appropriation of the remainder of the net profit available to the credit of the reserve fund. There was every reason for confidence in the company's prospects. He moved that the report and statement of accounts be adopted.

Mr. Davies seconded, and the motion was carried.

A resolution declaring a dividend of 6¼ per cent. per annum, less income tax, on the Consolidated stock of the company was passed, and the proceedings ended.

MINING REPORT.

Bingo Gold Mines.—The managing director reports by cable as follows:—"Superintendent reports approximately 600 feet of drifting completed on each of the four levels. This completes development work as planned to date, and stoping operations now in progress. 113,715 tons of proved ore in sight, including 11,317 ore already broken and hoisted to the surface dump in course of development. Ore on dump, estimated value 292,900 dollars. Above estimates do not include probable ore as indicated by crosscuts."

Selukwe Gold Mining Company.—B.C. Silver Mines—Progress Report for August, 1924:—"During August, work was confined to drift 231 of No. two level, and to further exploring the ore body on No. three level. Drift 231—This was advanced 236 feet, thus making the faces 1,653 feet from the Premier boundary, so that with the four diamond drill pockets which were put in, a total of 304 feet drifting was done on this level during the month. The country passed through was porphyry containing numerous quartz stringers and irregular masses of quartz up to three or four feet in width. It is a likely looking country and quite the most favourable we have passed through in the No. two tunnel. Ore body No. three level—Raise 351 was continued a further 17 feet, thus making it 91 feet above No. three level. The values were about $5 a ton. At 100 feet above No. three level it is intended to crosscut the ore body, and drive another intermediate level. At a point close to station 312, winze 351 was sunk 15 feet. The average value of the ore extracted was $25 a ton. As a continuance of this work would necessitate installing a hoist and a pump, it is not proposed to sink further at present. Ore shipment—The 1,438 sacks of ore shipped to anyox smelter, and referred to in the report for July, ran as follows:—Dry weight 51.78 tons (of 2,000 lbs.); value per ton $10.25. Diamond drilling—A commencement has now been made on the further diamond drilling of the ore, one from the 231 drift of No. 2 level."

LIGHT FOR NOTHING.

CHAIRMAN OF ELECTRICITY COMMITTEE FINED.

Engineer Lieutenant-Commander David Ritson (retired) was summoned at Chatham (Kent) for abstracting and consuming electricity to the value of £16 14s. 6d. He is a member of the Gillingham Town Council and chairman of the Electric Light Committee.

The allegation was that the wiring of his house had been so installed that only the electricity used in the upper rooms of the house passed through the meter.

Mr. Ritson denied that he had ever tampered with the wiring.

Mr. David Wilson Ritson, a son, who had come home from South Africa to attend the court, said that he fitted the wiring in the house, and had since made alterations which possibly diverted the current.

The Bench fined Mr. Ritson £50.

MORE BRITISH LIONS.

The births of a litter of lion cubs and a number of dingos have increased the animals in the private menagerie at Cobtree Manor of Mr. G. Tyrwhitt-Drake, the Mayor of Maidstone, during the past few days.

The lion cubs—four in number—are the second generation born at Cobtree, the mother herself having been born there six years ago. Of four lion cubs born in December last three are still hale and hearty. The other died. The dingos, six of whom have been born, are Australian wild dogs.
